INFORMATION TO USERS

This manuscript has been reproduced from the microfilm master. UMI films the text directly from the original or copy submitted. Thus, some thesis and dissertation copies are in typewriter face, while others may be from any type of computer printer.

The quality of this reproduction is dependent upon the quality of the copy submitted. Broken or indistinct print, colored or poor quality illustrations and photographs, print bleedthrough, substandard margins, and improper alignment can adversely affect reproduction.

In the unlikely event that the author did not send UMI a complete manuscript and there are missing pages, these will be noted. Also, if unauthorized copyright material had to be removed, a note will indicate the deletion.

Oversize materials (e.g., maps, drawings, charts) are reproduced by sectioning the original, beginning at the upper left-hand corner and continuing from left to right in equal sections with small overlaps.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I would like to take this opportunity to acknowledge some of the people who have assisted and aided me with the completion of this thesis.

First, I would like to thank my family for their continual support and encouragement. Without them, I would not have continued and finished with the program and this thesis.

Second, I would like to acknowledge the assistance and guidance of Mattie Lewis of the Graduate Studies and Research office.

From the School of Music and Dance, I would like to thank the support of Professor Allen Strange and Dr. Brian Belet. Their ongoing steering and encouragement, even over great distances, led to the completion of this thesis.

Lastly, a special thanks is owed to Dr. Pablo E. Furman. He has provided me with not only a solid foundation in music composition, but in creativity, inspiration, hard work and dedication. I am eternally grateful for the guidance you have given me, not only in this thesis, but in the many years I studied with you. I could not have asked for a better guide and mentor.

INTRODUCTION

This original music composition, Twelve Voices, consists of three movements, written for a brass ensemble of four horns in F, three trumpets in Bb, three trombones, and two tubas. The duration of this composition is approximately fifteen minutes.

The first movement is approximately five minutes in duration and is written in an abridged sonata form. A brief introduction presents the basic melodic and harmonic material. Following, at a moderately slow tempo, begins the exposition section with the statement of the first theme by the first horn, answered by a countermelody in the trombones. This first theme is composed primarily of major and minor thirds with their appropriate permutations. After several statements of the first theme by various instruments in the ensemble, a transition occurs in the horn section, leading to the second theme, again presented in the first horn. This second theme is comprised of mostly thirds, but is more angular than the first theme. After statements of the second theme by the trumpets and trombones, a very brief development section occurs, ending with a restatement of the first theme by the first trumpet in a faster tempo. The recapitulation section ends the first movement with a climatic presentation of the trombone countermelody, a reworking of the first theme in the horns, and accents from the trumpets.

The second movement is approximately five minutes in duration and is written in ABA form. In the introduction to this second movement, two new ideas are presented. The first, occurring in the trumpets, is an accented textural idea developed out of a diminished seventh chord, with the second, occurring in the horns, being a different textural idea of a chord exploding out of a unison. The A section material is a reworking of the trombone countermelody from the first movement. After many statements and mutations of the A section material, the B section is presented in a much slower tempo. The thematic material for the B section is a reworking of the second theme from the first movement, presented in the trombones. Over this are trumpet passages that ornament the trombone material. A bridge follows in a faster tempo, utilizing the accented textural trumpet idea from the beginning of the movement. This leads to a short, sparse in texture, passage in the horns using the A section material. A full return to the A section, now more fully realized, then occurs. The climax of the movement occurs with an expanded section using material from the horn textural idea presented in the introduction of the movement, with the ending being a reworking of the introduction to the movement.

The third movement is approximately five minutes in duration and is in ABA form. The A section of this movement reinterprets and expands upon the introduction to the first movement. A short bridge presents a new chordal idea, which leads to the B section in a much faster tempo. The B section material comprises a reworking of the first theme from the first movement with ostinato passages underneath. The trumpet textural idea from the second movement is brought back into this section. The climax to the whole composition occurs at the end of the B section, with statements of the first theme from the first movement, the trumpet textual idea, ostinatos, and scalar passages. A return to the A section, in a slower tempo, with the inclusion of the chordal idea from the bridge section, concludes the movement and the composition.

The musical score is arranged in 12 staves, grouped by instrument type. The first four staves are for Flutes (Flu 1-4), the next three for Trumpets (Tpt 1-3), the next three for Trombones (Tbn 1-3), and the final two for Tubas (Tu 1-2). The notation includes various musical symbols such as notes, rests, slurs, and dynamic markings. The key signature has one flat (B-flat), and the time signature is 4/4. The score is divided into measures by vertical bar lines. Dynamics include f (fortissimo), p (piano), mf (mezzo-forte), mp (mezzo-piano), and pp (pianissimo). Articulation marks like accents and slurs are used throughout the piece.

This musical score is for a 12-part ensemble, consisting of four flutes, three piccolos, three trumpets, and two tubas. The score is written in 4/4 time and features a variety of dynamic markings and articulations.

Flute 1: The first staff shows a melodic line starting with a p (piano) dynamic, followed by a triplet of eighth notes marked mp (mezzo-piano), and then a triplet of eighth notes marked mf (mezzo-forte).

Flute 2: The second staff is mostly silent, with a few notes in the first measure.

Flute 3: The third staff is mostly silent, with a few notes in the first measure.

Flute 4: The fourth staff is mostly silent, with a few notes in the first measure.

Piccolo 1: The fifth staff shows a melodic line starting with a p dynamic, followed by a triplet of eighth notes marked mp, and then a triplet of eighth notes marked pp (pianissimo).

Piccolo 2: The sixth staff is mostly silent, with a few notes in the first measure.

Piccolo 3: The seventh staff is mostly silent, with a few notes in the first measure.

Trumpet 1: The eighth staff shows a melodic line starting with a p dynamic, followed by a triplet of eighth notes marked mp, and then a triplet of eighth notes marked pp.

Trumpet 2: The ninth staff is mostly silent, with a few notes in the first measure.

Trumpet 3: The tenth staff is mostly silent, with a few notes in the first measure.

Trumpet 1: The eleventh staff shows a melodic line starting with a p dynamic, followed by a triplet of eighth notes marked mp, and then a triplet of eighth notes marked pp.

Trumpet 2: The twelfth staff is mostly silent, with a few notes in the first measure.

Trumpet 3: The thirteenth staff is mostly silent, with a few notes in the first measure.

Tuba 1: The fourteenth staff shows a melodic line starting with a p dynamic, followed by a triplet of eighth notes marked mp, and then a triplet of eighth notes marked pp.

Tuba 2: The fifteenth staff is mostly silent, with a few notes in the first measure.

This musical score page, numbered 5, features twelve staves for various instruments. The first four staves are for Flutes 1, 2, 3, and 4, all in treble clef. The next three staves are for Trumpets 1, 2, and 3, also in treble clef. The following three staves are for Trombones 1, 2, and 3, in bass clef. The final two staves are for Tuba 1 and Tuba 2, in bass clef. The music is written in 4/4 time. The flute parts play a rhythmic melody with accents and slurs, often marked with a forte (f) dynamic. The trumpet and trombone parts provide harmonic support with various dynamics including piano (p), mezzo-forte (mf), mezzo-piano (mp), and fortissimo (ff). The tuba parts play a steady, low-frequency accompaniment. The score includes numerous musical notations such as notes, rests, slurs, and dynamic markings.

The first system includes Flute 1, Flute 2, Flute 3, Flute 4, Trumpet 1, and Trumpet 2. The second system includes Trumpet 3, Trombone 1, Trombone 2, Trombone 3, Tuba 1, and Tuba 2. The score is written in 4/4 time with a key signature of one flat (B-flat). The first system of staves (Flutes and Trumpets 1-2) contains a melodic line starting with a forte (f) dynamic, followed by a series of rests. The second system of staves (Trumpet 3, Trombones, and Tubas) contains a rhythmic pattern of eighth and sixteenth notes, often beamed together in groups of three or four, with a piano (p) dynamic. The score includes various musical notations such as notes, rests, beams, and dynamic markings (f, p, mp, pp). The page number 36 is located at the top left.

The musical score is written for 12 instruments, arranged in two systems of six staves each. The first system includes Flute 1 through Flute 4, and the second system includes Trumpet 1 through Tuba 2. The notation is in 4/4 time, with a key signature of one flat (B-flat). The score features a variety of musical elements, including melodic lines, harmonic support, and dynamic markings such as sf (sforzando), p (piano), and pp (pianissimo). The Flute parts are characterized by long, sustained notes and melodic runs. The Trumpet and Trombone parts provide harmonic support with sustained notes and occasional melodic fragments. The Tuba parts are primarily sustained notes, providing a low-frequency foundation. The score is marked with a rehearsal cue '120' at the beginning of the first staff.

This page of a musical score is for a symphony, featuring staves for Horns 1-4, Trumpets 1-3, Trombones 1-3, and Tubas 1-2. The score includes various musical notations such as notes, rests, and dynamic markings like 'mp' and 'mf'. The staves are arranged in a standard orchestral layout, with the Horns at the top, followed by Trumpets, Trombones, and Tubas at the bottom. The music is written in a key signature of one flat (B-flat) and a 3/4 time signature. The score is for measures 1 through 10, with each measure containing a full orchestral texture. The Horns play a melodic line, while the Trumpets and Trombones provide harmonic support. The Tubas play a low, sustained line. The dynamics are marked 'mp' (mezzo-piano) and 'mf' (mezzo-forte).

This musical score page, numbered 48, contains staves for various instruments. The woodwind section includes four flutes (Hn 1-4), three oboes (Tpt 1-3), and three bassoons (Trb 1-3). The brass section includes two tubas (Tu 1-2). The string section is represented by a grand staff at the bottom. The score features complex rhythmic patterns, including triplets and sixteenth-note runs, with dynamic markings such as p (piano), mp (mezzo-piano), and f (forte). A rehearsal mark '2nd' is present at the beginning of the flute parts. The notation includes various musical symbols like beams, slurs, and articulation marks.
