Spirited rivalry of San Jose State college and the College of Pacific will go on as usual this year despite the war, under the direction of Rally Chairman Hugh Manley. The pre-game rally will

There will be a rally committee meeting today noon in the Student Union. Bylaws will be drawn up at that time.

be held Friday night in the Morris Dailey, at 7:30 o'clock, and continuing until 9.

The Gold and White Spartan marching band will play, and coaches "Tiny" Hartranft, "Dee" Portal and "Bud" Winter will discuss the game. The coaches, in turn, will introduce the 50-player squad to the student body. From the Tiger campus will come an officer of the student body and a new well leader. They too will comment on the game.

For the past 10 years the game with the COPers has been considered the big game of the year. Both Spartans and Tigers have had large bonfire rallies and special trains have transported students to the game. There will be neither this year because of war laws set down by the 9th Corps Area.

Appearing at the Pacific rally suit, will be Tom Taylor and an unnamed yell leader.

Dr. Carl Duncan Resumes Classes

After a six weeks' stay at home with an eye injury, Dr. Carl D. Duncan of the Science department returned to school yesterday.

Six weeks ago today Dr. Duncan's right eye was scratched by the petiole of a rose leaf while he was trimming bushes. The epithelium of the eye came off, and, though it should have grown back sooner, growth started less than a week ago. An ultra-violet treatment which he underwent last week apparently started the delayed action.

Dr. Duncan will lecture this week and will conduct full-time classes next week.

"The school, the students, and the faculty here are a sight for sore eyes," says Dr. Duncan, facetiously.

Slight Decrease in Students Shown

Figures released by the Department of Education at Sacramento indicate a 5.5 per cent decrease in the number of four-year students at San Jose State college.

This percentage, not including students enrolled in the Junior college division, is the lowest for the seven California state colleges.

Chico received the greatest reduction in registration with a 34.39 per cent loss. San Francisco netted a 33.31 decrease; Santa Barbara, 30.46; Fresno, 28.80; and San Diego 19.77.

148 students, regularly enrolled there, failed to register in the State college division this year. San Francisco lost 651; Fresno, 548; Santa Barbara, 504; San Diego, 338; Chico, 237, and Humboldt 151.

Gamma Phi Sigma Initiates Seven

Seven men were formally initiated into the Gamma Phi fraternity last night in the Ste. Claire hotel following a dinner given them by the members. Informal initiation was held the latter part of last week.

Those who were initiated are Don Rainer, Harry Macia, Weber Lund, Bill White, Bruce Duke, Brian Bradford and John Hill.

WAR CHEST

DRIVE FOR FUNDS $1500 SHORT OF GOAL; CAMPAIGN DEADLINE IS NOW EXTENDED TO FRIDAY

By BOYD HAIGHT

"Unless students wake up and realize the importance of the War Chest drive, we are going to fail, and fail miserably, trying to reach our contribution goal of $2500."

In these words Don DeVoss, chairman, has said that San Jose State students have not contributed enough, not even half enough, to the War Chest drive.

Because of the disappointing response of the number of students participating so far, two days have been added to the drive and DeVoss is hoping that the goal of $2500 will be reached by Friday afternoon.

Yesterday a flurry of contributions following the class assemblies raised the total to date to $852. This is still more than $1500 short of the $2500 goal.

Students who have not yet made their contribution are urged to do so as soon as possible. Contribution envelopes are available at the desk in front of the Morris Dailey auditorium where all War Chest donations are received.

DEVOSS CALLS MEET

DeVoss called a meeting yesterday of all on-campus organization heads—presidents or sororities, fraternities, and clubs. These leaders agreed to a plan set forth by DeVoss whereby they sponsor extensive campaigns within their organization for individual contributions. They agreed to take the emphasis off contributions by groups as a whole.

Although the ratio of women to men enrolled in school is seven to five, women have outgiven men three to two. Less than 500 students had contributed to the War Chest before yesterday. This means that less than 20 per cent of the student body had co-operated in this effort to aid the war effort.

Money received by the War Chest will go to aid civilians and servicemen in all occupied countries. Money will aid our own servicemen here in the United States through the USO. This money will buy supplies and comfort for United States prisoners in enemy countries. Americans at home are better off than ever before while their soldiers fight and suffer on foreign fronts. A little contribution.

Council Meeting Scheduled Tonight

The War Chest will be the main topic under discussion when the Student Council meets in the Student Union at 7:30 tonight. Also on tap are the dead-line for the sale of student body cards and a discussion of the defense council.

The contributions to the War Chest are far short of its goal and, according to President Tom Taylor, something will have to be worked out to meet the goal.

Taylor also wishes to emphasize that the meetings are open to the student body. Any student body member can take part in the discussions, but the council has the only vote.

Students!!!

"It's amazing!—and disgusting—Out of a population of 2600 students a mere $852 is turned in towards a worthy cause—the War Chest. A sincere thanks to those who contributed over $1.00 per student. But the rest of you—sit down for five minutes and think—think just what the War Chest is and means. No, I'm not going to orate, I'm saying in simple, blunt terms to those of you 'who haven't got around to it yet,' GIVE! GIVE! 'til it hurts. Remember it's your responsibility."

TOM TAYLOR, Pres. ASSC.

Hell Week At Spartan Hall

Hell Week for new members of Spartan Hall began yesterday and will continue until Friday night. A round of parties and stunts has been planned for the week.

New members taking the "consequences" this week are Bob Boyer, Oakland; Bob Batey, Elk Grove; Frank Bates, Selma; John Blair, Sacramento; Murl Chamberlain, Quincy; Earl Freels, Mountain View; Jack Howard, Courtland; Gene Foley, Palo Alto; Mal Kaiser, Oroville; Ray Peri, Salinas; Dale Oman, Selma; Ken Pre-minger, Palo Alto; Dick Whitlock, Ventura, and Wayne Sprague of Mountain View.

Officers elected for the quarter are Scot Nelson, Selma, who replaces Roy Sorenson also of Selma as house manager. Jim Thorne, Placerville, takes over the duties of president from Ollie Bauquier of Auburn. Vice-president is Leon Fletcher, Daly City, which position was formerly held by Nelson. As yet no new secretary has been named to replace Chris Jensen of Selma.

Cash Believed Abundant At SJS

"Cash isn't in demand these days," says Marie Hayes, Student Book Exchange head.

The exchange is holding over $200 for the sale of books. Students have been negligent during the whole quarter about calling for their money and their unsold books.

Miss Hayes announces today as the last day that the exchange will be open, and she urges all students to call for their money and books.

Ordinarily, students are "Johnny on the spot" to collect their cash, she said.

YEAR BOOK

La Torre Sales Campaign To Open Says Jerry Becker

The La Torre business staff will open an extensive on-campus sales campaign next week with a goal of selling a La Torre to at least two out of every three students, according to Jerry Becker, business manager.

"Last year 1400 copies of the annual were sold, but due to higher printing and engraving costs it will be necessary to sell at least 1500 copies of the 1943 yearbook.

This means that two out of every three students will have to purchase a La Torre so that we can reach our goal. Reaching our goal will mean a bigger and better annual for students. So far only 400 advance subscriptions to the yearbook have been sold, which means that only one person out of seven has purchased the 1943 annual for himself," states Becker.

Next week's campaign will be carried on by La Torre salesmen covering the campus and selling advance subscriptions for the special price of $3.00. Becker asks that anyone willing to take part in this sales campaign contact him in the Publications office during the regular business hours of 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

"Absolutely no books can be sold after this fall quarter as the order to the engraving company must be in by that time. No changes will be made in this deadline," says Becker.

FRESHMAN CLASS

Class Of '46 Meets Today At 4:30; Freshmen "Shown Ropes" Monday

All members of the freshman class are urged to come to a meeting today to help select the members of their council. The meeting will be held at 4:30 p.m. in room 24.

At the class of '46 meeting yesterday, the new SJS collegers were led in yells and two school songs by Yell Leader Ed Kincaid. Evelyn Savore delivered a speech asking all freshmen to contribute all they could to the War Chest. Dean Paul Pitman, chairman of the meeting, also stressed the point of the War Chest, calling to mind the many State college boys who are now with the armed forces on foreign soil.

ATTEND COUNCIL MEETINGS

Izzy Gold, Student Council member, urged all freshmen to turn out for all the activities they could manage without injuring their grades. He invited everyone to attend the Student Council meetings, and to come up and talk to any of the upperclassmen in order to get better acquainted.

Dean of Women Miss Helen Dimmick asked the freshmen to come into her office to discuss any problems that might arise.

Dean Pitman gave a "hints for newcomers" talk that was based mainly on what he would do if he were a freshman all over again. He said he would do more recreational activities, study harder

CLASS ELECTION

ASB Card Holders Urged To Vote For Officer Candidates

Tomorrow the Spartan student body will troop to the polls to choose its respective class officers.

Nominations for senior, junior and sophomore class officers were made in the class meetings Monday morning. The freshmen will hold their elections later.

The meetings, marked by poor attendance, were presided over by members of the Student Council. Dean of Men Paul M. Pitman and Izzy Gold took charge of the freshman class; Betty Hood and Don DeVoss, the second year students; Mary Virginia Bristow and Denny Morrissey, the juniors; and ASB President Tom Taylor and Bob Jennings, the senior class.

POOR ATTENDANCE

Taylor expressed both surprise and disappointment at the poor attendance of the meetings. "After all," said Taylor, "there are only two, or at the most three, class meetings a quarter. It is up to each student, individually, to make his class activities a success."

Election Judge Marvin Zemanek announced that the elections will be held between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. on Wednesday. Only ASB cardholders will be allowed to vote at the three polls in front of the Morris Dailey auditorium. The nominees will be running on a preferential ballot. The candidates receiving the most votes will be elected. There will be no run-offs.

CONSTITUTIONALITY VAGUE

Some doubt has arisen regarding the constitutionality of the election date. A clause in the constitution states that the elections must be held on the same day as the meetings, but, according to President Taylor, it was "a physical impossibility" to hold the elections before Wednesday.

Those nominated for class offices were:

JUST AMONG OURSELVES

By T. W. MacQUARRIE
President San Jose State College

If you will just read this prayerfully—and then hand it to someone who is not a member of the student body, you may do that person a great service—and you may save some more of those starving babies in China.

About half of the students have already contributed to the War Chest; just about the number who heard Walter Bachrodt's speech last Wednesday. If we could only get to the others somehow and give them a chance to contribute, we'd surely make our $2500.

No use sneaking around the world ashamed of yourself when just a dollar or two will make you feel good. I understand a dollar will take care of a Chinese baby for a week—feed him up and make him fat and happy. And a dollar, as you know, is just a bit of dirty paper in our pockets.

Of course, we're a cross section of humanity, and some of us are crosser than others. Some of us give too much perhaps, and some not enough. It's a shame for one to let his soul wither just because he has his foot on a nickel.

I'd like to tell you what some of the faculty members have done. Some of them, you know, believe the principles they teach, but they'd be embarrassed to death. I've gotten into trouble already through talking too much. Some of our faculty contributions have been wonderful.

If you're a maiden, take your dollar to Dean Dimmick's little den.

If you're not, just try to hand it to our handsome Dean of Men.

(I'll be far away when you read this—but isn't it worth a dollar?)

Year Of Math Necessary For V-7 Navy Announces

"The year of mathematics prescribed by the Navy as a must for all men enlisted in the V-7 class of the United States Naval Reserve may include, but does not require, trigonometry," announced Dr. James DeVoss in yesterday's senior class meeting.

Many of the men enlisted in the V-7 class have been under the misconception that the requirement was a year of college mathematics, plus a course in trigonometry," continued Dr. DeVoss.

"However, it is a good plan to take trigonometry, letting it count in partial fulfillment of the Navy requirement," concluded Dr. DeVoss.

Navigation is based on trigonometry, and navigation is required

KNICK'S KNACKS

By LOREN NICHOLSON

FRATERNITIES AND SORORITIES: Latest from Don DeVoss, War Chest chairman, shows a $25 campaign coming up for campus organizations. That means that every patriotic fraternity and sorority on-campus will have to dig deep into their treasury. This is completely outside all individual donations. War Chest committee members realize, and all of us realize, that is asking a lot. This would be considered "going too far" if it were not being done for AMERICA and if it were not being done to save the lives and bring comfort to AMERICAN prisoners, and if it were not being done to help our allies who are helping us to preserve America. You bet it's a sacrifice. Don't let 'em down. Let's not talk about giving until it hurts—Let's Do It!

SPEAKING OF PATRIOTISM: Met a girl in the cannery the other night. She is working nights in the cannery because she feels it is her patriotic duty. She is taking a welding course at San Jose State college during the day preparing for further defense work, and she is taking the money she earns at the cannery and buying United States war bonds. What a nation this would be if all of us would make a sacrifice like that.

CONGRATULATIONS will soon be in order for new class officers. Classes are showing more spirit this quarter than they have in a long time. It's good to see that great national issues are not lessening the importance of carrying on with our own every-day problems. We may go away to fight, but when we return we want to come back to the things we left behind. It would be tragic to lose that for which so many are giving their lives.

IN THE OLD LIBRARY: Sat down to write a composition. "The biological theory as compared to the—Beta Dance was really okay—wonder who'll win class prexy—wonder why I can't think—" Ye Gods, it's noisy! That's the truth. The old library is becoming a regular social center.

CSTA: A meeting will be held Thursday evening in the Student Union at 7:00 p.m. Purpose: Election of officers and program arrangement for the quarter.

Members of last year's Chapel committee meet today at 12:30 in Dean Pitman's office. Anyone interested in being on the committee this year is urged to attend also.

of every midshipman in the reserves. Therefore it is advisable for them all to have a good working knowledge of the subject.

No Electioneering...

There is always the professional politician who thinks he can gain votes by lobbying at the polls. This is a reminder that must come up nearly every quarter to assure all candidates a square deal in the class elections.

Class politics can be good, clean fun for all involved if the fair thing is done by all concerned. A good man is always elected, and it is not necessary for his representatives to hang around the polls and boost him. When we do find some one "hanging around," we can't help being suspicious.

Candidates are usually "good guys." They want to be fair, and they don't want what they can't gain by their own merit. Sometimes boosters are over anxious. Let's do it right and keep a good record.

Elections are going to be exciting this time. Its going to be a close race in most of the classes. Your vote is necessary, and it is your responsibility. In this case, your responsibility is your opportunity. Don't be gypped. Vote! —Nicholson.

FOX POP

By KENNY FOX

We went to the game Saturday—me, the freshmen and 47 substitutes.

And, frankly, I'm not too happy about swing-shift football. I have no figures but it looked to me that those defense workers for whom the kick-off was delayed until 3:30 p. m. were still defense-working at the final gun.

It was a game—as games go. But San Jose scored so many times I kept getting up to leave before I'd realize that it wasn't a continuous show.

Our team was so far ahead that when Occidental did score I nearly dropped my peanuts. I probably would have but they were frozen to my hand and I was frozen to the seat.

Cold? That's no word for it. The only people who were warm after the start of the second half were our reserves, who spent the entire afternoon running into and out of the game.

My appreciation of the game tended to lag, anyway, because I had trouble from the first. I tried to get in on my face and they threw me out on it.

Then some bootlegger peddled me a 1939 program and I couldn't find Leroy Zimmerman on the field. But I only paid six cents for the program.

I didn't see much of the first quarter—it wasn't until the middle of the second that someone told me I should sit on the upper bench.

Throughout the second half Ed Kincaid, the yell leader, kept asking the rooting section to remain and sing the hymn and I did—even though I was supposed to be home before midnight.

But I sang—it was a solo with Kincaid's accompaniment.

I left the stadium happy, any way. The few minutes of rain in the last quarter made it look as if my father's overcoat had originally been purchased for me.

erica" clubs were springing up with petitions against conscripting our boys for foreign service.

The draft debate in Congress was receiving as much first page space as the London bombings and pictures of Wendell Wilkie. We were very perturbed about the Lend-Lease, but we were paying more attention to watching the Cincinnati Reds beat the Detroit Tigers in the World Series.

Two years ago we were whistling "All the Things You Are"; now the songs of the day are "Any Bonds Today" and "This Is Worth Fighting For."

Who would have foretold in 1940 the trend of our civilization would be going down. Factories formerly devoted to making commodities to make life more comfortable are now turning out munitions and war machines.

There are many years ahead of us before we reach the heights of progress we took away from ourselves on December 7, 1941.

Reporter Describes Long Hour Spent In Physics Class

"What? You're in V-1, Yeah, so am I. That's why doomed to struggle along in physics course for the rest of year. No high school math? oh! You're in the Navy now. "Sh-sh-sh. Dr. Brauer is talking about Einstein's theory ofativity."

I look at my watch. Aw, It's only twenty after eleven. here's a piece of paper I doodle on till he's through. Einstein.

Dr. Brauer asks a question. "What is the velocity of a ton ship going 17 miles per hour? Huh! How high is up?"

Eleven-thirty. Gee, whiz! class would be a lot more interesting if there were a lot of girls here. I thought they said girls badly outnumbered the this year!

"Light travels at the rate 186,000 miles a second," says Brauer, "and the earth is 90,000 miles away from the sun, we can safely say that the will shine for a while yet before burns out."

What do I care? It's been hot lately anyway. Fourteen minutes to go. I've been here hours.

He's writing formulas on board now. What do all those ters mean? Oh, well, I'll copy down. At least I can look busy. Five minutes to go. Ah, they are looking up now. Got to getting my books together.

"Hey, Joe; wake up. Last time."

CAMPUS COMMENT

By DEAN THOMPSON

—Motion pictures of last Nature Study trips to Deathley and Fallen Leaf Lake were shown to the students who participated in the trips.

That little news item has a background to it. I did not the trips, but after talking a few of the students who did swore never to miss another.

It was next to impossible to a face that wasn't tanned and the caravan of students on Death Valley trip.

Those on the Fallen Leaf party that hiked over narrow to the aid of a Chinese fellow had slipped and tumbled head heels down a steep, rocky trail.

Nearly as many will continue remember the Berkeley "Honey-Chile," who mistook A. McCallum for a San Jose student. Of course, "Doc" was in a hurry to correct the error.

To my way of thinking could be no better way to education. —It will be interesting to note number of girls who attend WAACS lecture, given by Lt. E. McGinn Thursday morning. Many girls are probably curious to the duties, qualifications of the WAACS.

Questions from the audience probably be very interesting. —About the football game Saturday. Are we college students? Why do we have to resort to high-school tricks as fireworks for activity in our rooting section? If we can't make enough with our lungs, let's give up.

I wonder how the students public) liked the late start time? All the fellows and I've talked to did NOT enjoy late start. One of the reasons the cold breeze that kept every

OXY POSTMORTEM . . . Well, no one can say TINY HART-RANFT hasn't done everything but hold a screen game in trying to attract fans to the football games. Last Saturday he changed the time from 2 to 3:30. He also changed the admission price for defense workers to 50 cents, and what happens? (1) Fans stay away in big droves. (2) Those who came got caught in the rain, and, last but not least, we were a half hour late for work.

The townspeople were not the only ones who detoured the game Saturday. Only about one quarter of the student body showed up.

As the scores of Saturday's and Sunday's football games came ticking over the wires many were of the so-called upset variety. Two of the most surprising were the result of the Loyola - University of San Francisco game and that of the Fresno - San Diego State clash.

The Dons from the bay city ran up against a stone wall in the Lions from Los Angeles and were knocked down by a 7 to 2 margin. Although the Bulldogs' victory was not unexpected, the manner in which it was done is what was surprising. The Fresnoans ran over, around, and through the Aztecs in running up a 66 to 0 score.

Sparta's foe this Saturday, the College of Pacific Tigers, played a 0 to 0 tie against the Cal Ramblers. However, game statistics reveal that the Ramblers made 7 first downs, to the Tigers' 14. Most significant though is the fact that the Stagmen drove down to the Rambler ONE-YARD line on THREE separate occasions without being able to punch the pigskin across.

In looking up past records of the clashes between the College of Pacific and San Jose State, we discovered some mighty interesting facts. The Spartans have won 9 of the 17 games played and tied two.

The Tigers won six out of the seven first games, being tied 6 to 6 by the Spartans in 1929. And believe it or not, those six points were the only marks made by the San Joseans in those seven contests. COP made 207 points in the same games.

However, the worm turned in 1932 and the Spartans have won all contests since then with the exception of a scoreless tie in 1935. The scoring since then stands at 119 points for the Spartans against 29 for the Tigers.

Basketball Coach ERWIN BLESCH will know what kind of material he's going to have for his casaba five Thursday when he holds a meeting for all prospective candidates. The meeting will be held in room 24 at 12:30. Also invited to attend are prospective student managers.

BLESCH intends to hold a practice session three days a week starting next week. Among those expected to sign up are Roy Diederichsen, Bill Helbush, Wayne Staley, Elwood Clark, Marvin Zemanek, Angelo Colombo, Willie Gamboya, Bert Robinson, Harold Sonntag and Paul Borg. All ten are members of last year's squad. Porter McConnell, 6-foot 4-inch center from last year's freshmen five, will also sign up.

There will be a meeting of women P. E. majors in the Student Union Wednesday, October 11, between 6:30 and 7:30 p.m.

Spartan Soccer Team Wins First Game Of Season From Menlo J. C. 5 To 1 As Drive For NCI Title Opens

Successfully hurdling the first obstacle in the drive for their fourth straight NCI title, the Spartan soccermen knocked over a larger Menlo J. C. squad, 5 to 1, at Menlo Saturday.

Starting off in the first quarter, Dale Nelson, Spartan right wing, followed through on a free kick by Bud Racoosin to rack up the initial score of the season.

Scribe Tells About Trip To Menlo With Soccer Team

By DICK FRY

It all started out when you were assigned to cover soccer practice on the San Carlos turf. Never having seen a soccer game yourself, you naturally assumed that it would be a simple contest indulged in only by those who enjoy blood and bruises.

Right away you get on the good side of all the boys when you dream up a fine article calling them a big bunch of over-confident bums. (Seems as though a few of the boys didn't appreciate what you had to say about them and they pay a little visit to the Daily office—and with clubs.)

IN LIKE FLYNN

Knowing that you are already in, like the proverbial Flynn, it suddenly strikes home that you really should take the trip to Menlo Saturday with the boys and not take the chance of sitting at home and writing the story from telegraphic wire reports and having the boys drop in again for a little talk the following Monday—this time with brick-bats.

So bright and early Saturday morn you step out into the blinding beams of Old Sol dressed in your summer best—boots, Levi's (Portagee serge) and a trench coat handed down through the clan from the first world war—swim across Washington Square to the Men's gym to await the boat trip to Menlo.

SEE WHO'S TRAVELING

When the boys at the Gym see who is traveling with them on that memorable day, they shout for joy, pick you upon their shoulders and then bounce the body off the floor.

Finally everyone except Arnerich is there and Diederichsen says to shove off. We climb into the bus which Gold promptly dubs the Green Hornet—it's really yellow but Izzy is practicing for his appearance before the local draft board. A few minutes later Arnerich comes stumbling aboard and drops down beside Diederichsen—his psychology is that the last seat is always left by the coach so—he comes late.

Deciding that this trip shouldn't be any different to any other, you value your pants and stay up front with the nicer boys—and the coach.

CUSTOMARY SINGING

Amid the customary singing and whistling, the later at quail—S. Quentin variety—we cast off from the gutter and were on our way.

Since the men are oiling their shoes for the day's work, the most popular tune proves to be, "Praise the Lord and Pass the Nee's Foot Oil" and it goes the rounds with slight variations—too slight to mention.

Captain Hal Sonntag occupies himself with the morning sheet

Coming back a few minutes later the gold and white men hammered home another score on a pass from Cecil Mattos to Gemo Yakabovsky, inside right.

Yakabovsky scored again a few minutes later on a long kick from 40 yards out. At half-time the locals were on the front end of a 3 to 0 count.

Menlo scored their only goal of the game shortly after the opening of the second period on a short kick past goalie Sonntag. The Spartans, however, had not finished their scoring and came back with two more goals in the third and fourth quarters, the first by Nelson and the final counter by Yakabovsky.

Rugged play by first-year men under the steady influence of veterans Racoosin, Nelson, Yakabovsky, Sonntag and Gold pleased Coach Roy Diederichsen.

Manley, Borg, Porter, Johnson, and Phillips showed up well among the first-year men in the starting eleven.

Short on veterans with whom to base this year's team, the impressive work of the green members of the present squad cheered Diederichsen and gave him confidence on their future play.

Hugh Manley, playing his first game at fullback for the Spartans, pointed out that this was not only the first game of soccer he had ever played but that he had never seen a game before.

Although early in the season, Captain Hal Sonntag gave evidence that he is again out for all-conference honors at goalie with his fine defensive work.

and his press notices. Half way to Menlo he tears out certain articles and pitches the rest of the paper out of the window.

Soon, Yakabovsky starts a collection to buy oranges for the boys while Diederichsen is begging his men to watch the little "immigrant" who, he thinks, is putting something away on the side for Russian relief.

We reach Menlo and you get your first look at the cow pasture and decide that they will play two games here today. (No wonder the team is going to chip in and buy (Sonntag a pair of field glasses so that he can watch the action at the other end and keep his spirits up.)

WATCH RUGGED GUYS

Then you sit there and watch those rugged guys run all over a larger Menlo squad for an hour and a half—those same guys whom you called over-confident a few days before—and you begin to think, "Well, why in hell shouldn't they be over-confident? They knew they could win, why shouldn't they be confident?—and they had a right to be 'hot' when some hack who never once watched them work out says that they are all a bunch of over-confident bums."

As you watch those buys, tired but happy, come off the field and

OUT OF THE HUDDLE

By CHARLES COOK

BULLETIN:—Willie Wool was elected captain of the San Jose State football team last night at a meeting held by the members of the squad at the Varsity House.

Riding on the crest of three straight victories, the Golden Raiders tangle with their first important foe Saturday when the big and fast COP Tiger invades Spartan stadium for the annual grid titanic between the two colleges.

Primed to reverse a much disputed Spartan win last year, the Tigers will field a heftier team and one that is bolstered considerably by the addition of several Stockton junior college stars. In Leo Leggett, their ace halfback, the COP eleven has a better ball packer than any the Spartans have faced so far this season. Leggett has speed to burn coupled with terrific leg drive in straight ahead bucks that makes him a hard man to stop.

As a definite indication that he regards Saturday's opponent as a serious menace to Sparta's unbroken string of victories, Coach Hart-ranft has scheduled a series of stiff workouts this week designed primarily to get his gridders in the peak of condition. He expects a tough, hard fought battle and intends to have his entire squad in tip-top shape.

Paced as usual by the "touchdown twins," Foote and Parton, the Spartans uncovered some unknown material Saturday that will bear watching in future contests.

In the line, starting in place of the injured Woody Gibson at left end, Herman Knupper played a fine game of defensive ball. Time and again he broke up Oxy thrusts by piling up the interference and causing the ball packers no end of trouble. Big Bob Cheim, until removed by an injury, displayed a brand of ball at guard that marks him as a comer, too.

Danny Conforti, admittedly one of the better passers on the squad, finally came into his own with a display of sheer power in packing the ball that hasn't been seen around these parts since Chet Carsten bulled his way through enemy lines. No fancy stepper, Danny looks like a good bet to throw at those USF behemoths two weeks hence.

Two other backs entered the limelight this weekend. Behind the touchdown scored by quarterback Bill Perry is an interesting story. For five weeks the signal callers have been drilled on calling "sequence plays;" that is, a series of plays that lead up to one that looks like rest, but isn't. The pay-off came against Oxy when Perry set the ideal situation up, as per instructions, and then fooled the entire Oxy team as well as half the stands by carrying the ball himself for an easy six points.

To fullback Bert Robinson all we can offer is condolences. Robinson gives the ball to Foote; Foote scores. He gives the ball to Parton; ditto. He passes to Gibson or Crisler and they scamper for six. But as yet no big six goes up on the score board after Bert's name. Oh well, there are six more games left, Robinson.

A hearty boo is voted to the sorority that so thoughtlessly scheduled its rush party for Saturday afternoon. Come on gals, let's give the gridders a little backing. They'll need plenty of moral support in those tough games coming up.

Stone Award To Be Continued

Fighting with General MacArthur's men in Australia has caused First Lieut. Charles A. Stone, former student, to forgo his days at San Jose State college. Stone, donor of the trophy awarded to the winner of the college boxing tournament last year, has informed Boxing Coach DeWitt Portal of his wish to continue the award. A letter written by Lieut. Stone's wife said: "It is his wish that the trophy which he offered last year in boxing be continued this year and, I believe each year that he is to be away."

Boxing Coach Portal enthusiastically accepted the offer in a letter of acknowledgment yesterday. Lieut. Stone, former member of the boxing team, is a flying navigator with MacArthur. It was rumored but not verified that he was one of the men who participated in the bombing raid over Tokyo with General James Doolittle.
