SENIOR AFFAIR FEATURES ENTERTAINMENT, DANCE CONTEST, RECORD MUSIC

Open to all students and their guests, the senior Valentine ball will go into full swing tomorrow night at 9 o'clock in the Women's gym. Bid sales for the affair have exceeded the expectations of committee heads and the forecast for attendance is bright.

The dressy-sport affair for couples only will feature rhumba re-

Plans have been completed for the dancing contest which will be restricted to waltzing and jitterbugging. Admission to the dance will be all that is required for entrance in the contest.

Patrons and patronesses for the affair will be Dr. Alexander MacCallum, Dr. Robert Rhodes, Miss Helen Dimmick, and Mrs. Izetta Pritchard.

Though the entertainment continues to remain secretive, Emma Ann Wishart promises a program that all attending will enjoy.

Mary McCluen is chairman of the affair and is being assisted by Laura Lee Zwissig and Frances Wulff.

Committee heads are Rae Klason, publicity; Grace Villaseñor, bids and finance; Audrey Levick, decorations; and Vivian Dehay, posters.

Marilynn Wilson, senior class president, asks that all seniors interested should appear at the Women's gym today at 3:30 to help with decorating. Miss Wilson asks that as many men as possible show up for the lifting will be too heavy for women students.

Records during the evening. Bids are still on sale for 75 cents and may be purchased at the door tomorrow night.

COMEDY ACTS, SONGS WILL BE FEATURED AT SFS GAME RALLY TONIGHT

Spartan rooters will gather in the Morris Dailey auditorium tonight at 7 o'clock for the big rally to raise spirit for the San Francisco State basketball game at 8 o'clock in the Men's gym. Highlighting the entertainment for the evening will be Ken McGill and Barbara Retchless in a specialty comedy song and dance routine, "Daisy," which, according to Rally Chairman Patty Moore, should really "wow 'em."

SPARTAN SWING SONG
The Jivin' Janes, Gloria Ellard, Marijane Call, and Betty Lauthan, will introduce the newly-written Spartan swing song. Sue Lang, dressed in a Russian costume of short dirndle skirt and high boots, will sing "Dark Eyes" both in English and Russian.

The popular song, "I'm Beginning To See The Light" will be sung by jivin' Betty Lauthan. Each of the specialties will be introduced as a vaudeville act by Iris Landry, "Campus Cutie," dressed in appropriate costume.

FORMER YELL LEADER
Tommy Taylor, former Spartan yell leader, will be master of ceremonies for the evening, and the Vet's German band will play college songs. After the rally the German band will lead the crowd in a serpentine march to the game.

There will be an organized rooting section at the game in the middle section of the west side of the Men's gym. All those who wish to sit in this section must wear white shirts or sweaters, according to Miss Moore.

Yell leaders Ken McGill, Virginia Sherwood, and Dolores Dolph will lead songs and yells for the rally and the game. Ushers for the game will be Bob Barton, Bill Shaw, Phyllis McDonald, and Irene Hull.

Typist Demonstrates For State Students

A capacity audience filled Morris Dailey auditorium yesterday at 10 o'clock to witness the typing demonstration given by Margaret Hamma, world champion typist.

Miss Hamma is the first woman in 25 years to hold the world typing championship. Her usual speed is 149 net words per minute.

Student Court Justices, Frosh Representatives, Officers Elected Monday

Election of class officers, junior Student Court justices, and freshman representatives will be held Monday between 9 and 4 o'clock.

David Webster, Carmendale Fernandes, Helen Stevenson, Raymond Lua, and Marge Kluge are candidates for the two Student Court position. Catherine Gorham, Barbara Retchless, and Emerson Arends will run for the freshman representative posts.

Sophomore class nominees include George Milas, Bob Barton, Phyllis McDonald, and Dadie McNeill for president; Nancy Lynn, Joanne O'Brien, and Ed Marion for vice president; Helen Jones, Donalddean McNeill, and Carol Lantz for secretary; and Bobbie Jo Fields, Bill Gray, and Betty Davis for treasurer.

Inter-Society Sews For Red Cross Quota

Under the direction of President, Rae Klason, members of Inter-Society are engaged in a new effort to meet their Red Cross pajama quota.

The quota has been set at 40 pairs of pajamas. Members attempting to meet it are Joan Kennedy, Allenian; Phyllis Edwards, Sappho; Betty Doyle, Ero Sophian; Nancy Page, Beta Gamma Chi; Jeanne Arrants, Phi Kappa Pi; Claire Emigh, Kappa Kappa Sigma; and Ruth McCue, Delta Beta Sigma.

Art Grades Wanted

Dr. Marques E. Reitzel, head of the Art department, urges all art majors to turn in their photostatic copies of grades as soon as possible. The quarter is half over and the grades must be checked.

Marilyn Huffhines, Elise Hunt, Onalae Jensen, Patricia King, June Kopplin, Elsie Lindemann, Lois Mendenhall, Evangeline Pinoris, Pat Rhodes, Roberta Rowe, Bette Scott, Frances Stevens, Dora Jean Thaden, Beatrice Thomas, Millicent Tillman, Jane Turner, Barbara Warfield.

Vote by preferential ballot! Place a number beside EVERY name. Incorrectly-marked ballots are invalid.

Juniors vying for class offices are: Marianne Hayes, Ernestine DeFord, and Bill Gliesberg for president; Madge Jennings, Dorothy Herger, and Ruth Peaslee, vice president; Betty Regan and June Storni, secretary.

Freshman and senior nominations took place at yesterday's orientation meetings, with the upperclassmen selecting Jeanne Fischer and Bob Coombs as presidential candidates. Anne Buxton, Tilde Edwards, Barbara Lee Rico, and Grace Villaseñor will run for senior vice president.

MABEL NEWCOMER, ECONOMICS PROF., WILL SPEAK ON WORLD MARKETS

Dr. Mabel Newcomer will be the principal speaker at the World Brotherhood Week assembly from 11 to 12 on Monday in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

Dr. Newcomer is chairman of the Department of Economics at Vassar college and is an expert on the subject of taxation. Her subject will be "Will the Struggle for World Markets Prevent World Peace?"

The assembly is part of the national observance of Brotherhood Week—February 12 to 19. It will be sponsored by the ASB Chapel committee.

Dr. William Poytress, Social Science department head, will introduce the speaker. The college band will play before and after the address. It is not yet known who will ask the benediction.

President T. W. MacQuarrie announces that 11 o'clock classes will be dismissed so that all students may attend the assembly.

Dr. Newcomer is the author of "Taxation and Fiscal Policy" (1941), and of numerous studies of local and national finances. She was a delegate to the United Nations Monetary Conference at Bretton Woods last summer.

This trip to the west coast is in the interest of the Seven College Conference, of which Vassar is a member.

Dr. Sisson's Science Lecture To Be Given Here Monday At 3

"From Protozoan to Subman" is the title of the first lecture in a series of four to be given here Monday at 3 o'clock in room 116 by Dr. Edward O. Sisson, former professor of psychology and philosophy at Reed college, Oregon.

The remaining lectures will be held on February 14 and 19 and will cover "The Erect Posture—Hand and Brain," "The Emergence of the Mind," and "The Contemporary Scene."

Prior to being a professor at Reed college, Dr. Sisson was Commissioner of Education of Idaho, and Chancellor of Education of Montana. On February 21 he will speak before the Psychology club meeting.

Students of all departments are invited to attend these, and especially those who are science majors.

AWA Sponsors Movie

"So Proudly We Serve," a motion picture of the Women's Marine Corps, will be shown Monday, February 19, at 12:15 o'clock in the Little Theater.

George Stone will speak before the next meeting of senior orientation on returning loyal Japanese to the Pacific coast, announces Marilyn Wilson, senior class president.

At yesterday's orientation meeting nominations for class officers were held. Jeanne Fischer and Bob Coombs were selected to run for president while Anne Buxton, Tilde Edwards, Barbara Lee Rico, and Grace Villaseñor will vie in the vice presidential race.

Jean Arrants, Ann Ruscigno, and Sadie Govier will compete for the office of secretary-treasurer.

Entertainment for the group was provided by Jewel Haddock and Elda Beth Payne. Miss Haddock sang "A Little On The Lonely Side," "Some Other Time," and "I Surrender, Dear" accompanied by Leah Harcastle.

Miss Payne presented a Cornelia Otis Skinner reading.

Freshman Officials To Be Chosen Monday

Class officers for the freshman orientation group will be elected Monday between 9 and 4 o'clock; nominations took place yesterday at 12:30 o'clock in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

Nominees include Ken McGill, Jack Marcipan, and John Peterson for president; Jim Burroughs, Frank Baglione, and Mildred Doyle, vice president; Betty Sills, Gayenelle Baldwin, Francis Bogan, Esther Hessling, Elizabeth Peterson, and Ruth Giaya, secretary.

Beverly Clay, Bill McFarland, Pat Polk, Rae Zimmer, Jackie Jensen, and Virginia Wall will run for the post of freshman class treasurer.

After nominations were closed the freshman orientation group discussed their activities for the quarter. They plan to have panel discussions. Several faculty members will speak to them in the future.

BEHIND THE SCENES

By MARGARET MOORE

People have said about Carol Bryant that if they had that which she so carelessly relegates to the ignominy of a hobby, they would be using it to good advantage.

Carol is the girl who is indirectly the cause of a great to-do these last few days. She happens to have written "Of Mice — No Men," and the complications she put into the plot haven't one whiff on the real problems she created.

Yea, indirectly this quiet (occasionally), unassuming (generally) girl is responsible for the current manhunt on campus. Once an idle fancy conjured up to pass weary hours over a peach machine in the cannery last summer, one night the happy-go-lucky "Of Mice — No Men," a brain child of no mean worth, was born.

While her patient, gentle roommate leaned perilously out of the upper berth in an advisory capacity, Carol hunched herself feverishly over the typewriter, deep in the once-quiet hours of the night and delivered the script.

Based on the rarely dull experiences of a house full of animated girls, among whom Carol has lived to advantage, "Of Mice — No Men" carries the same elements of good-natured kidding that featured in her first venture. Entitled the "Grace Hall" skit, it pointed up last year's Spartan Revelries.

The ease with which our lady writes doesn't bother her very much. She wastes no dreams upon becoming a great writer. Miss Bryant, if you please, is a science major, of the very intelligent caliber; she plans to become an ichthyologist. Meaning FISH expert!

Her mother is a newspaper-woman and her dad is a newspaperman. But she doesn't want to try the field. "I grew up in a newspaper office, more or less," she said.

After solving the matter of where came all that latent giftedness in writing we'd love to have like, we approached the subject of fish, having quite recovered, thank you.

"Well, fish are quiet and friendly," Carol told us. "They don't talk back. I really got interested in the subject back in the days when Mother had to bathe me and one day we found that Daddy had put guppies in the bath tub. You see, they had a fish disease and he wanted to isolate them till they got well."

Study Plan

Why is it that all of the students in every class here must progress at exactly the same rate of speed toward a limited amount of knowledge in the subject?

What we're driving at is this—why can't San Jose State college adopt some form of independent study plan so that students who show unusual aptitude for a particular subject may pursue that subject beyond the usual objectives of the course?

Instructors could select, near the beginning of the quarter, students who seemed to have particular qualifications for the subject, and who wished to go into it beyond the usual limitations of the hour lecture and assigned reading, and place them in an independent study section.

These students would then have the opportunity to explore the subject to the fullest—to go into the obscure and remote elements which go to make up the subject as a whole—rather than just skimming over its surface, as the average course must necessarily do.

They would be under no constraint to attend daily lectures, but would be urged to seek even more in the way of knowledge from the instructor—and others in the same field—through voluntary or compulsory conferences. Although certain reading would be assigned by the instructor, the students would be encouraged to consider this a minimum rather than a maximum assignment.

The increase in real knowledge of the subject would be great. The return to the student would be in the form of learning, if not necessarily in the form of grade points.

Independent study plans are in operation at many colleges and universities, and have proved successful. We wonder if it would be possible to institute such a program here.

CSTA TO HOLD VALENTINE PARTY

CSTA's executive council and committees met recently to make final plans for their get-acquainted party Tuesday evening, February 13, at 7:30 o'clock.

The party will be a dressy-sport affair. Something special in the field of refreshments has been promised by Entertainment Chairman Evelyn Morrison. The evening's entertainment will consist of games.

Barbara Lean, publicity chairman, is in charge of making posters. Invitations to the affair include small maps giving directions — X marks the spot.

All CSTA members are urged to attend the party.

THERAPY CLUB MEMBERS AID MEN AT SHOEMAKER

Under the direction of Miss Thelma Barnwell of the Arts and Skills unit of the Red Cross, members of the Occupational Therapy club are preparing projects to be worked on by the servicemen at Shoemaker Hospital.

Chip-carvers of the Arts and Skills unit of the Red Cross go to Shoemaker every Sunday to instruct the men in the making of picture frames, small boxes, salt and pepper shakers, plates, trays, book-ends, and wooden-soled clogs.

The materials are prepared by Miss Barnwell with the help of the Occupational Therapy club and the Art Section of the American Association of University Women. The work is done at the conclusion of every business meeting and Miss Barnwell is present to assist the members.

O. T. club members glue the picture frames together, sandpaper them, adding symmetrical designs so that they are ready for the work by the Navy men at Shoemaker.

Scraps of battleship linoleum from the floor of Shoemaker Hospital are donated by the hospital for use in making various articles. Material for the wooden clogs is also contributed by the hospital.

The Pacific Manufacturing company gives scrap lumber to be used for picture frames. Some of the articles are first put together by shop students of the Hester school.

FLOTSAM

By GLORIA TERESI

For those of you who miss things like Flotsam, a good hole in the head, and the mumps, we hasten to explain that our absence has been, not to make hearts grow fonder, nor to allow ourselves time to recover from the attempts of our enemies, who with malice of forethought (an accomplice) try to force us into oblivion the hard way, BUT (are you still with us?) to take time off for an inspection tour.

The recent rains (my kingdom for a California weather joke!) drew our attention again to the San Carlos mudflats. After bogging down at least five times while trying a shortcut through that area in order to make it to our 9 o'clock (that's our excuse, and we'll stick to it!), we decided some action should be taken.

So, immediate action we took! We scraped the mud from our boots. Then we sat down (that's the kind of action we really go for). Next we considered the problem.

We surveyed the once-glorious turf sadly. Mud to the right of us, mud to the left of us; in fact, mud all over us. Something should be done to utilize this land, we decided. What a sight—that is, site.

In this era of Victory gardens, that naturally was the first thought that entered our alleged mind. We gave it up though, as the prospect of heartless students making a path through a field of defenseless cabbages was too cruel to contemplate.

Besides, we could just see a new sport springing up on campus—"Kick the Cabbage" (similar to "Throw a rock through the Pub office window— whoever hits a journalist is just kidding himself") and the whole scheme would be sabotaged.

Reluctantly discarding the Victory garden idea, we tried to think (a losing battle) of some equally practical plan. A beautiful thought occurred. Since the turf is already torn up, why not dig a really deep hole out there? If we don't strike oil, gold, or water (in the order named), we can always sink a time capsule.

Y'know, one of those gems for posterity — filled with examples of our civilization or lack of it, for the people of the year 3000 to dig up and wonder about (not to mention laugh out loud). Not only would this provide an opportunity to do something for the future Spartans, but think of the obnoxious items we could rid ourselves of under cover of the scheme! If our ulterior motive is showing again, excuse pliz.

The possibilities which this inspiration brought to mind were so dazzling that we had to share our happy thought. Hailing the first passerby, we poured out the whole beautiful story. He looked startled at first, then began patting our head and saying, "There, there. Just rest awhile and everything will clear up."

We were puzzled, but continued to unfold the plan. Said passerby told us to wait right there and he'd be back in a jiffy with some new recruits for the Time Capsule Corps. We waited.

Why is it that everyone with a new idea has to languish and die before they are recognized? Here we are in this little quilted room, all because we wanted to do our bit for humanity. Nobody understands us! (including our readers).

Justice will triumph though (as they say in 'East Lynne') and we will escape this place! When we do, woe to the fiends who thwarted our plans. We have already planned our revenge.

They will be sealed in our time capsule along with blue cards, Bull Durham, Ed Marion, and that record of "Rum and Coca Cola." This is worth fighting for!

Thrust And Parry

Letters written for the Thrust and Parry column must be signed with the writer's full name and the number of his student body card. Names will be withheld upon request.

Length of Thrust and Parries is limited to 200 words per article. All contributions should be turned in to the Contributor's Box just inside the entrance to the Publications office.

LOST AND FOUND

Attention auditorium ushers: Will the person who took a black coat with blue bandana in pocket from the auditorium Monday night by mistake please call Ballard 1263 between 9 and 12 o'clock and 1 and 5 o'clock and coats will be exchanged.—Adele Cox.

SPORT SHORTS

By BRADY

Spartans Ed Maggetti and Don McCaslin made a fine showing Saturday night against the Harlem Globe Trotters, professional basketball team. Maggetti took high point honors for the night with 18 points, outscoring the Trotters' Negro scoring ace, Ed Price, who got 17 digits. McCaslin, who spent most of his time feeding Maggetti who was "hot," got six points himself.

Incidentally, the Globe Trotters downed the San Jose All-Stars, 57-44, after a very close first half.

BASEBALL

Pitching and catching practice is progressing nicely with Phil Clark supervising. Clark reports that Joe Bash, former Pasadena J. C. star, is working out well at the catching post. Jim Reiley has been doing some chucking and is reported to be in fair shape. The battery lineup will show a big increase after the completion of basketball when such men as Marcipan, Hooten, and Loudon will turn out.

WRESTLING

Coach Sam Della Maggiore is still looking for some more wrestling prospects. Sam is handling a full-time job at San Jose High and it is reported that he has some fine wrestlers over there. He would like very much to develop a team here at State this year if he could round up enough men.

Anyone interested is requested to report to the P. E. department in the very near future.

EX-SPARTAN ATHLETES

Bill Duran, former star baseball player at San Jose State, and King of Spardi Gras in '43, is doing a fine job of coaching at Santa Clara High school. "Billy" is coaching lightweight and varsity basketball at the Mission city school.

I happened to see the Los Gatos-Santa Clara championship game last Friday night in which the Gatos edged out Duran's men, 26-24. It was a tough one for Duran to lose, for his club was on top. However, his lightweight team is leading the league and hasn't lost a game this season. . . . Congratulations, "Billy."

BIG GAME

Tonight's the night! The Spartans meet the Gaters in a return basketball contest tonight at 8 o'clock in our gym. A story on the game can be found in today's paper. However, we just want to urge the student body to come out to what is expected to be a very close and exciting game.

The identical teams met a couple of weeks ago, and the score was 46-45 in favor of S.F.S. after two extra periods were played. See what we mean — excitement!

SWIMMING

Reports from Coach Cecil Domballan have it that the swimming team is coming along in fine style. You will remember the strong water polo team that Sparta had this year—well, a good percentage of the swimming team is composed of ex-poloists. Hence, you can look for State to be well represented in swimming circles this year.

STATE MAY HAVE SPRING GRID TEAM IF MEN TURN OUT

San Jose State college may resume football this year. Possibilities of spring football practice depend on the number of male students who are interested and sign up in the P. E. department.

The Athletic department has announced that all prospective ball players, managers and personnel should contact either "Tiny" Hartranft or Bill Hubbard of the Physical Education department within the next week.

When signing up, the student will be given a questionnaire containing questions in regard to experience, draft status, weight, and if he knows of anyone else who will be here next quarter that will be interested in football.

At the start of the year football prospects were numerous. However, as the quarter progressed Uncle Sam again dealt a severe blow to the athletic outlook at State. On the other hand, returning veterans are increasing in number and it is still possible that Sparta has enough brawn to formulate a football team.

Football sign-ups are now in order. If you are interested or know of someone who is, have them get in touch with the Physical Education department at once.

SPARTAN TEAM FACES SFS IN RETURN TILT TONIGHT

The San Francisco State Gaters invade the college gym tonight at 8 o'clock to meet the Spartan cagers in the second of the two-game series. The Gaters won the first tilt in a thrilling overtime game, 46-45.

In the opinion of those who saw that game, it was the most outstanding contest the Spartans have engaged in this season. Tied at 37-all at the end of the regular game time, two consecutive overtimes were played before the Gaters could edge out the "fighting" Spartans by a single point.

An interesting sidelight is the fact that the two teams meeting tonight are the identical squads that met a week ago Thursday in that exciting contest. McCaslin and D. Murray put on a thrilling duel for high point honors, McCaslin, start center of the Spartans, finally coming out on top with a grand total of 18 points. Their individual efforts will bear watching tonight.

Along with Murray, a center by the name of Patrick carries a lot of offensive punch. These two men will have to be watched closely by Spartan guards or the outcome might not be too favorable.

Coach Bill Hubbard has been working his men on a fast breaking offense. This has been the best offensive weapon the Spartans have possessed all season, often bothering strong service teams with this type of attack. Purpose is to catch the defense before they are set.

A pre-game rally will be held at 7 o'clock in the Morris Dailey auditorium. Students and spectators will be keyed up by yells led by Ken McGill, Virginia Sherwood, and Dolores Dolph. Students and rooters will go directly to the gymnasium from the rally.

The probable starting lineups for the respective teams will be:

SJS	SFS
MarcipanF.....	D. Murray
CartwrightF.....	Mohr
McCaslinC.....	Patrick
LaserG.....	Hansen
McFarlaneG.....	Diggins

JOB SHOP

Anyone interested in a clerical and secretarial job with the F. B. I. should see Miss Doris Robinson in the Placement office.

TANKERS HOLD MEET TODAY

Sea Spartans and Sea Wolves will hold a swim meet in the college tank this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The two teams have been re-organized with Bob Smith heading the SW and Cecil Domballan as captain of the SS.

A letter was received from the Olympic Club of San Francisco inviting the team to take part in the Northern California Swimming Championship contest March 9.

Those who will swim today are Bob Smith, Tom Wyman, Bob Wallace, Walter Chang, and Roy Mische for the SW. Representing the SS will be Cecil Domballan, Bud Sheets, Dick Malloy, Dick Corral, and Bob Saylor.

All students are invited to attend the meet.

NOTICE

There will be an important meeting of the committees of the Junior Prom at 12:30 today in the Student Union. Everyone please be there — it's real important. —Pat C.

SPARTANS in the SERVICE...

By ELEANOR FRATES

George Hatfield, graduate of SJS with an A. B. degree in music and teacher for the Petaluma Board of Education prior to entering military service, was recently promoted to the rank of corporal at Walker Army Air Field, Kansas.

Lieutenant Harold Reeves, former Spartan, has reported for duty at the Carlsbad Army Air Field in Carlsbad, New Mexico. He is an overseas veteran who was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and Air Medal with three clusters.

Ensign Harry Graham, '41 graduate and former associate editor of the Spartan Daily, is now taking up his duties as commanding officer on an LST in the South Pacific.

The Oak Leaf Cluster to the Distinguished Flying Cross has been awarded to Sgt. William White, former Gamma Phi and Spartan Knight fraternity man. Sgt. White is an aerial radio operator with a combat cargo squadron of Maj. Gen. Howard C. Davidson's Tenth Air Force, who has chalked up 800 combat hours during his eight months of service in the India-Burma theater.

Former Spartan Cpl. Eugene Aiello's job with the 15th AAF in Italy is not glamorous and has very little publicity but it's a very important one. Aiello is an armament worker in a veteran B-24 heavy bombardment group which is the holder of a war department distinguished unit citation for its part in the bombing of an important enemy aircraft factory near Vienna last July.

Before each mission, he must check the many 50 caliber guns which bristle from each Liberator, to see that there is plenty of ammunition and that the guns are in proper working order. In addition, he helps load bombs, cleans the guns, and checks the ammunition as it is received so that if any of the rounds are dirty or rusty, they can be removed from the belt.

We recently received a letter from Donald Nielson, former Spartan, now a lieutenant with the Air Transport Command in the South Pacific. He says, "Just a line to let you know I received my first 'Dailies' yesterday, and to thank you. I don't recognize many of the present students, but the 'Service' column sure brings back old memories."

"I've met two Spartans out here, Tom Taylor and Carl Hazeltine. Paid Sydney, Australia, a visit a couple of weeks ago. It's a good town, one of the best. I expect to be back home in ten or twelve months. We have to fly 1250 hours over here and then are replaced. I have 800 more to go."

We found a crumpled piece of paper in the "Notice" basket today which read: "Pfc. Raymond Valenta (former art major here) was killed in action last October in Belgium."
