RALLY, NOISE PARADE PRECEDE GAME

Rally Committee Completes Plans

By DOT McCULLOUGH

San Jose State College rooters will roar through the streets tonight in what they hope will be the noisiest noise parade on record.

With horns blowing, banner flying and gold and white streamers streaming, cars will travel through the city proclaiming the return of prewar football.

A motorcycle escort of city police will lead the cars from the Men's gym down First street. Following a planned route, the parade will arrive at Spartan Stadium at 7:15.

All students with or without cars who wish to be in the parade should be at the Men's gym by 6:15.

Today's rally will start at 12:30 sharp in the outer Quad. Yell leaders, Ken McGill, Bob Johnson, and Jerry Swamer will start things off with the college songs and yells.

ROOTER CAPS! POM-PONS! "For the rally as well as the game, we would like to have everyone wearing a rooter's cap," said Bob Johnson, Rally committee chairman. There are still some caps left at the Spartan Shop, but they are going fast, and already it's impossible to get all sizes. Get yours before they're all gone."

Pom-poms will be sold for 25c at the rally by members of the Delta Beta Sigma society. "We don't know when we will be able to get any more of these pom-poms made," says Johnson, "so if you want one get it today at the rally. We won't have enough to sell at the game."

Cars for the noise parade should be lined up on San Carlos street, facing Fourth street, by 6:15 to night. Further information will be given at by rally today.

Islanders Honored By Carillons

The Honolulu All-Stars will be honored by the playing of Song of the Islands on the carillons this noon.

This is a change in the program that was announced in Tuesday's Daily. The former program to be played by Dottie Fliflet would have included three songs: a hymn, a French folksong, and a composition by Genesee.

Stadium Parking

Students driving to the Spartan-All Star football game tonight are requested to use the South Tenth street approach to the Stadium.

Taxis and buses will be the only traffic allowed on South Seventh street: South Ninth street will be blocked off entirely; South Sixth street will handle the reserve seat section. Faculty are to use the South Eighth street approach to the stadium and park in the practice field.

New Band Makes Debut Today

By PHIL ROBERTSON

This is the new marching band's debut day, and boy what a day! One appearance isn't enough for that band—no sir. No less than three performances will serve to acquaint the students with the music department's new show.

Freshmen will be the first to see the band in action, for freshman orientation is the band's first stop. Orientation will open to the strains of popular marches. After everyone is seated Dean Pitman will take over for about twenty minutes.

Ken McGill, head yell leader, and Bob Johnson, rally committee head, will induct the freshmen into the mysteries of the school songs and yells. The band will bolster Johnson and McGill in their efforts.

After a short breather, the band will go to the outer quad and play for the pre-game rally.

And then to the game. Donning their gold trousers, coats, and hats for the final and most elaborate appearance of the day, the band heads for Spartan Stadium tonight to perform during half-time.

One of the high-lights of this appearance will be Ed Marshall's arrangement of SONG OF THE ISLANDS. Marshall, freshman music major from Burlingame, made the arrangement specially for tonight's game.

The band is almost up to the pre-war cadence of 150 notes per minute. Having only practiced three times, they feel proud being able to play with a cadence of 140 notes per minute.

McNeil Head Of Chest Drive

The campus Community Chest drive, which begins October 14 and extends through October 18, is headed this fall by Bruce McNeil.

Harold Riddle, publicity chairman, reminds the student body of its part in the forthcoming drive. "San Jose is caught in the swirling eddy of the post-war world and we're all feeling it. After five years of war, restlessness prevails, and the present over-crowded conditions only add to this feeling. Delinquency results, and disease increases. Our city has its 'displaced persons,' too—new comers who are homeless; people who are sick, need guidance, recreation, counsel and care.

"The Community Chest belongs to all of us. It is here to serve all of us. The agencies it helps support are not charities. They are social services for the benefit of all who need their service. Because it is our Chest, we all have a responsibility to contribute to it."

Class Nominations To Be Held Friday

Class nomination meetings will be held Friday afternoon at 3:30.

Freshmen will meet in the Morris Dailey auditorium, sophomores in the Men's gym, juniors in room S112, and seniors in the Women's gym.

Classes will not be excused. All candidates to be nominated must be present. Nominations will be made from the floor.

Cover Contest Starts Tomorrow

Students planning to enter the La Torre cover design contest which opens tomorrow are reminded that their entry must include the title, "La Torre," and the numerals "'47."

Open to any student having a class in the art department, the contest will close on Monday, November 11. The cover will be nine by twelve inches with a beige cloth background. Students may use two colors, black and one color, or all black. Participants are required to submit a dummy showing how the cover will actually appear.

NOISE PARADE

Every car, crate and jalopy is wanted in the NOISE PARADE which will start from the Men's gym at 6:30 tonight. Cars are to be lined up on the San Carlos street side by 6:15. Police will give us a motorcycle escort on First street to the Spartan Stadium.

GOLDEN RAIDERS, HAWAIIAN STARS CLASH TONIGHT

Spartans and Pineapple Kings Pegged for Close Contest

By DICK FRY

Coach Bill Hubbard and his Golden Raiders may not like to face the music, but under the lights tonight at Spartan Stadium, they're up against it—and Hawaiian music at that.

Advance agents for the Hawaiian All-Stars, sang their way into town early today, heralding the arrival of their club late this afternoon, with new words to an old tune. It sounded something like, "We wanta take a victory back to our little grass shack."

Already allergic to guitars and twangy tenors after the sad songs they heard following the Hardin-Simmons game last week, the Spartans will go into tonight's battle with the Stars slightly on the short end of the betting odds—with accompaniment it might be worse.

INJURIES HIT SPARTANS

That old injury jinx, the hoodoo that plagued early Spartan practice sessions this fall, was back again today. Both Frank Minini and Allen Hardisty, Hubbard's front rank fullbacks, have been taking it plenty easy since Tuesday night after suffering recurrences of old injuries. Without either Minini or Hardisty, Hubbard would be in a bad way for an experienced plunging back. He can call on Roy Mangini and Steve O'Meara, but both lack playing time.

SCORING OUTLOOK

Tonight's duel should be a high scoring affair. Both the Spartans and the All-Stars have demonstrated in past performances that they can score—and also be scored against. The Islanders have run up 60 points in two games to the Spartans 51, and have protected pay dirt in better style than the locals with 26 points scored against them to 40 for the gold and white squad.

A tie wouldn't surprise us.

Mission to Moscow

Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie will travel to Moscow, Idaho, with the football team in place of Glenn Hartranft. The reason for the substitution is that Dr. MacQuarrie wants to examine the dormitory situation which is reported to be unusually good.

CALDERWOOD IS MALE LEAD IN 'DUCHESS' CAST

John Calderwood, veteran actor in San Jose State college play productions, has been chosen by Director James Clancy for the part of Antonio, the male lead opposite Ruth Jenschky in Webster's "The Duchess of Malfi."

Ferdinand and the Cardinal, the Duchess' brothers who plot against her happiness, will be portrayed by Milton Brietzke and Del Carlson. Before the war, Carlson appeared in San Jose State productions, "The Male Animal" and "Arsenic and Old Lace." Brietzke is a drama major transfer student.

Other parts are Delio, Antonio's friend, played by John Ickes, transfer student; Roderigo, David Manning, transfer student from the University of Oregon and a member of the Palo Alto Community Play House; Silvio, James Spitz, who appeared in Spartan plays prior to the war; Castruccio, Paul Gormley, a new student; and the First Pilgrim, Edwin Williams who appeared in the Summer Session production, "Double Door."

The three female leads as announced previously, are Ruth Jenschky in the title role of the Duchess, Patricia Kimmick as Carriola, and Edna Wheeler as Julia.

ATTENTION

All veterans in training under the Veterans' Vocational Rehabilitation Act P.L. 16, who have not yet submitted a schedule of classes for the current quarter, should call at Room 16, Administration building, to obtain the necessary forms at once.

SPINNERS GO TO REDWOOD

San Jose State Spartan Spinners will go to Redwood City Sunday to participate in a festival of the California Folk Dance Federation which will be held at Sequoia high school.

Members of the club and other interested students are requested to sign up in the Women's gym by 1:30 today as transportation in a school bus will be provided if enough plan to attend.

First meeting of the Spinners this year was Tuesday night. "There was a good crowd with many new faces," says Mrs. Sarah Wilson, adviser. "We still need new people, and extend an invitation to students, faculty members, and husbands and wives of students."

A Summary of World News to 11 O'clock Last Night from the United Press Teleprinter in the Spartan Daily Office.

York Does it Again; Sox Take Series Lead

BOSTON—The home run bat of big Rudy York crushed the Cardinals again yesterday when he powdered one for a homer, giving the Red Sox a 4-0 triumph and a 2-1 game edge in the Series.

Probable starters today are righthanders George Munger for St. Louis, and Tex Hughson for Boston.

SP Conductors to Strike

SAN FRANCISCO—Southern Pacific railroad conductors have voted to strike in seven western states to force a settlement of more than 3,700 grievances, the order of railroad conductors announced yesterday.

Date of the strike has not yet been set, according to an announcement by George McLennan, General chairman of the ORC.

Comet Gives Fireworks Display

LOS ANGELES—A brilliant display of meteors from the Giacobini-Zinner comet was visible last night with the tiny flashes appearing at the rate of one every five seconds.

The meteors were bright and glowing for only a short time, each with tiny tails as they flashed across the sky.

Italian Treaty Approved

PARIS—The 21-Nation Paris Peace conference today approved a completed Italian Treaty draft, which set Italian reparations at 325 million dollars, and made the Governor of Trieste responsible to the United Nations Security council.

JUST AMONG OURSELVES

By DR. T. W. MacQUARRIE

Planes cost more than trains, but they take less time, and that is the principal reason why our football team travels by plane. The airways are pretty crowded now, but we were fortunate to get the Flying Tigers. We are saving six college days this season.

Our Health Service is pretty good under the conditions. Most colleges don't have any. Be sure to make use of it if you need to. We can't do major operations, and we can't always jump at your call, but we can help a lot. Now is the time to get some good advice on what ails you. It may add several years, and lots of comfort to your life.

I doubt that you will want to join a down town fraternity. It isn't college, and you can do that after your college days are over. They are on the job already and looking for members. We don't know who they are, and don't care very much, except that they do get some of our students—and give them very little. You can get a line on a college fraternity, but not one down town. Look out.

The crowding in the Commerce Wing and particularly on the Commerce stairway is pretty bad at times—it could be serious. Please do not use the Commerce stairway at all if you are not a Commerce student. Be willing to take a few more steps to promote safety.

First Meeting Held By Spartan Spears

Spartan Spears held their initial meeting of the autumn quarter Tuesday afternoon. Attending their first meeting since election into the organization at the close of the spring quarter were: Barbara Curry, Bea Hohman, Barbara Whitaker, Joan Schwartz, Frances Verdier, Ernestine Lavignino, Virginia Luke, Jane Potter, Marge Smith, Carolyn Hackman, Jean Glives, Leah Keller, Elsie Lee, Barbara Brewster, Virginia Mahon, Phyl Durgy, Nancy Talbot, and Adeline Clark. Adviser to the group is Miss Margaret Twombly.

Spartan Spears is a sophomore women's honorary service group. Students are selected to membership at the end of their freshman year for their outstanding interest and activity in college affairs, and for their scholarship, character, and personality.

PDA ELECTS MISS ROBINSON SECRETARY

Miss Doris Robinson, head of the college Placement Bureau, was elected secretary to the Placement Directors Association at a convention of that organization, held recently in San Diego.

One of the major problems discussed at the convention, said Miss Robinson, was that of the present teacher shortage. "The lack of teacher training candidates—especially for elementary grades—is becoming increasingly notable," she said. "Perhaps the reluctance of students to enter this field is because of the comparatively low salaries offered after four expensive years of preparation."

Dr. George Geyer, head of a state-wide survey for the relocation of school districts spoke before the convention, and explained the proposed plan of district relocation which is to be presented to the public shortly. The plan of relocation is designed to consolidate and rearrange now standing school districts throughout California. This will give the State a more efficient and economical method of school administration.

We've Got A School

Remember that old high school yell, "We've got a school, we've got a yell. . . ." We're in college now, but we've still got a school. We've got a school worth yelling about—worth singing about. And we've got a hymn to sing.

A college hymn is a wonderful thing. The singing of it on Homecoming day brings back so many memories of long ago college life. When you're an "old grad" singing "Hail, Spartans, Hail!" you'll remember . . . standing in the stadium under an October sky after a football game joining with the thousands of other Spartans—singing the praises of your college.

What about the students who leave the game before the hymn is sung?—well they just don't be'ong. They may attend classes at college, but they're not college students. They won't have golden memories of college life; only brass memories of homework and exams.

Tonight after the game, win or lose, we stand, remove our hats, and sing the praises of OUR college—the best darn college in the world.

HARVARD SOCIOLOGIST URGES EARLY MARRIAGE TO PRESERVE AMERICA

By PHIL ROBERTSON

If the Greek and Roman civilizations can disappear, why can't the American civilization also vanish? That is a question that Harvard's widely-known sociologist, Prof. Carle C. Zimmerman, has set about to answer.

In a United Press dispatch dated October 7, Professor Zimmerman has suggested that certain citizenship rights be taken away from Americans who fail to marry and produce good-sized families. He believes that this plan is justified as a last resort in saving American civilization from the disintegration that overtook Greek and Roman society according to the dispatch.

It is the Harvard professor's plan that men should marry before they reach 25, and women before 20. "If they don't, they should not be allowed to run for public office," he said. Now if any of you are

THRUST and PARRY

COUNCIL URGED

Thrust and Parry:

The question of allowing students to smoke in the Student Union is before the Student Council and it is as a betterment of the Student Body that I rise to hail this as one of the most sensible measures that has been placed before that body in all the time I have attended State.

With thousands of nicotine-hungry students now attending my almy mammy to be there has been a problem about where the milling masses that blot out the lawn will be placed when the San Jose weather bureau decides to import some Eastern weather. The rain variety.

No one can suggest that we borrow the largest shoe horn from the downtown milliners and try to pack the miscellaneous hundreds of Spartans into that desolated place called the Coop. Tradition? Pfi!!

What tradition is there against smoking in the Student Union? Didn't they allow smoking at the last Gripe Dinner? Yes they did for I was there and consumed at least three cigarettes before the griping was drawn to a close.

We simply must have some way to alleviate the crowded conditioning the age deadline and have political aspirations, you had better heed the advice of one of the nation's leading sociologists and plan on that family of a dozen or so.

A married man who has no children to his credit will be banned from positions of public leadership, according to the Zimmerman plan. It seems that anyone who can withstand the trials and tribulations of raising a few kids will be well outfitted to stand up under the buffeting of the buttonholing politicians.

Professor Zimmerman, who got married at 27 and has three children, admitted his theory was "somewhat radical." However he feels that the family problem is so serious that legislation is necessary. Under the professor's plan, a national family governing body would be created by constitutional amendments. This body with branches in every community, would deal judiciously with "the important problems of family structure."

Anyone noticing young people in their twenties who don't have any kids following them should immediately report to the learned professor. There oughta be a law. . . .

tions, and I feel that it is about time that the little used Student Union be put to use as a benefit to the students it is reserved for.

It was the votes of the smokers who put the members of the Council in office so let's have a vote of thanks and allow the smoking in the Student Union.

A.S.B. 253.

ELAINE HAS PERSONAL INTEREST

Elaine "Popcorn" Malama, sophomore history major, will probably be lending her voice toward a Spartan victory tonight, but her flesh and blood will be pushing toward the opposite goal with everything possible to prevent it.

No, Elaine is not a two-timer. The flesh and blood represents Allen Malama, Miss Malama's brother who will play in the end position for the Honolulu All-Stars tonight.

Allen arrived in San Jose ahead of his team-mates to visit his sister here. Both brother and sister are from Hawaii. Elaine spent this summer in Honolulu dancing at the La Hula Rumba night club.

Garbage Can Shortage Makes Campus Untidy

By MAGGIE MOORE

State is busin' out all over and one of the most outstanding signs of this is not merely the barracks and the quonset hut classrooms-to-be going up around campus. Bulging and most inadequate trash receivers placed occasionally (very occasionally) about on the campus are overflowing with scrap paper and lunch remains which those students who think of it are trying to keep the campus neat by using them.

According to a lot of observers, the campus is really going through a lot of wear and tear. It wasn't always thus. Time was—a couple of years ago, to be sure—when a campaign "Don't Make Paths" was actually waged here to keep the cow-tracks down to a minimum. That was in the days when there were still enough lawns on campus for the inveterate students to mar as they trudged to near lates for their classes.

There are still a number of students and faculty here who have a more personal interest in the flowering of our little bushes and the merry greenery of our lawns. Members of several classes of Biology 22 who planted various shrubs around the buildings as class assignments have a feeling of special pride in the campus.

The darn place is special to us. We know that the situation could be helped with more and better trash bins—and more high minded types who will TRY to use them. You new ones will like the place, too, when you know your way around the coop a little better. Leave us dispose of our cardboard lunch pails and last year's class notes in orderly fashion. After all, we have enough feet to trip over now—with the crowd, that is.

Men And Maids And Stuff

Climbing into a chair in a downtown barber shop yesterday for our semi-annual shine, shave, and shampoo, we were forced to pause in mid-air, and note the occupant of a neighboring chair—an elderly lady of some sixty summers—waiting patiently while her coiffure was remodeled into as nifty a crew cut as is to be seen in any locker room.

While we were waiting for the barber to finish cutting figure eights on our skull, we were identified as a college fella because our coat and pants don't match. The working man's J. Edgar Hoover who scrutinized our wearing apparel and came to this conclusion sidled up and popped a question.

"Hey, Jack, says he, "somebody was tellin' me that these Honolulu All-Stars don't wear shoes when they play football. Could that be true? Seems like they'd have to wear something to keep from getting their feet stepped on."

We were forced to reply that we did not know whether a football is blown up or stuffed—much less whether or not a certain team wore shoes—but the question gave birth to an idea that has been hovering in our mind like a Pismo Beach seagull. If the rumor is true and these Hula boys don't wear shoesies, you'll find us in the Pineapple King's dressing room on game night hawking bunion pads and corn plasters between halves—and making money like maaaaad—. We feel for the poor Spartan who attempts to block a punt and gets a face full of feet. Some sources even go so far as to say that the boys from Hawaii punt pineapples to keep their tootsies in shape.

Just how any apparently self-respecting and solvent publication could allow such unvarnished drivel to appear within its pages is a question of some magnitude, but here we are for a return engagement. Read us again next week, same time, same place, and we'll give you Gallstones!

The Clockwatcher

With CHARLES L. ANDERSON

COLLEGIATE NURSERY RHYMES

Sing a song of sixpence
 A hip-flask full of rye.
 Campus days are here again—
 Time to work for grades so high.
 But we tire of scholastic lore,
 And dull become Plato and Euripedes.
 Then marks are sacrificed, before
 The great god "Extra Curric. Activities."

The big mystery around this neck of the woods isn't the latest Ellery Queen or Nero Wolf opus, but rather where to find some good places to eat. They can be found—maybe—if one searches hard enough and long enough.

One local eatery has sufficient extra grease on its knives and forks to polish a pair of old shoes. The only trouble is that I've never become addicted to shining my brogans between dinner courses.

Some things are hard to face, but it's about time we knew the truth about our library. Stamped in big gold letters on each Bible in the reserve book room is "PLACED IN THIS ROOM BY THE GIDEONS."

I can (with a mixed feeling of shame and remorse) picture in my mind the acquisition of these Holy Books. The library receives a report from the literature classes that fifty extra Bibles will be needed this quarter. "We've already spent $20.00 over this year's allotment for books," complains the bookery's treasurer.

Undaunted by this report, each member of the library staff, from Joyce Backus on down to Phil Sleeth, furtively steps into hotel rooms, "appropriates" the desired volume, and then races with the loot to the reserve book room. Of course, there may be a better explanation, but we haven't heard it.

OVERHEARD: "Why don't they use the honor system here? I have to pass these courses somehow."

Not only is the dollar being depreciated these days, but so is the hour. On KQW from 1:30 to 2:00 on Sundays is "The Hour of Charm," followed by "The Family Hour," which lasts from 2:00 to 2:30.

Why are expensive pens so easy to lose, while the dollar variety are usually kept for a year or two? The Clockwatcher will misplace a Parker 51 before the quarter is over, but his latest model ("$1.50 at all drug stores") appears to be non-losable.

What this country needs is not a pen that will write below water for six years without refilling, but one guaranteed against loss.

FLOWERS FOR THE LADIES EVERY SATURDAY NIGHT

SCA Members Will Attend World Student Service Fund Conference Saturday

Several representatives from the local SCA will attend a World Student Service Fund planning conference at Stanford university, Saturday. Among these representatives are Don Cassidy, Bruce McNeil, Frances Tuttle, Beverly Blackman and Mary Hamachi.

The above mentioned students will also attend a weekend conference of the regional council of student YMCA and YWCA at the Lions Den. This council will attend Saturday's conference in a body. One of the council members is Leila Anderson, secretary of the University of California YWCA, who has just returned from attending international students conferences in Geneva and Czechoslovakia.

Jim Glasse, traveling secretary for the WSSF and former student body president of Occidental college, will co-chairman the Stanford conference with Mary Virginia Pond, Stanford student. Glasse traveled in Holland, Belgium, France, and Switzerland this summer for the WSSF.

Attending the WSSF Planning Conference this fall will be delegates from all Northern California universities, colleges, and preparatory schools. The Conference is being held in preparation for a national WSSF drive this year to aid students in Europe and Asia.

Students attending the conference will make plans and discuss best possible techniques to bring the message of needy students in other parts of the world to American students on their own university and college campus.

According to Glasse, it is estimated that in Poland alone over 1,000 students will die of Tuberculosis without receiving aid provided by WSSF for students in war-torn countries. Holland's universities were completely devoid of all laboratory equipment under Nazi rule.

While other countries can receive or still have books, those same countries are lacking in necessary notebooks, paper, pencils, and pens which are also provided through WSSF.

Comet Flaunts Meteor Shower

Evidently astronomers can throw rocks a little further than either the Cards' Murray Dickson or Boston's Dave Ferriss.

In the United Press dispatch received last night, astronomers said the Giacobini-Skinner comet would pass within virtually a stone's throw of the earth tonight—only 12,000 miles distant.

The comet's head passed within 32,000,000 miles of the earth a week ago, but the tail is much bolder and is flaunting a meteor shower right here within half the distance to the moon.

The strong-winged astronomers can trot out into the evening air and cast interested glances toward the celestial regions tonight at 7 p.m. in vain hopes of witnessing the meteor shower at the height of its brilliance.

PHI MU ALPHA

Phi Mu Alpha chapter of Mu Epsilon will hold its first meeting of the quarter at Miss Lydia Boothby's tonight at 7 p.m. A bus schedule is posted on the bulletin board in the music building. This is an important meeting and new members will receive their pins.

RESERVE BOOK ROOM EXPLAINED

For the benefit of new students who may not know the function of the Reserve Book room, the following information is presented.

Faculty members at the beginning of each quarter put on reserve, textbooks which they are using in their courses, and other books which they think will be of aid to the students enrolled in their classes. This helps the more ambitious student to further his knowledge of a subject with the help of some outside reading. Periodicals and charts are also available to the student.

During the day, students may borrow the books for one hour at a time (renewable at the end of the hour if no one else is waiting), or else they may borrow the books overnight, checking them out after 4 p.m. Overnight books are due at 8:30 the following morning. Magazines and charts are lent on the same basis.

There are fines charged for overdue books. Further reference material in all courses is to be had at the reserve book room and lists of authors and titles are available for your consultation.

Oxford Again Offers Rhodes Scholarships

Rhodes scholarships at Oxford university are open for the first time since 1939, when they were suspended because of the war.

Normally 32 scholarships were assigned to the United States, but it is expected that additional ones will be authorized this year because of the seven-year lapse.

G. I. Bill of Rights benefits, if applied to Oxford, are expected to equal those ordinarily received at an American University. Both regular and war service scholarships are offered for two years, and are worth 400 pounds.

Professor Phillip W. Buck, professor of political science at Stanford university, is representative for that institution's committee for the Rhodes scholarship. Local students interested in information regarding the scholarships should write him.

Men applying for the scholarships must be above sophomore standing in a recognized degree granting university or college in the United States. Candidates may apply either from the state of legal residence, or from the state in which they have at least two years of their college education.

Selections are made on the basis of the candidate's record in school and college, supplemented by references of persons who know him, and by a personal interview with a committee of selection.

SJS BOXERS EXPECT BIG SCHEDULE

Varsity boxing will be resumed again this winter, announced Coach Dee Witt Portal yesterday. More than 250 enthusiasts have enrolled in boxing classes this quarter which is an excellent comparison for other fall terms.

TOWNSEND BACK

Charles Townsend, who won the College and the Pacific Coast Conference 135 pound championships in 1942, has returned and is Coach Portal's best prospect at present. While he was in the service, he added the Southwest Pacific championships to his laurels. Chuck learned his boxing lessons while he was a freshman at San Jose State college.

PCC IN SAN JOSE

Four main events will feature the new 1947 boxing season. They are the Novice Tournament, the All College Tourney, the Pacific Coast Conference and National championships.

The first two are college affairs and will probably be held during January in the Men's gym. The PCC championships will be held in March at the Civic Auditorium. The Nationals will take place in the east also during March.

The PCC of which San Jose State College is a member is composed of 10 teams which include Oregon State, Santa Clara, San Francisco University, Stanford, California, UCLA, Calif. Aggies and others.

The PCC championship, to be held in San Jose, is the "Rose Bowl" of boxing.

Coach Portal will announce his complete schedule at a later date.

JayVee Squad Drills Against Legion Plays

"They're big, rugged, and tough." That is the information Coach Bud Winter gave to his JayVee squad about the Monterey American Legion team during scrimmage session last night.

With only two days of practice remaining before the Spartan junior varsity plays their first tilt of the season against the Monterey squad, Coach Winter has been going over scouting reports, and running the JayVee offense against the tricky Legion defense.

The Monterey Legion showed up well against the Hollister junior college eleven last week by defeating the J. C. squad 19-0. During the scrimmage session last night, center John Farrell showed up well in the line, along with tackles Wayne Raymond and Elmer Lala and Vincent Longa, end.

In the backfield, James Waterman and Francis Van Houtte, quarterbacks, were hitting their targets in the passing drills. Fullback Martin Sullivan continued to give Bob Rittenhouse stiff competition for that position. Left halfback Lee Landrum and end Bill McCormick also drew words of praise from Coach Winter for their showing during the scrimmage.

Ted Munby New Spartan Mat Coach

There are 15 men out for Varsity wrestling which is being resumed again after a four year lapse. Coach Ted Munby announced today.

This is Coach Munby's first year at the helm of the wrestling squad. He succeeds former coach, Sam Della Maggiore, who coached the last team to the Far Western Conference championship in 1942.

Practice sessions are held four days a week in the Men's small gym. Each Monday and Wednesday the men meet at 4:30 o'clock. On Tuesdays and Thursdays, wrestling candidates can practice at either of these three hours: 9:30 a. m., 10:30 a. m., or 2:30 p. m.

Series Aired at 10:30

Boston and St. Louis resume their series today at 10:30 from the Spartan Daily broadcast booth near the San Carlos turf.

Due to the size of yesterday's crowd, which overflowed into the Sequoia Californicus' surrounding the box seats, all students will be required to show dog tags, ID cards, or ASB cards to secure seats in the first fifty rows.

RED SOX TAKE LEAD IN SERIES ON 4-0 SHUTOUT BY 'BOO' FERRISS

Dave "Boo" Ferriss etched his name into the World Series record books yesterday as the fiftieth pitcher to hurl a shutout in the inter-league playoffs by setting the St. Louis Cardinals down with six hits to give the Boston Red Sox the third game of the current meet, 4-0.

Ferriss, freshman and sophomore sensation of the American League in 1945-'46, proved beyond a shadow of a doubt that he is one of the greatest chuckers in the game, and not just a wartime flash.

The Sox opened up on Murry Dickson, Card hurler in the first frame. Johnny Pesky singled, and Ted Williams was given an intentional pass to get at Rudy York. The big Red Sox first sacker obliged by coming through with his second hit of the series and his second home into the left field stands.

Joe Cronin's men came through again in the last of the eighth with their final run on a walk to York, a double by Bobby Doerr, and Red Schoendienst error at second.

St. Louis threatened in the bottom of the ninth when Stan Musial tripled off the right field boards with two gone. However, Ferriss set Enos Slaughter down on strikes to close the books on the third game of the 1946 World Series.
