

'Get on the Ball' Warns Student

A month of living in Communist-run countries, including 10 days in Russia, has convinced Dave Shaver that the United States "had better get on the ball in a hurry."

Shaver's opinions of the U.S.S.R. reflects his concern after seeing the way of Communist-led life. "It scares a person to death," he said, "to see what can happen to a country. Everybody looks the same, acts alike and doesn't talk very much."

Shaver, a 22-year-old senior speech and drama major, returned in August from a seven-month tour of Europe, where he shot more than 5000 feet of film, 1000 slides, made five tapes for the NBC "Monitor" show and tape recorded commentaries during the trip. He also kept a diary.

He toured the area in a Volkswagen bus with an SJS graduate, Jerry Jensen.

"The trip to Russia really opened my eyes," Shaver said. "A month of living in Communist countries is enough."

Shaver encouraged anyone who goes to Europe to be certain to visit Russia, though he admitted it took one full year to obtain a visa to see the Soviet nation.

SECRET U.S. INTEREST

He indicated the Russians are, however, interested in this country. "If you can get them off by themselves they are curious about the American people," he said. Shaver told how after visiting Poland, East and West Germany, Yugoslavia and other satellite countries, he thought the more Communism has infiltrated into a country, "the lower the standard of living."

Shaver toured the University of Moscow, where he said the 24,000 students, "take everything much more seriously than they do here." He added, "Student life is all business."

Shaver and his friend were guided everywhere by an In-Tourist guide who never let the men out of sight. "He even went in the men's room with us," Shaver said. "There are many churches," he continued, "and all are filled."

A personal contact with dictators came when the two Californians assisted a family of refugees across the Austria-Hungarian border into the American sector of Germany.

Faculty UF Sum For Week—$2200

The United Fund drive among San Jose State faculty members netted $2200 during the first week of the month-long campaign, UF Chairman Scott Norwood, associate professor of business, said yesterday.

This is a marked increase over last year's drive when the amount reached for the entire month was $8600. The 1959 goal, he added, is $9700.

The drive, continuing until Oct. 31, currently has a total pledge of $5700. But this figure, Professor Norwood said, represents payroll deductions in effect from last year's drive.

"I'm very grateful for the work of last year's committee," he said, "and the willingness of the faculty members who have given so generously thus far."

DOCK INJUNCTION ISSUED

NEW YORK (UPI)—Federal Judge Irving Kaufman late yesterday issued a Taft-Hartley injunction that ordered 85,000 striking longshoremen to return to work at East and Gulf Coast ports.

The injunction halted the eight-day strike for an 80-day "cooling off" period. It was issued at near-record speed after President Eisenhower invoked the Taft-Hartley Law Tuesday.

The International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) opposed the injunction, but said it would comply with it. Longshoremen from Maine to Texas were expected to resume work today at piers jammed with tons of cargo.

VAN DOREN INVITED

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Charles Van Doren, who won $129,000 and national fame on the old TV quiz program "21," has been invited to testify before House investigators but has not yet replied, Rep. Harris (D-Ark.) disclosed yesterday.

Harris, chairman of the House Commerce Subcommittee investigating charges that some quiz programs were rigged, said the invitation was sent to Van Doren Wednesday night. Harris indicated he was surprised that Van Doren had not replied promptly.

BAGHDAD HAS JITTERS

BAGHDAD, IRAQ (UPI) — Armored cars took up stations throughout Baghdad yesterday following the wounding of Premier Abdel Karim Kassem in an assassination attempt.

The government also lengthened the evening curfew three hours to help prevent any public flare-up resulting from Wednesday's shooting.

The public was warned that police would begin enforcing a ban on meetings of more than five persons which has existed here without observance for some time.

Entries for the Homecoming Queen contest are due by 5 p.m. today at the Student Activities Office, Adm-242, with more than 30 candidates anticipated.

Sallie Hernandez, Homecoming Queen chairman, said sponsoring organizations may submit queen contestant entry blanks with three glossy photos of the candidate until the 5 p.m. deadline today.

The student election to choose 10 semi-finalists will be Oct. 22 and 23. Candidates are to meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 13, at the Student Union to draw for position on the ballot.

Students interested in working on the Queen's committee should attend the meeting Tuesday night to receive instructions, Miss Hernandez said.

Late entries in the novelty division of the Homecoming parade also may be submitted at the Activities Office.

Parade entries are expected to be about double last year's 32 units. Bill Moore, parade chairman, said some 50 units are expected to enter the parade.

A Western theme will carry out the Homecoming activities leading up to the Spartans match with the Wyoming Cowpokes at 8 p.m., Nov. 7.

About 30,000 spectators are expected to watch the Homecoming parade which begins at 5 p.m. Nov. 7.

'Inadequate Facilities' Spartan Trailer Court To Shutter Next Year

The Spartan City Trailer Court will be closed next July 1 because of inadequate facilities and insufficient funds, Housing Manager Richard Murphy said yesterday.

The college has tried to keep the 15 units self-supporting, but the Spartan City housing development has had to carry the load for the past few years, Mr. Murphy said. The trailer court has depended on the housing for one-half or more of its support.

The rents were raised to the state-allowed maximum, but this was still not enough to make the court pay for itself.

Mr. Murphy said the court was built when trailers were much smaller. The facilities are not adequate for modern trailers, he said.

Spaces have become crowded, creating a fire hazard, and the sewage connections are not up to standard, Mr. Murphy continued.

Another factor in the forthcoming discontinuation of the development, Mr. Murphy said, was continued operation contrary to city ordinances. The court was built some time ago in what was then an unincorporated area. Since that time the city has taken over and local regulations have changed.

Such things as fence size, spacing of trailers, and open burning are directly against city regulations, Murphy explained.

The trailer court was annexed to Spartan City in 1951. It was originally a tennis court. It has been open to all married students with their own trailers.

Student Court Bids Open 'Til Tuesday

Applications for three positions on the SJS Student Court will be accepted until Tuesday, Chief Justice Jerry Alexander announced today.

The three internal offices to be filled are corresponding secretary and two recording secretaries.

Recording secretaries act as court clerks, taking down court proceedings and filing them. The other secretary will handle all correspondence for the campus legal body.

Applicants for the positions must take shorthand and be free after 2:30 on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. An overall grade point average of 2.5 and at least a 2.2 for the previous semester are required.

Students may get applications at the Student Union now. Interviews will be given Tuesday.

"Members of any class can apply," Alexander said. "Lower classmen are welcome."

Ad Seminar Begins Today for Newsmen

Seventy-five advertising salesmen from newspapers throughout California will be in San Jose today and tomorrow to attend an advertising seminar sponsored by the California Newspaper Publishers' Assn.

The seminar, under the direction of the SJS Department of Journalism and Advertising, is in Newman Hall, 79 S. Fifth St. It began with registration at 8:30 a.m.

Faculty members who have planned the seminar include Dr. Dwight Bentel, Journalism and Advertising Department head and chairman of the CNPPA Advertising Seminar committee; Carl R. Hoffmann, professor of advertising; and Charles E. Marshall, associate professor of advertising.

Dr. Bentel and CNPA Pres. Carroll Parcher, editor and publisher of the Glendale News-Press, welcomed the participants this morning.

Lectures, demonstrations, round table and panel discussions on such topics as salesmanship, selling problems, copy and layout, market analysis and production are being presented.

The seminar will end at noon on Saturday.

Professor Organizing Academy

By DEANNE BOOMER

An Anne Frank Academy open to students of every nation and with the purpose of creating tomorrow's world leaders, is in the process of organization by Dr. William Hermanns, associate professor of German.

jer, leader of the new Anne Frank organization in Amsterdam. Mrs. Wijsmuller had saved, by bribery and trick, over 10,000 Jewish children from the Nazis during World War II. Dr. Hermanns spoke with her twice in Holland.

A West German government official has promised to appoint Alexander von Hase, a young historian as corresponding secretary of the West German government to Dr. Hermanns.

Tests Tomorrow

Personnel tests required by the college will be given tomorrow in CH149 beginning at 7:45 a.m., Robert S. Martin, associate dean of students, has announced.

Students with questions concerning the tests should contact the Student Personnel Office, Adm201.

The battery of tests are usually taken before registration but about 100 students have not met the requirement.

LISTS MEMBERSHIP PLANS

In his letters, Dr. Hermanns outlined his plan for membership.

1. Membership would be for young people of at least twelve years upwards.
2. Membership would be open to youths of outstanding ability in the fields of art, science and leadership.
3. The members would be divided into two age groups: 12-19 and 20-30. There would be a group of older persons which would include advisers, sponsors and patrons.
4. The group would include people of all races and creeds and would work toward world brotherhood and a "United Nations of Youth."

President Eisenhower forwarded his letter to the State Department which advised Dr. Hermanns to publish a brochure or prospectus defining the purpose and organization of the proposed academy.

"Students of every nation would be allowed membership," said Dr. Hermanns. "Even Russians will be invited. However, it will be made clear in the prospectus that members of the academy must accept as a primary condition that man has a soul."

SUPPORT RECEIVED

President Heuss has given 100,000 marks to restore the house in Amsterdam in which Anne hid when she wrote her diary.

Mrs. Roosevelt has agreed to let Dr. Hermanns use her name as a patron.

Queen Juliana gave him the name of Mrs. G. Wijsmuller-Meijer.

Von Hase's father, commander general of Berlin immediately previous to World War II, was hanged by Hitler.

Dr. Hermanns said, "The concept of the Anne Frank Academy for peace-loving youth of the world came to me last summer at the International Youth Festival in Vienna."

Conservatives Lead in Returns

LONDON (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's Conservatives jumped into an early lead late yesterday on first returns from a record turnout in the general elections for control of the government.

With 630 seats in the House of Commons at stake, the Conservatives had 36 to 29 for Labor. The Conservatives were running ahead in the popular vote, 1,171,408 to 1,049,793 for the Laborites.

However, when he learned that the East German Republic had made a movie of Anne Frank's persecution and death, in an attempt to prove that the Gestapo officers who headed the concentration camp in which Anne Frank died were now in high government positions in West Germany, he read the book.

"I was startled that a 13-year-old girl had such insight into human behavior. I felt that the book was inspired and had a mission to fulfill."

Speaking to various religious and international student groups on campus, Dr. Hermanns was encouraged by the reception of his idea. He wrote several letters to, among others, President Eisenhower, Queen Juliana of the Netherlands and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

Mrs. Roosevelt had written the preface to the English translation of the diary.

"The positive answers to the letters encouraged me to spend my vacation in Holland, Germany, England and Switzerland."

Letters? We Get Letters

We're delighted at the number of students expressing views in the Thrust & Parry section even though a large percentage of them are hinting that the editor doesn't know what he's talking about.

The trend in America really does seem to be away from expressing and defending views. The fact that a number of students here are not following that trend is good.

Even when the views are that we're all wet.

Our feeling on that score is this: In line with traditional newspaper practice, the editor and staff members express views in the editorial columns. It is only fair that other students be given an opportunity to say what they think also.

So as long as letters are not libelous or unnecessarily derogatory, they'll be printed—without any rebuttal from us and with a headline indicating what the writer thinks, not what we think.

Writer Charges U.S. With Germ Production

EDITOR: The last sentence in the editorial recently entitled "No Satire Necessary," somewhat amuses me, because it reveals an ignorance that is typical in our society.

This summer, I participated in an Appeal at Fort Detrick (Frederick, Md.), A Call to Stop Preparation for Biological Warfare. At Fort Detrick the United States Government is engaged in production of germs and toxins for biological warfare. Devices for extensive spreading of those germs and toxins have been perfected and produced in large quantities.

For the past year, officers of the Army Chemical Corps have been engaged in a campaign to persuade Congress that preparations for chemical and biological warfare should be accelerated. Now these officers have launched a propaganda campaign to persuade the American public that biological and chemical weapons should be approved for retaliatory and offensive war.

In the light of this information I challenge the Spartan Daily staff to find out what is happening behind the gates of the army base at Fort Detrick and to let our campus community know the facts about what is happening right under our apathetic noses.

I might even invite a reply from some of our Army ROTC brethren.

More Fort Detrick; Ad Editorial Blasted

EDITOR: Wednesday's editorial concerning the ad for engineers, mathematicians, and scientists ended with this charming bit of naivete: "But we doubt that any research is being conducted that would remotely come under the classification of scientific warfare of the kind hinted at in that ad."

As a matter of fact, just that type of research is being done at Fort Detrick, Md.

Nor is this something that the U.S. is just beginning to explore, for the British paper "Peace News" quotes Brig. Gen. J. H. Rothschild, former commanding general of the U. S. Chemical Corps Research and Development Command, as saying:

"America's chemical and biological weapons are quite as potent as its nuclear weapons. A single ounce of the toxic agent known as 'Q fever' would be sufficient to infect 28 billion people."

It would seem that the ad had some basis in fact and that the U.S. conducts research in the field of microbiology for purposes other than that of trying to prevent diseases.

Repeat 'Pledge,' Find Country a Republic

EDITOR: I don't know who Mr. Haws' political science instructor is, but I'm afraid he has misinformed Mr. Haws. The United States is in fact a republic. My former political science teacher said so, and I believe it to be so, also.

I suggest Mr. Haws repeat to himself the Pledge of Allegiance; especially the part that goes, "and to the republic for which it stands." A quick check of the Declaration of Independence, the Articles of Confederation, and the Constitution will show no trace of the word "democracy."

I also would like to comment on the excellent editorial in the same paper entitled "No Satire Necessary." I think it was well written and to the point. It's hard to believe that students actually contributed money to something like that, when they could have donated the money to the United Fund or some other worthy cause.

The Gay Life

By JOANNE OSMAN
News Editor

Movies, dancing, golfing, dinners out, football games—where to begin this gay weekend?

One happy spot would be the Longshoremen's Auditorium near Fishermen's Wharf in San Francisco either tonight to tomorrow when the swinging trumpet of Louis Armstrong blows into town for two performances each night—One will be at 8:30, one at 12 midnight.

Those who don't care for the gravel-throated singing of Mr. Armstrong will find the Patricia Morison "Gay '90's Nite" right in tune. Tomorrow night's show begins at 8:30 in the San Jose Civic Auditorium where a company of 50 dancers, singers and musicians will gather to present the same show that was performed at the Hollywood Bowl this summer.

Ever see a "Pink Jungle?" If not, now's your chance, for Wednesday evening the Alcazar Theatre in San Francisco presents Ginger Rogers in a new comedy-musical, "The Pink Jungle." Produced by Paul Gregory, the musical also stars Agnes Moorehead and Lief Erickson and will run until Nov. 7. Tickets run from $3.20 to $6.50 and can be ordered by mail.

Tonight is opening night for a Theater-in-the-Round style production of "Reclining Figure" at the King DoDo Playhouse on the grounds of the Hawaiian Gardens in San Jose. A semi-professional acting company will perform in the play which is a satire on art collectors and dealers. Curtain time is 8:30. Special student rates.

and tickets are available at the door.

I dislike apologies, but an apology must be made to those enthusiastic students who went gaily out to Santa Clara University to hear Dr. S. I. Hayakawa last Tuesday. Dr. Hayakawa was speaking at San Jose City College. "The Gay Life" was in error.

For moviegoers, "The FBI Story" plays Tuesday at the UA Theater and a benefit premier will be held which will be attended by many Hollywood stars. The film stars James Stewart.

The Mayfair has "A Hole in the Head" and "Last Train from Gun Hill" co-featured, and the Towne on the Alameda, is playing "Lady Chatterly's Lover." AND—the Student Affairs Business Office has free theater discount cards for students, so what's holding you back???

"BITE THE HAND"

Edmund Burke first noted that some men will bite "the hand that fed them". But Mark Twain, in "Pudd'nhead Wilson", refined the observation and made it biting: "If you pick up a starving dog and make him prosperous, he will not bite you. This is the principal difference between a dog and a man."

"PRAISE THE LORD AND ETC."

Perhaps the most popular remark to come out of World War II is this exhortation made at Pearl Harbor by Lt. Comm. Howell M. Forgy, a Navy chaplain: "Praise the Lord and pass the ammunition."

It was Thomas Gray who coined this comforting generalization in behalf of all "D" students. See his "On a Distant Prospect of Eton College": "...where ignorance is bliss, 'Tis folly to be wise."

English Prof Pens Novel, 'Constant Star'—Success

By PHYLLIS MACKALL
Art and Music Editor

"The Constant Star," successful novel by Dr. Dorothy Foote, is an example of what womanly persistence can accomplish.

"It seemed to me that it was a story that just had to be told," Dr. Foote said.

Dr. Foote, associate professor of English at SJS, is an expert in Shakespeare and the Elizabethan Age. She came upon the plot for her novel 10 years ago while doing research for her doctorate.

She said she first became fascinated with the book's heroine, Frances Walsingham, by reading of her father, Sir Francis Walsingham, who was principal secretary to Elizabeth.

"What a woman this must have been to have married two of the greatest men in Elizabethan England," Dr. Foote thought. Since then she has spent years "trying to track down information about her."

Since information was sketchy she decided "if I can't find out about her, I'll create her life." She said, "But I tried not to stretch

After another complete revision during the summer of 1958, she felt it was the way she wanted it. Through all the revisions "I never lost my fervor for the story itself," she said.

She then submitted the finished manuscript to Scribners. They accepted it—quite an accomplishment for an unknown writer.

The book was published this summer and has been a "notable success." When 3000 copies of a book are sold, the book is considered to be a "success;" when 5000 are sold, a "notable success," Dr. Foote explained.

Five thousand copies were sold during the first six weeks of publication. The book now is in its second printing, and two movie studios are considering it.

In addition, Library Journal chose Dr. Foote to be one of three new novelists to be featured in its latest publication.

NEW NOVEL SET
Dr. Foote now is planning a second romantic historical novel; this one is to be about Sir Walter Raleigh and his wife, Bess Throckmorton. She says this book will have "more substance."

She believes Raleigh has been "terribly neglected and not properly appreciated. Queen Elizabeth wasted his talent and King James deliberately planned his execution."

Although research for the book has been completed, she said she will not have time to work on it until next summer. She estimated the book will take her two years to complete.

The popular professor noted that her students are enthusiastic about the novel and tell her when they see it in local bookstores.

Commenting on her literary plunge and the fine success of her novel, Dr. Foote concluded: "I'm just overwhelmed!"

Division of Education Adds 18 to Faculty

Applications Due

Applications for Sophomore class committee chairmen are due today.

Positions of chairman for the Financial, Public Relations, and Program Committees are open. The position of secretary and treasurer are also open.

Applications may be picked up in the Student Union. After filling them out, they should be placed in the "S" box, according to Bob Gangi, class president.

Coed Earns Hawaii Trip From Airline

A Hawaiian holiday is in store for Pattie Mattern, San Jose State song girl, because she has been selected by Pan American World Airways to act as campus representative at SJS until her graduation in June.

As representative of the airline, her duties will be to acquaint women students with the Pan American training program by speaking to women's living groups and organizations.

Miss Mattern will receive the trip to Hawaii after she is graduated.

Various administrators on campus were asked to select girls active in student affairs. These girls were interviewed and asked to write letters describing the program they would use to stimulate interest, should they be chosen campus representative.

Women students who wish to contact Miss Mattern about careers may leave messages at box "M" in the Student Union.

Miss Mattern, a senior at SJS, is majoring in social science. She is Rally Committee secretary, vice president of her sorority, Kappa Alpha Theta, and also has a 3.3 grade point average.

Pennies a Day

Want to see the Spartans play the Rainbows in Hawaii next year for only pennies a day?

Well—er—only 100 pennies a day for the next year.

The seven-day tour will include plane tickets, hotel accommodations, side trips to Pearl Harbor and other areas, and a cocktail party for the paltry sum of $335. Food is extra.

Students can deposit $7 each week for the next 50 weeks at the Bank of California, Second and San Carlos Sts., and will receive $350 in time for the departure next year.

Transportation will be with the team in a jet reserved especially for the tour. The trip is being sponsored by radio station KEEN, San Jose, which broadcasts Spartan games.

Do you think that the old saw "an apple a day keeps the doctor away" is (A) simply a trick to get you to eat apples? (B) rough on the doctor? (C) a health precept that can apply to other fruit, too? (D) apoplexy?

A ☐ B ☐ C ☐ D ☐

Would you choose a filter cigarette because (A) of what is said about the tobacco? (B) you could hardly tell the filter is there? (C) it has the most advanced filter design? (D) it claims to filter well because it tastes weak?

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration banned the use of 17 common lipstick coloring substances this week. The order said animal experiments have shown that the 17 coal tar colors, also used in drugs and in other cosmetics, are potentially harmful if allowed to enter the human digestive system.

The order goes into effect in about 90 days unless the cosmetic industry makes a successful appeal for a hearing.

S. L. Mayham, executive vice president of the Toilet Goods Assn., said the industry would appeal to F.D.A. He said the group had "plenty" of technical evidence that the amount of lipstick digested by women was "completely insignificant" and could cause no harm.

The cosmetic industry has argued such a ban would severely limit the variety of its lipstick color offerings.

Officials explained that the colors in question had produced such injuries as anemia and liver ailments, and they sometimes had affected the growth rate of animals.

Maybe some of the 90 per cent of U.S. women over 12 who wear lipstick will begin stockpiling some of their favorite shades for fear they won't be available in the future. Wouldn't it seem unusual not to see any more reds or pinks?

Here's a hint for the drive-in movie enthusiasts who have dirty windshields. Keep an old nylon stocking in the car glove compartment to clean off windshields. The abrasive nylon will do the job in a hurry.

If men and rats have anything in common, nibbling all day long may be healthier than eating three full meals daily. Dr. Clarence Cohn, of Chicago's Michael Reese Research Institute, reports that rats permitted to nibble food during the day picked up about 10 per cent total body fat. Rats fed meals by stomach tube three times a day averaged 17 per cent fatty deposits.

Who knows? This may be an important clue to obesity.

When taking garments out of moth-ball storage, tumble them in an automatic dryer with no heat for a few minutes. This will help remove the odor of the moth balls.

For a tasty treat which requires little work and no cooking, make an ice cream pie in a hurry by lining a refrigerator tray with graham crackers or cookie crumbs, and freeze ice cream in tray. At serving time, cut diagonally into pie-shaped wedges. Note: this recipe is especially tasty as a mid-night snack.

Want an attractive palm-like plant without paying a fortune for it? Try planting a pineapple top in a jar of water. It will sprout and take root.

PINNINGS

CAROL SOLDVINI passed the traditional candle Monday night to announce to her Sigma Kappa sisters her pinning to SID THOMPSON, senior marketing major, from Bakersfield. Carol, senior medical social worker, from San Francisco, was serenaded by Sid's Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

SHEILA TORT announced her pinning to ROY SILCOX, to her Alpha Phi sorority sisters by passing a candle with a sailor doll attached to it. Sheila is a senior nursing major from Coyote. Roy, a business administration major from Oakland, is in the Navy O.C.S. He is in the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

ENGAGEMENTS

CHERYL PUGMIRE surprised members of Gamma Phi Beta when she blew out the traditional candle to announce her engagement to LUKE STAMOS. Miss Pugmire is a senior education major from Sutter Creek, while Stamos, a member of Alpha Tau Omega, is a senior commercial art major from Sunnyvale. A spring wedding is planned.

The traditional trumpet sounded at midnight at the Catholic Women's Center announcing the engagement of PAT NOIA and ED LUCEY. No definite wedding plans have been made for Miss Noia, a senior general education major from Alvarado, and Lucey, a sophomore industrial design major, from Martinez. Lucey attends the Art Center School in Los Angeles.

Oregon's Defense Vs. SJS' Passing

By GREGORY H. BROWN
Sports Editor

San Jose State's Golden Raiders, sixth ranked in the nation in passing, will attempt to upend the undefeated Oregon University Webfoots in Spartan Stadium tonight. Kickoff time is 8 p.m.

Coach Bob Titchenal has "high hopes" that his men can turn the Ducks back on their webbed feet, something Stanford, Utah State and Washington State failed to do earlier this year. "We'll be meeting a team with a tremendous amount of poise," Titchenal summed up. Many of their players are tried and tested Rose Bowl veterans and they have a great deal of experience on their side.

"We're not out of it by a long shot however," stamped the State football coach. Titchenal believes that the Ducks are the strongest defensive team the Spartans will meet all year.

TOUGH DEFENSE

To bear this out, the Oregon eleven held its opponents to a mere 50 points in 10 games last year in winning but four games.

GIL THE SOX PILL—Gil Hodges earns his series loot by parking a slider pitch of Dick Donovan's into the left center stands at the Coliseum. Hodges' blow gave the Dodgers the fourth game of the Series and his all-around play and hitting sparked the Dodger series triumph.

This year and I would rate them on an even level with the Oregon second team," Titchenal stated. The Spartans first unit should be well rested for this one, having played but 12 minutes against Hawaii.

"They'll have to be on their toes, however, to slow down Oregon's devastating running game centered around Willie West, all conference last year, and Art Powell, the smashing fullback.

Herb Yamasaki is the lone lineup change that Titchenal has installed for tonight's game. Yamasaki replaces Hank Chamness at center-linebacker.

Top Teams Play Weekend Games

It's upset-city this weekend as many close and exciting football games will grace the college circles. Trying to pick some of these games is the first good step to a weekend headache.

The number one team in the nation, Louisiana State University will have a tough time with Miami of Florida but the three deep team of Paul Dietzal should win and resume their top rating next week.

Northwestern, who has come up with a strong team and a possible Rose Bowl contender, is the choice in the Minnesota fracas. The Wildcats lost their first string quarterback, Dick Thornton on the first play of last week's game against Iowa and still won 14-10.

The Texas-Oklahoma game is the hardest game of the week to prognosticate. Texas is the number four team in the nation and hasn't been scored on in three games this season. Last week they made cubs out of the California Bears, winning by a 33-0 score.

Bud Wilkinson's Sooners were beaten badly by Northwestern in the first game. A little food-poisoning trouble plagued the Sooners

Dodgers Take It! Bomb Sox, 9-3

The Los Angeles Dodgers completed the greatest comeback in baseball history when they beat Chicago's White Sox 9-3 to win the World Series yesterday and became the first team ever to finish seventh one year and win the world championship the next.

Thus the West Coast has its first championship after having the Dodgers and Giants out here for the second year and it couldn't have happened in a more sensational manner.

Duke Snider started it all with a two-run homer off Early Wynn in the third inning, but in the fourth—one of the longest and most unimaginable in series annals—the Dodgers scored six times, the White Sox three, and between them they sent 19 men to bat and used five pitchers. The only one of the five who did any good was none other than

Film Lecture Sunday By Mexico Explorer

A film lecture by Romain Wilhelmsen entitled "Legend of the Sierra Madre" will open the Sunday Evening Community Forum 1959-60 lecture series Sunday night at 7:30 at Woodrow Wilson Junior High.

Wilhelmsen's subject is about a region in Mexico which is a previously unexplored area in the northern Sierra Madre Mountain range, only 400 miles south of the Arizona border.

Into this area, in 1532, came the Spanish conquistador, Diego Hurtado, in search of the fabled Seven Cities of Cibola. He disappeared completely in the mountains along with his army of 30 Spanish knights.

Wilhelmsen has devoted two years to the study and exploration of this region and has brought back his final solution to the lost army of Spain.

Tickets are $1.50 each and may be purchased at the Sainte Claire or De Anza hotels in San Jose, the Lyndon Hotel in Los Gatos or at the auditorium door on the evening of the event.

Former British Prime Minister Clement Attlee heads the list of other world-famous lecturers who will appear in San Jose during the Sunday Evening Forum's sixth season.

A new plan for financing the popular series has been announced: For the first time, season tickets will be sold, replacing the freewill offerings of the past.

Season's tickets for the series six programs are priced at $8 a piece, $15 a pair, and $45.00 for students. Checks should be made payable to the Sunday Evening Community Forum, Box 1247, San Jose.

After Game Dance

An after game dance will be held tonight at the Wesley Foundation, 205 E. Santa Clara St.

The cost will be 25 cents per person and 40 cents per couple. The dance will last until one a.m.

TOO THIN TO TEACH

DENVER (UPI)—Marilinda Mason's 117 pounds may be distributed well enough to make her a bonafide beauty queen, but Denver public school authorities say the Miss Colorado of 1960 is too thin to teach.

Marilinda is 5' 6 1/2" tall. The nationally recognized health standards, says this means she would have to weigh at least 124 pounds to get a permanent teaching job.
