Council Acts—

Modified Dead Week Policy Gets Approval

After considering a recommendation by the Student Council in March, the student-faculty Examination Committee and the President's Council disclosed today a "modified" Dead Week program.

Effective at SJS during fall semester finals week, the new program will give most students an extra half-day to study for their final examinations.

Classes will end 10 p.m., the Wednesday immediately prior to the beginning of the examination period. Thursday will be free except for final examinations in English A, English 1A, 4:30 p.m. (group 2), and Thursday evening classes, which will be held Thursday afternoon and evening.

Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday immediately preceding the first day of finals, no co-curricular activities shall be scheduled and instructors are not to schedule any examinations or require major work papers.

On the day before finals, quiet hours shall be rigidly enforced in all college approved living centers.

Originally recommended by the Student Council was a week-long program. According to Sophomore Representative Bob Pisano, the Council requested that all classes be cancelled the Wednesday prior to the Thursday finals.

Registration Fee Payments Begin Today

Pay now. Avoid the rush later. Students are urged to pay their $45.50 registration fees and to turn in cards 1, 2, 3 and 11, Korean Veteran Study List card, and all class cards at Morris Dailey Auditorium as early as possible to avoid the rush.

Starting today at 8 a.m., registration tables will be open until 4 p.m. and from 5 to 8 p.m. The last day for the turning in of registration materials and fees is Wednesday at 4 p.m.

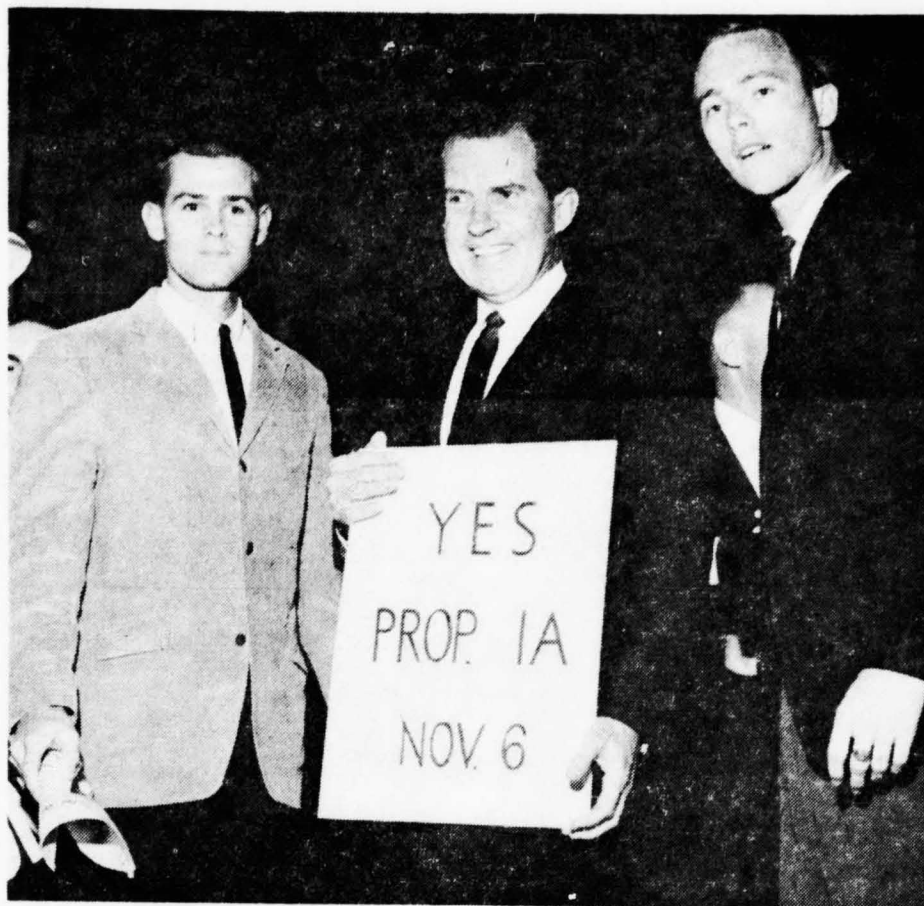

Those students who have classes which meet only on Wednesday or Thursday nights may turn in their registration materials, if they have not already done so, at 5-8 p.m. on Wednesday and Thursday.

A late turn-in fee of five dollars will be charged to turn in registration materials after Wednesday at 8 p.m. The only exceptions will be those students who have classes which meet only on Wednesday or Thursday evenings.

No registration fees will be accepted after Friday.

The deadline date to drop courses is October 5.

Clark Releases Book Talk List

A full agenda of book reviews by campus professors has been announced by this year's book talk program series chairman, Dr. James J. Clark.

Dr. Clark, assistant professor of English, stated that the weekly reviews will be held in Cafeteria rooms A and B, at 12:30 p.m. each Wednesday.

The book talk series will lead off Oct. 3 with Dr. Glenn G. Morgan, assistant professor of Political Science reviewing "The Siege of Leningrad" written by Leon Goure.

On Oct. 10, "Freedom and Responsibility in the American Way of Life" by Carl L. Becker will be reviewed by Dr. Charles M. Larsen, assistant professor of mathematics.

Mrs. Suzanne E. Wiggins, assistant professor of economics, will discuss on Oct. 17 "Conservatism in America: The Thankless Persuasion" by Clinton Rossiter.

"LORD OF FLIES" by William Golding will be reviewed Oct. 24 by Dr. Albert Rosenberg, associate professor of English.

Donald R. Ferris, associate professor of elementary education, will discuss on Oct. 31 Leonard Bloomfield and Clarence Barnhardt's book "Let's Read: A Linguistic Approach."

Barbara Tuckman's work "The Guns of August" will be reviewed Nov. 7 by Dr. Dudley T. Moorhead, Dean of Humanities and Arts.

"The Marquis Went Out at Five" by Claude Mauriac will be spotlighted Nov. 21 when it is discussed by Dr. Helen H. Macaire, assistant professor of English.

H. Arthur Hoverland, assistant professor of management, will review Alan Barth's "The Loyalty of Free Men" Nov. 28.

PLAY DISCUSSED
Richard Bolt's play, "Man of Four Seasons" will be discussed by Elizabeth Loeffler, associate professor of drama, Dec. 5.

"Times of Crisis" by Allan Nevins will be the book of the day Dec. 12 when Dr. William R. Rogers, professor of education, takes the reviewing stand.

Jan. 9, Dr. James E. Blackwell, assistant professor of sociology, will present a discussion of the book "Delinquent Boys: The Culture of the Gang" written by Albert K. Cohen.

Final to the fall semester book series will be a review by Dr. Walter E. Hugins, assistant professor of history, on the book by Louis Hartz, "The Liberal Tradition in America."

Football Tickets

Student tickets for the SJS Spartan-Cal game at Berkeley, Saturday are available today in the Student Affairs Business Office, TH16.

Only students with student body cards may obtain tickets, and only one ticket may be obtained with each card.

Robert Orem Resigns As Film Series Head

Robert Orem, professor of English, and director of the classic film series since its inception two years ago, has announced his resignation as coordinator of the weekly film program.

David Cram, coordinator of the audio-visual utilization services, will take over the responsibility of the program and replace Professor Orem as director.

Professor Orem declared that trying to handle a full teaching program and the pressures of the classic films series proved to be too much.

A request was made to the administration asking for released time from one of his classes to direct the film program, he said.

He was informed, according to Orem that it was simply a question of having no one to fill the gap if he dropped one of his classes.

PROGRAM MAY COLLAPSE

Since he tried to persuade several other members of the English department faculty to take over the direction of the series without success, he said he feared the program would collapse if he left it.

The classic films series began under Orem as a Shakespearean series. It grew rapidly in attendance and was broadened in scope to include a wide variety of films.

Last semester 11 double showings of each film presentation were given to an average audience of 800.

Two films had turned away audiences of over 1000.

TAKES 200 HOURS

Professor Orem declared that directing the classic film series took about 200 hours each semester, handling such duties as budgets, reservations, locating films, scheduling, publicity and the frequent emergencies that occur.

The classic films program is sponsored jointly by the ASB Spartan Programs Committee and the Audio-Visual Center.

Though Professor Orem resigned he had already completed a schedule of films for the current semester.

Eleven programs will again be offered. The series is scheduled to begin October 3 with a showing of "Sadko" Rimsky-Korsakov's fairy tale opera in Russian with English subtitles.

SJS Fund Raising Drive to Continue For Quake Victims

The fund raising campaign for Iranian earthquake victims continues through tomorrow in front of the Spartan Cafeteria.

The drive is sponsored by the college Inter-Cultural Council acting on behalf of the Confederation of Iranian Students in Iran.

Last month's earthquake left more than 100,000 persons homeless in 175 Iranian villages, according to Manouchehr Rad, an SJS student and programming chairman for the Iranian Students of Northern California.

Ultimate goal of this nationwide drive, Rad said, is to help build some 15,000 homes in devastated areas.

Additional funds may be sent to account number 0305-05035, Crocker-Anglo National Bank, Berkeley, Calif. Checks should be made out to Earthquake Relief Fund for Iran.

Frosh Petitions

Freshmen candidates for the four Student Council representative seats may obtain petitions at the College Union, 315 S. Ninth St., today, according to Carleton Parks, acting election board chairman.

Petitions which require the signature of 50 freshmen students may be obtained from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The petitions are due back at the College Union, Friday, Sept. 28, at 4 p.m. and 5.

Freshmen elections will be Thursday and Friday, Oct. 4 and 5.

AWS Information At College Union

Women students interested in AWS work may gain further information at a meeting tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. in the AWS lounge of the College Union.

AWS cabinet and committee chairwomen will be introduced.

Interested students may join committees planning some of the year's activities including Spartan Sing.

'New Name' Proposal Meets With Objection

A proposal aimed at changing the names of California's 18 state colleges has met with opposition here at San Jose State College.

Submitted by Trustee Charles Luckman at a Board of Trustees meeting in July, the proposal would abolish existing designations for a more uniform name, similar to the University of California.

San Jose State College, for example, would be renamed California State College—San Jose. Similarly, each state college would be renamed with its geographical location after the official title.

EMPHATIC 'NO'

Opposition, by the Advisory Board and Alumni Association, emphatically turned down the proposal.

L. D. Bohnett, chairman of the Advisory Board, informed SJS Pres. John T. Wahlquist that a limited survey unanimously opposed the proposal.

"It would tend to destroy the individuality of each of the state colleges," Bohnett said.

"The general consensus appears to be that the existing name is preferred until 'state college' can be changed to 'university.'"

William Eckert, president of the Alumni Association, also indicated disapproval of the proposal.

'NO INDIVIDUALITY'

"The proposed change may be beneficial administratively but is not conducive to maintaining the individuality of San Jose State College," he told the president of the college.

ASB Pres. Bill Hauck also turned down the proposal.

"I don't like it," he said. "I'm not at all excited about the idea." Hauck indicated that he would be more receptive to a proposal that included a change to "state university," instead.

Opposition from members of the Board of Trustees was apparent at a meeting held last month.

Board President Louis Heilbron and Trustee Roy Simpson, state superintendent of public instruction, both said they opposed the idea.

The board, however, did not take formal action but directed that study be continued on the subject.

Charter Coaches Will Haul Students To Berkeley Tilt

Chartered Greyhound buses will be available to transport students to the Sept. 29 game in Berkeley, according to Bob Weers, ASB executive secretary. Both game tickets and bus tickets are available at the Student Affairs Business Office, TH16.

Game tickets are free upon presentation of student body cards. Bus tickets will be sold for $1.75 per person, Weers said.

The buses will leave at 11:30 a.m., Saturday, from Eighth street, near the women's dorms and will return around 6 p.m., depending on the length of the game.

Bus ticket sales close Wednesday, due to a two-day bus reservation requirement, Weers indicated.

'63 La Torre Staff Asks for Pictures Of Honor Students

The La Torre staff is asking all students named President's scholars to come to the photography lab in the journalism building to have their pictures taken for this year's annual.

The staff reports the 1963 edition will be the "best" La Torre ever put out by the staff. Among new features are the senior section in full color, pictures of freshmen, sophomores, and juniors, pictures of dorm student life and complete coverage of the music department.

Other firsts include a special section for honor students, more pages than past yearbooks, professional artwork, and a special section for candid photos. Regular features will also be included.

Dr. Mishoff New Prof In Library

Dr. Willard O. Mishoff, new faculty member, recently was named associate professor of librarianship. He brings with him to San Jose State a professional background of 32 years in the field of librarianship.

One of his more recent positions was consultant from 1943 to 1958 for the Library of Congress in Washington, D.C. After retiring, he became director of the library at Mississippi State College for Women in Columbus, Miss.

Dr. Mishoff worked this summer as a visiting lecturer in library science at Florida State University, Tallahassee, Fla.

Although Dr. Mishoff has held positions in 19 states and the District of Columbia, he has benefited from moving around because of the vast number of friends he has acquired.

Now that he has settled in San Jose, Dr. Mishoff sees SJS as a school with an "outstanding department of library science for the training of school librarians."

SJS students appear to him to be "courteous, serious, and some even have their noses in their books. They all seem to have a great interest in higher education," concludes Dr. Mishoff.

Senior Cadet Rush Wins ROTC Position

Senior cadet Wayne A. Rush from Hayward has been appointed battalion commander of the Army ROTC corps of cadets for the fall semester.

As battalion commander, Rush automatically assumes the rank of cadet lieutenant colonel. His duties include responsibility for the organization, training and appearance of over 350 cadets, who have registered in Army ROTC this semester.

The 20-year-old zoology major was a member of Spartan Shields as a sophomore, and is presently a member of Blue Key, both campus honor organizations. He was selected for command on the basis of academic excellence, relative ROTC standing, and performance at summer camp.

On the selection made, Lt. Col.

Edwin T. Rios, head of the military science department, said "Mr. Rush reflects the finer capabilities of American youth. He is well trained mentally and physically, and motivated by the highest ideals of service to his country and his fellow man."

Assisting Rush with his duties will be William T. Poulos, executive officer; Allan E. Harris, adjutant; Carl L. Disher, intelligence officer; Albert E. Carlson, training officer and William R. Dias, supply officer.

All of these cadets recently completed the six-week ROTC summer camp at Fort Lewis, Wash. The camp provides the cadets with an opportunity to further develop their leadership skills, and to sharpen their knowledge of tactics, weapons and other techniques of military science.

Love That Reg. Day

All of us recently have gone through a little combat called registration. Stimulating wasn't it?

The only trouble was, that the wrong parts of me got stimulated. Take my toe for instance. It is now the veteran of seven stomps. Four of them were from those jazzy spiked heels our women wear.

At this writing, there is no medal being offered for the Registration Line Theater of War, but someday there may be. It seems an unnecessary part of college life. What good does it accomplish? Well, we do get our classes. Hooray!

We get the classes only if we are lucky enough to get into the gyms soon enough. However, there are 2,000 students yearly who have to take some courses they did not want because they were too late for sign-up.

Who says San Jose State students cause a lot of trouble? Well, we do have our weak moments.

But, consider the enterprising vacationer at Palm Springs several Easter holidays ago. This fine student owned a mobile ham radio and telephone. He had a real racket.

He would tune in the police frequency, learn where the police were about to throw a raid on a wild party, take down the address, look up the number, phone them on his mobile phone and warn them of the impending danger.

Later, he would contact the address he had warned and collect $5 for his "services." But, time and luck ran out on the lad and he was forced to return all the money he had taken in tipoffs.

The best San Joseans seem to be able to pull it to harass police and fire officials. What makes these future leaders, these fathers of the future, think they can play games with men who risk their lives daily for the students' own protection?

WATER FACIAL

Too, what makes them think they might not just get a facial of 400 pounds per square inch of water from the firemen's hose? So far, the firemen have been polite. But, there is no statute prohibiting them from losing their temper as far as I know. For years, the firemen have taken guff from knuckleheaded individuals who call themselves students. The police also have fallen prey to these not-too-practical jokers.

So kiddies, the next time you see a fireman, pull his ladder out from under him or cut his hose. You know, make his day more interesting and challenging. But, I'll be there to laugh my head off when you get it right in the teeth.

"PROBABLY THE BIGGEST PROBLEM FACING YOU YOUNG STUDENTS IN COLLEGE TO-DAY IS: WHERE TO FIND A PARKING PLACE FOR YOUR CAR?"

Do Lasses Cramp Learning in Classes?

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (UPI)—A University of Maryland professor suggests further research into whether boys learn more readily when separated from the girls in school.

If the sex of a child has anything to do with learning ability, then perhaps the boys ought to be taught separately—to give them and even break, at least at the junior high school level, says Walter B. Waetjen.

Waetjen discusses sex differences in learning ability in a report for the National Education Association journal. He finds evidence to support the view that there is a difference, and that it helps to explain why there are two to three times as many boys as girls who underachieve in school.

It also helps to explain why there are four times as many boys who are poor readers or nonreaders as girls; and, why 85 per cent of the children with behavior problems are boys.

"While these figures are startling enough, we can also point to the fact that anywhere from 75 to 95 per cent of the children in speech clinics for functional disorders are boys," Waetjen said.

Further support of the view that learning isn't sexless comes in research cited by the educator.

One investigation showed girls are more sensitive to human relationships than boys; girls have more positive reactions to situations that children experience directly—say church or school.

"Recent studies indicate that boys have a higher metabolic rate than girls," Waetjen said. "The difference is not related to the larger size of the boys, but is a sex-linked trait."

"The higher metabolic rate may account for the familiar sex differences in overt behavior which some teachers find disrupting to classroom operation and which may distract boys from that which they are to learn."

The educator concluded that the school does not and cannot exist as a sexless institution.

Music Class Begins Concerts Tomorrow

The Survey of Music class begins its twice weekly concerts and live performances beginning tomorrow in Concert Hall.

The performances are open to all students of the college whether they are enrolled in the class or not.

Donald E. Homuth is in charge of the class which meets each Tuesday and Thursday at 11:30.

For Tuesday's class Thomas Ryan, music professor, will present a talk about the harpsichord and will perform on the instrument.

Included in Ryan's program are selections by three late Renaissance English composers, Byrd, Peerson and Fornale. Two Baroque masters, Scarlatti and Couperin, are also included.

On Thursday a program of Baroque music for strings and keyboard will be presented by other members of the music department faculty.

They are Dr. Gibson Walters, professor of music, violin; William Erlendson, professor of music, harpsichord; Dr. Violet Thomas, associate professor of music, organ and Homuth, cello.

They will be joined by Mrs. Janice Down, a former SJS student who will also perform on the violin.

The program will be made up of sonatas by Corelli and Handel.

Once Over Lightly

The ordeal of long lines, feverishly re-arranged class schedules and over-all frustration combine to make registration a pretty grim experience.

Not so, for three UCLA men who duped over 400 entering freshmen women into entering a sex appeal rating during the Los Angeles campus' registration.

Armed with official looking posters, "Frosh Women Register Here," the collegiate pranksters had coeds fill out cards which listed their name and address.

With each card, a rating which ranged from one to 10 was assigned. UCLA men have only to phone a local number to find out a frosh woman's phone number, address and sex appeal rating.

Things are really "swinging" over at the Berkeley campus of the University of California.

Orchestra, modern dance club at the university, offered male students a chance to assert their masculinity musically.

A news article in the "Daily Californian" concerning tryouts for the club said, "Strong athletic men are needed as they will be throwing girls around."

11 Profs Welcomed To English, Language

The English and foreign language departments here will welcome 11 new faculty members in September, President John T. Wahlquist has announced. They will be part of the nearly 100 new teachers who have already accepted appointments to the college faculty.

Joining the English department faculty will be:

Dr. Bill H. Casey, assistant professor, who holds B.A., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Texas at Austin. He has been teaching at the university since 1954.

James H. Ferguson, assistant professor, with B.A. and M.A. degrees from Florida State University, Tallahassee. He has been a teaching fellow at Vanderbilt University, Nashville, since 1960.

M.A. FROM YALE

John A. Galm, assistant professor, a graduate of St. John's University, Minnesota, with an M.A. degree from Yale. He has been studying for a doctorate at Yale after teaching at St. John's University.

Mrs. Leslie Owen, instructor, a graduate of the University of California with an M.A. degree from San Jose State College. Mrs. Owen has been teaching at Boulder Creek school.

Dr. Edith C. Trager, associate professor, a graduate of Wilson College in Pennsylvania with an M.A. degree from Hunter College and a Ph.D. degree from the University of Pennsylvania. She has been a scientific linguist for the U.S. Department of the Interior, an assistant professor at American University, Washington, D.C., a lecturer at the University of Buffalo, a research linguist at the Walter Reed Institute of Research, Washington, and a research associate at Stanford University.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

David M. Van Becker, assistant professor, with B.A. and M.A. degrees from the University of California. He has been teaching at Colorado College, Colorado Springs, since 1960.

The five new members of the foreign language department faculty are:

Dr. Conrad Borowski, assistant professor, with B.A. and M.A. degrees from the University of California and a doctorate from the University of Strasbourg, France. He has been teaching in the University of Maryland's overseas program.

Sebastian Cassarino, assistant professor, a graduate of the City College of New York, who has been an instructor at Stanford University.

Miss Donna J. Gustafson, instructor, a graduate of the College of St. Scholastica, Duluth, Minn., with an M.A. degree from Mexico City College. She was a teaching assistant at Stanford University from 1957 to 1961.

Leo S. Hulanicki, assistant professor, a graduate of Azerbaijan State University, Baku, U.S.S.R., and the Universite Libre de Bruxelles, who has taught in Russia, Belgium and at the U.S. Army Language School at Monterey.

Taras Lukach, assistant professor, a graduate of UCLA, who has served as an interpreter for the U.S. Army, UNRRA and IRO in Germany. He has been teaching at UCLA since 1955.

America Denies U2 Charge By Chinese

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States has flatly rejected a Chinese Communist charge that the United States was responsible for the Chinese Nationalist U2 plane shot down over the Red mainland Sept. 9, it was disclosed Friday.

The Communist charge was made, and immediately rejected, at a Warsaw meeting Thursday between U.S. Ambassador John M. Cabot and Communist China's envoy to Poland, Wang Ping-nan. State Department Press Officer Lincoln White declined at briefing Friday to disclose the subject of the meeting.

MUN Selects SJS Grad Rapporteur

Continuing his studies in the field of international relations, SJS graduate student Robert Quigley was appointed rapporteur at the 17th annual National Student Leadership Institute on the United Nations this summer.

Quigley was selected by fellow delegates from other U.S. colleges, Canada, Puerto Rico, Mexico and the Virgin Islands for the rapporteur's job of recording round table discussions on specific problems of the U.N.

The peace-keeping machinery of the U.N., arms and arms control and economic and social development were covered.

MUN MAINSTAY

Quigley, a graduate student in political science, is a mainstay of the SJS Model United Nations organization. He will serve as executive assistant when a 13-state MUN general session comes here to campus next semester.

A total of 200 students attended the institute at U.N. headquarters and Sarah Lawrence College in Bronxville, N.Y., June 16-23.

Besides the round-table discussions, briefing sessions were held at U.N. headquarters, the United States Mission to the U.N. and missions from other countries to the world organization.

An impressive list of speakers spoke at the institute. Included was Dr. Andrew Cordier, dean of the Columbia University School of International Affairs and former executive assistant to the U.N. secretary-general for 16 years.

The summer institute was held under the auspices of the Collegiate Council for the U.N., a national student organization working for better understanding of the U.N.

RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Quigley received a scholarship to attend the institute from the U.N. council.

He remained in New York City for a month, working with the U.N. Office of Public Information, the American Association for the U.N. and the Collegiate Council for the U.N. as a technical adviser on student model United Nations.

These groups hope to have a national Model United Nations exhibit at the 1964-65 World's Fair in New York.

U.N. Plane Downed; Nine Survive Crash

ELIZABETHVILLE, Katanga. The Congo, (UPI)—Rescue parties reached the wreckage of a United Nations plane shot down last week and reported nine of the 10 Swedish crew members alive.

The survivors were flown to the U.N. air base at Kamina in Katanga Province, after doctors and aid men landed at the crash site aboard two helicopters. Escorting jet planes give the first report of the survivors.

A U.N. command spokesman said the plane was "shot down."

The Swedish Defense Ministry in Stockholm quoted Capt. Jan Toll, copilot of the ill-fated C47 transport plane, as saying at Kamina it was hit by ground fire over northern Katanga and crashed.

The Swedish Foreign Office said later it received a cable from the U.N. base at Kamina saying that the only fatality, Olov Solvestad, died as a result of bullet wounds. It said two others, Warrant Officers E.G.G. Colmgren and B.O. Baek, were hit by bullets in the attack.

A-V Operation Has New Home

For the first time in its history, the Audio-Visual Center has its own home—the newly completed A-V building connected to Centennial Hall.

The new addition was used for a few summer classes and went into full operation for the first time this semester.

Students taking A-V classes are being introduced to modern equipment and facilities, centrally located in one building.

"For the first time in 13 years, I have an office to myself. It's good-by to the barracks forever," said Dr. Richard B. Lewis, head of Audio-Visual Department.

The entire building interior was designed with the special needs of audio-visual education and production in mind.

SPECIAL FEATURES

The rooms have low-level lights for previewing, inter-communications and power centrally located, a dumb-waiter to haul heavy photo equipment to each floor, and special 40-inch-wide doors to accommodate bulky equipment.

Entrance to the Audio-Visual Center is on the east side of the building near the Administration building.

Here the spacious scheduling area and card files fill the A-V foyer. The film library and equipment for loan is found in this area also.

The Center is centrally located to serve the needs of faculty and students, according to Dr. Lewis.

"The Center and its facilities are for everyone to use," Dr. Lewis said. "We provide projectors and films for classroom use and do much preparation work for student teachers, and other groups using visual aids," the A-V chief added.

CAREFUL ARRANGEMENTS

The facilities are functional as well as attractive, Dr. Lewis said. On the second floor, three large previewing rooms are set up to accommodate large groups.

Each classroom is arranged to handle 20 students. Details are carefully arranged to meet the special needs of audio-visual education. Individual projection equipment, magnetic chalk boards, in-pen boards and specially-designed cabinets for storing have been included.

The graphic production room to produce visual aids for teachers' use has its own darkroom. A practice lab for student use and a repair and maintenance lab are found on the third floor.

Up-to-date equipment adds much efficiency to the Center's services. There is a "dubbing" room and tape recording room to make recordings for films and a photographic production lab with adjacent dark room are included for student and faculty use.

Former Student Accepted by Navy For Pilot Training

Earl James "Jim" Raby, number 73, on the 1961 Varsity Football squad, has been accepted for flight training, the Navy Department announced recently.

Raby, a tackle on the '61 squad, and a guard on the Frosh team in 1960, will report to Pensacola, Fla., Oct. 3, as a Naval Aviation Cadet to commence pilot training which will lead to a Naval Officer's Commission, and "Navy Wings of Gold."

SJS FM Station Sets Opening Date

Dec. 3 is tentative starting date for full operation of KSJS, San Jose State College FM radio station.

Transmitting apparatus is awaiting installation, according to John Deal, chief engineer.

Initial programming will be four hours Monday through Friday, beginning at 4:30 each afternoon.

Auditions for announcers and other staff members will be held in the near future by Station Manager John Delantoni.

Information on auditions will be posted outside SD-132. It is hoped that the majority of staff positions will be filled by Nov. 1.

KSJS' advisory board is comprised of Dr. Frank Willey, co-ordinator of Extension Service; Dr. Clarence Flick, associate professor of drama; and Mr. Howard Gerish, associate professor of industrial arts, representing faculty; John Deal, Frank Hermes, Glenn Norrish, John Delantoni, Ray Gouveia, and John Schulze representing students.

Talk-a-thon Time Again

Once again dormitory residents are testing the endurance of the pay phone by seeing how long they can talk for a dime.

Markham Hall started a talk-a-thon last Tuesday at noon. From their third floor pay phone they called the third floor of Hoover Hall.

The dorms will try to talk for 500 hours, which would surpass the record of 470 hours set by Chico State for a single phone conversation. University of Texas students talked for over 800 hours, but on two phones.

Residents of the dorms sign up for half-hour shifts. The shifts are staggered so that everyone gets to talk to two people during his or her time on the line. Spokesmen for both dorms say that they have had no trouble getting sign-ups. The talkers have been on for over 75 hours as of Friday.

Residents of the other men's dorms have tried to sabotage the effort but so far have not succeeded. One would-be saboteur got as far as getting in the phone booth with wire-cutters, but was quickly removed.

Hoover Hall residents are even more confident of success. Val Morton, a resident of the hall said by the end of the 500 hours they would be so used to it that they would probably talk until Thanksgiving.

Last year, four dormitories participated in a talk-a-thon. Moulder Hall talked 229 hours with Royce Hall, and Markham Hall talked 219 hours with Washburn Hall.

Traffic Tied To Berlin; Convoys OK

BERLIN (UPI)—East German border guards slowed down civilian traffic to Berlin Friday in a temporary harassing move. But they quickly cleared four U.S. military convoys through East Germany without incident.

For the third straight day, guards at Soviet checkpoints on the 110-mile Berlin-Helmstedt Highway cleared the American convoys. Today's groups totaled 139 men in 110 vehicles.

The convoys are part of a week-long exchange of troops between Berlin and West Germany for "routine training" in a move designed to underscore American determination to keep the Berlin access routes open. The only problem came the first day when the Soviets held up one convoy for more than three hours because of a "misunderstanding."

An Army spokesman said all four convoys arrived at their destinations in Berlin and the West in "completely routine" fashion without delay.

New Course Included In ROTC Curriculum

The Army ROTC department at San Jose State has added a course in counterinsurgency to its curriculum this year.

President Kennedy recently assigned a counterinsurgency mission to all the military services. This college instruction is designed to familiarize the ROTC cadets with the Army's role in this area, as well as the individual soldier's responsibilities.

Counterinsurgency is concerned with those measures taken to prevent, suppress and eliminate Communist designs to weaken or overthrow duly constituted governments.

Lower division cadets will receive at least one hour of counterinsurgency operations during their regular course of instruction. Their regular one hour weekly session of military science classroom instruction also includes such subjects as Organization of the Army, Individual Weapons, Map Reading, and Small Unit Tactics.

The upper division cadets, enrolled in the ROTC advanced course, will receive at least a two hour block of instruction in counterinsurgency operations this year.

Freshman entering San Jose State this fall, who are interested in earning a U.S. Army commission while they work toward a degree should enroll in ROTC at the beginning of their freshman year.

Students may apply for the ROTC advanced course upon completion of the basic course. If they are accepted they are eligible to receive pay totaling approximately $700 while in the program as college juniors and seniors.

During the summer between their junior and senior years, the cadets attend a six week ROTC summer camp.

Successful completion of the program and receipt of the bachelor's degree leads to a commission as a second lieutenant in the army reserve. The commission entails either a six-months or two-year active duty obligation.

Grad Recruited For Coro Intern In Public Affairs

Judson Clark, a San Jose State graduate has been chosen as a participant in the Coro Foundation's 17th annual San Francisco Internship in Public Affairs. He was one of 12 college graduates selected.

The training program began Sept. 11, and will end in June. By that time the interns will have participated in assignments with government agencies, political campaigns, business firms, labor unions, community agencies, and professional associations.

Also included in the program are research projects and field trips.

Clark, a senior representative on the Student Council last year, was a member of Blue Key, Spartan Shields and the Student Court.

Coro Foundation recruits most of its candidates for these annual internships from California universities and colleges. A good number of SJS graduates have been among the past Coro award winners.

Information Team To Visit Campus

The Naval Aviation Information Team, led by Lt. Cmdr. Dick Hansen, former SJS student, will visit the college Sept. 24 through 28.

Male students interested in the Navy's Flight Program are invited to visit the display trailer, which will be parked on Seventh street in front of the cafeteria.

Free flights in a Navy T-34B, primary flight trainer, are being offered to all students taking the Aviation Officer Qualification Test. The flights, from San Jose Municipal Airport, will be 30 minutes duration and will cover all phases of aerial acrobatics, plus a view of the campus and surrounding area.

Students interested in the Reserve Officer Candidate Program are invited to stop by at the van. Selection and qualification for the ROC program will be taking place this fall.

Gov. Brown Urges Fraud 'Crackdown'

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown, reacting to criticisms of the state welfare program by Richard M. Nixon, Friday suggested that the state Department of Social Welfare adopt four proposals designed to crack down on fraud.

In a letter to the department director, J. M. Wedemeyer, the governor suggested that the department:

1. Spend more money to train employees in the meaning of fraud and procedures for handling it.
2. Adopt regulations requiring counties to appoint a special officer to handle welfare frauds.
3. Require more frequent, and occasionally unscheduled, visits by case workers to welfare recipients' homes "both to check on possible fraud and to learn the true condition in the home."
4. Require occasional evening and weekend calls by case workers to the homes.

Brown's suggestions were disclosed less than 24 hours after Nixon severely criticized the welfare set-up in a San Jose State College speech. However, the governor's letter was dated Wednesday.

Wedemeyer indicated his department would give Brown's suggestions "rapid consideration," but said it would probably be too soon to take them up at the next meeting of the state Social Welfare Board, which meets next week.

Campus Ministers To Conduct Class In Christian Study

A series of afternoon and evening classes covering historical and modern religious problems and ideas will begin Monday afternoon at the Campus Christian Ministry, 300 S. 10th St. The courses will be sponsored by the Protestant Ecumenical Council, and will last for 10 weeks.

Termed "Studies in Christianity," the classes will be taught "on a college level" by ministers from churches in the council, according to the Rev. Mark Rutledge, Congregational campus pastor. All of the classes will be taught at the Center except one, which will be held at Roger Williams House on South 10th street between San Fernando and San Antonio streets.

Monday afternoons, the Rev. Don Emmel, Presbyterian campus minister, will teach "Preface to Biblical Studies," an introduction to the nature of the Bible, with a look at its historical problems and its contemporary role in religious life. The class will be held at 3:30 p.m.

"The Revelation of the Church," a frank facing of the criticisms of the church and a study of its nature and significance today, will be given Monday nights at 10 at Roger Williams House. The instructor will be the Rev. George Collins, American Baptist campus chaplain.

The Rev. J. Benton White, director of the Wesley Foundation will teach "The Gospels," a critical look at the authorship, history, and background of the four gospels. Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. is the time set for the course.

"The Dilemma of the Christian Writer," taught at 7 p.m. Thursdays by Episcopal College Chaplain Walter Phelps, and "The Protestant Reformation," given by Congregational Campus Chaplain Mark Rutledge at 3:30 p.m. Thursdays round out the series.

New Center Seen For Church Group

The Wesley Foundation, a Methodist student organization, will move to its new quarters at 441 S. 10th St. this week.

Methodist Campus Minister, the Rev. J. Benton White said that the foundation hopes to build a student center on the new location within the next few years.

The house on the organization's property will be used as the student center and offices until a new building can be constructed.

Nine New Profs Added To Business Division

Appointment of six full-time and three part-time members of the Business Division faculty at San Jose State College has been announced by Pres. John T. Wahlquist. The appointments were effective Sept. 1.

Two new part-time instructors have been assigned to the accounting department. They are:

Lawrence E. McKibbin, assistant professor, a graduate of the University of Toledo with an M.B.A. degree from Stanford University. He has been an instructor at the University of Toledo.

John N. Persinger, assistant, a 1962 graduate of San Jose State College.

Assigned to the Industrial Relations department as an associate professor is Dr. George C. Halvorsen, a graduate of Antioch College with an M.A. degree from Columbia University and a Ph.D. degree from the University of London. He was formerly assistant dean of the School of Business Administration at the University of California and since 1961 has been vice president of Hergenrath Associates, San Francisco.

The three new members of the management department staff are:

Dr. Norman L. Amy, assistant professor, with A.B. and M.A. degrees from the University of Denver and a Ph.D. degree from the University of Texas. Since 1957 he has been staff accountant for the Colorado Fuel and Iron Corp.

Dr. George E. Deshon, assistant professor, a graduate of UCLA with M.B.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Texas. He has been a lecturer at the University of Texas since 1960.

Shelley B. Detrick, assistant professor (part-time), with A.B. and M.S. degrees from San Jose State College. He has been a buyer for Hewlett-Packard, Palo Alto, since 1959.

Three full-time instructors have been added to the marketing department staff. They are:

Stephen H. Hill, assistant professor, a graduate of the University of Kansas with an M.B.A. degree from the Harvard Business School.

Ross E. Lanser, assistant professor, a graduate of the University of Oregon with an M.S. degree from Arizona State University, Tempe. He has been a research assistant at Stanford University since 1961.

Dr. Pe Sheng Wang, assistant professor, who holds a bachelor of laws degree from Tsing Hua University, Kunming, China; an M.A. degree from Cheng Chi University, Nanking, China; an M.A. degree from the University of Colorado and a D.B.A. degree from the University of Washington. He has taught in Chinese universities, at the U.S. Army Language School at Monterey and, since 1960, at the University of Alaska.

Reflections of Telstar

Remember the picture above? It flashed across your television screen on a hot night last July. Perhaps you remember that it originated from France. And that it reached the U.S. via Telstar, the world's first private enterprise communications satellite.

Since that summer night, the Bell System's Telstar has relayed electronic signals of many types—television broadcasts, telephone calls, news photographs, and others.

But there's one Telstar reflection you might have missed. Look into the faces of the Bell System people below and you'll see it. It is the reflection of Telstar's success that glowed brightly on the faces of all who shared in the project.

Their engineering, administrative and operations skills created Telstar and are bringing its benefits down out of the clouds to your living room.

These Bell System people, through their talented, dedicated efforts, make your phone service still better, more economical, and more useful.

The reflections of Telstar are many.

Intramurals Cater To 3,500 Students

Intramural sports at San Jose State is one of the largest organizations in which the average student can participate. According to Dan Unruh, director of intramurals, the entire program caters to over 3,500 students each year.

The touch football season which is comprised of three leagues begins Oct. 1 for the independent groups and Oct. 2 for the fraternities. Two of the leagues, A and B, are the divisions for the independents. The remaining league contains the 12 fraternities.

Entries for both independent and fraternity teams are due in Director Unruh's office, MG121, Wednesday.

Two other activities coming up soon are tennis and volleyball, following the beginning of the football competition. Entries for tennis are due Friday and Oct. 3 is the closing date for the two-man volleyball tournament.

Awards are given to all winning participants in each sport. The football teams vie for a travelling trophy which is kept each year by the team that defeats the winners of each division. Last year Pi Kappa Alpha won the trophy by beating Mary Ann's Maulers which took the Independent crown by knocking off the Cal-Hawaiians.

In addition, individual trophies are presented to players of the all-college champion team.

The tennis competition is limited to men's singles matches. The two-man volleyball tournament is double elimination and will be played on the new courts located between the men's and women's dormitories.

The tennis tournament begins Oct. 3 and the volleyball tourney starts only one week later on Oct. 8.

Since the three football leagues contain a total of approximately 31 teams each year, the football program is an important part of the intramural sports, involving 800 students alone.

The new handbook, termed the "bible of the intramural program" by Unruh, makes clear the intent and objectives of the program. Not only is the program designed to provide competitive sports activity, but it offers social contact, a permanent interest in sports, group spirit, and a chance to improve one's physical fitness.

The handbook will also clear up any rule difficulties that were encountered last year during the football season. At that time several players were found to be ineligible because they had participated in either frosh or varsity football.

The rule now states "any student whose name appears on a varsity or freshman squad roster after a specified squad selection date is ineligible to compete in that sport."

Also freshman award winners can compete in that sport the year following receipt of the award.

Jose Azevedo Moves Up 6 Notches, Wins

Jose Azevedo, the national Brazilian champion and San Jose State distance man, moved up six notches over his performance last year to win the second Annual Watermelon Run Friday with a time of 20:54.3 for the 4.3-mile course.

Azevedo edged out Jeff Fishback who won the first Watermelon Run in 20:52.8 and Ben Tucker who finished seventh last year. Fishback and Tucker tied for second honors crossing the finish line in 21:03.

Azevedo ran a very strong race, according to cross country coach Dean Miller. On the whole, Miller said the team is greatly improved over last year's which sent five men to the NCAA meet in Lansing, Mich. Of the five, Fishback and Ron Davis placed third and ninth, respectively. In Friday's race Davis finished fourth, three seconds behind Danny Murphy who completed the distance in 21:11.

Six of this year's top seven finished in the top ten of last year's Watermelon Run. The only newcomer to break into this group was Gene Gurule who placed sixth with a time of 21:58, nearly 30 seconds in front of Horace Whitehead. Whitehead dropped to seventh this year from his finish of third in last year's met.

The top five men this year were in a time spread of only 20 seconds, which pleased Miller. Last year's top five were spread out over a time of a little over a minute.

Not too far off the pace were John Lodin (22:32), Dick Wilkins (23:00) and Detle Kraus (23:07) each of whom placed in the eighth, ninth and 10th spots, respectively.

Varsity Water Poloists Scrimmage Wednesday

Priming for its league opener with San Francisco State Friday night, San Jose State's varsity water polo team will hold an all-out intrasquad scrimmage in the Men's Gym Wednesday night at 8:30. No admission will be charged for the open exhibition.

Coach Lee Walton is confident that his squad, which won the college division in the Northern California Water Polo tournament last season, will make a strong showing in conference play.

Returning from the '61 outfit are John Henry, Jimmy Monsees, Herman Radloff and Steve Skold.

Henry, recently voted captain by his teammates, is described by Walton as being "an outstanding team player and a fine goalie."

Monsees, a left-handed forward, was selected to play in two national tournaments last summer because of his consistent high scoring for the Spartans last fall.

Skold, a senior forward, was named to the all-state team last year, while Radloff earned a letter for his hustling play at a guard slot.

Newcomers Jim Spear and R. J. Riddle are also making strong bids for a starting berth.

Hoop Meeting

The first organizational meeting of the varsity basketball team will be Thursday at 3:30 p.m. in MG201, coach Stu Inman says.

SJS Fumbles, Interceptions Give Cougars 49-8 Victory

By JOHN HENRY

PULLMAN, Wash.—Fumbles and interceptions combined to bring about the downfall of the San Jose State Spartans eleven. The Washington State Cougars took advantage of every mistake the Spartans made to down SJS 49-8, before an estimated crowd of 15,300 fans at the Cougars' home field Saturday afternoon.

Five of the Cougars' six touchdowns were direct results of fumbles, a bad center or interceptions. The Cougars scored in the first quarter when fullback George Reed intercepted Bob Kane's pass on Washington's 49 yard line. WSU went for the touchdown in 10 plays to go ahead 7-0.

Another Kane pass was intercepted late in the first quarter to set up another Cougar TD. Mike Abbott intercepted on the SJS 45 and took the ball down to the two. WSU went across in three plays to go ahead 14-0. They never looked behind again as they went on to trounce the Spartans.

Olympic Club Trips Booters In Opener, 8-1

Displaying a surplus of power and speed, the San Francisco Olympic Club soccer team easily defeated a game San Jose State squad, 8-1, last Friday night at Spartan Stadium.

A sparse gathering of approximately 300 learners enjoyed the fast-paced action. Roy Carter, who was to score four goals, put the Olympic Club on the scoreboard first by scoring a goal with less than two minutes remaining in the first quarter. It was the only first period score.

The San Francisco outfit wasted little time in tallying its second goal. The second quarter was only a minute old when Jim Lynch booted in a goal to boost the Olympic Club advantage to 2-0.

Eflok Akapan, who often delighted the partisan San Jose audience with his fancy footwork, scored the only Spartan goal of the evening with 15:30 remaining in the second period. Akapan's goal brought the crowd to life and narrowed the margin to 2-1.

However, the winners took advantage of SJS's defensive errors and rallied to score two quick goals and run up a 4-1 halftime lead.

The second half was more of the same, as coach Jack Forrest's eleven rung up a lone score in the third quarter and three more in the final period.

State coach Julie Menendez described the victors as "a collection of college all-stars." The appearance of several USF and Cal players supported the statement.

The Spartan J.V. and Frosh eleven rallied with two last quarter goals to defeat Robert Louis Stevenson of Monterey, 3-1, in the preliminary contest.

Tom Zinter scored both late goals, while John Olsen booted in an early score.

The Spartans return to action tonight against another powerhouse, the International Soccer Club. The game will be held in Spartan Stadium at 8.

Cal, Stanford Boast Top Frosh Athletes

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—California and Stanford both pointed with pride today to a crop of outstanding freshman athletes.

Enrolled at Cal is Forest Beaty, the fastest high school sprinter in history. Beaty, from Glendale, has run the 100-yard dash in 9.4 and the 220 in 20.2.

Cal also reported that three all-star high school gridgers—tackle Roger Foster of Lynwood, halfback Jerry Mosher of Woodland, and quarterback Jim Wisner from Fresno—have registered at Berkeley.

Stanford landed basketball stars Bob Bedell, Bell Gardens, and Ray Kosanke, Tucson, Ariz., as well as discus thrower Bob Stoecker, Los Altos Hills, and miler Dave Deubner of Stockton.

play in the second quarter.

They scored 15 more points in the third quarter. The first score came after a Dave Bonillas pass was intercepted by Clarence Williams at the WSU 38. He went 62 yards for the TD.

They scored two minutes later when the Spartans were on their own 33 and were ready to punt.

The pass from center was high and Larry Doss was downed on the one yard line. Vince Antonio plunged for the TD. The score stood at 35-0 at the end of three quarters.

San Jose finally got on the scoreboard in the fourth quarter when SJS recovered a WSU fumble on Washington's 18. Bonillas passed to Chuck Elder for the TD and Johnson went over for the final two points. WSU scored 14 more points before the final gong.

Philosophy, Psychology Staffs Add 12 Members

Appointment of 12 new faculty members in the Philosophy and Psychology Departments and in the humanities program at San Jose State College has been announced by Pres. John T. Wahlquist. The appointments are effective Sept. 1.

Joining the humanities program staff is Dr. Peter H. King, assistant professor, who holds an M.A. degree from the University of St. Andrews, Scotland, and a Ph.D. degree from UCLA. He has been an instructor at Stanford University since 1958.

Two new teachers have been assigned to the Philosophy department. They are:

Don S. Levi, assistant professor, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin with an M.A. degree from Harvard, where he has been a teaching fellow.

Dr. Ved P. Sharma, assistant professor, a graduate of Punjab University, India, with a Ph.D. degree from the University of Minnesota. He has been an instructor at Montana State University, Missoula, since 1959.

The nine new faculty members assigned to the Psychology department are:

James T. Keator, assistant, (part-time), a graduate of San Jose State College.

Dr. John C. McCullers, assistant professor, with B.A., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Texas, Austin. He has been a research assistant at the University of Minnesota.

Michael R. Meeker, assistant, a graduate of San Jose State College.

Dr. R. Brian Pendleton, assistant professor, with B.S. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Utah, where he has been a research assistant.

Donald E. Peterson, assistant professor, a graduate of USC with a B.D. degree from Fuller Theological Seminary and an M.A. degree from the University of Chicago. He is a psychologist at the Veterans' Hospital in Palo Alto.

Dr. William A. Semenov, assistant professor, a graduate of U.C. Berkeley, with an M.A. degree from SJS and a Ph.D. degree from Washington State University. He has been at Colorado State University since 1959.

Dr. James R. Steele, assistant professor (part-time), a graduate of Lewis & Clark College with an M.S. degree from the University of Oregon and a Ph.D. degree from the University of Washington. He is a post-doctoral intern at the Veterans' Hospital in Palo Alto.

Thomas A. Tutko, assistant professor, a graduate of Pennsylvania State University with an M.A. degree from Northwestern University, where he has been a lecturer while studying for his doctorate.

Miles A. Vich, assistant, a graduate of San Jose State College, who has been a nuclear fuels technician with the General Electric Co. in San Jose.

HOMECOMING COMMITTEE — Members gather again to fill in details on plans made last spring. Each year students and the community join to make the traditional week-long celebration in October interesting and exciting. Members are, l. to r., back to front, Bob Himel, Al Malyon, Penny Furtney, Sue Stacks, Dick Dodson, Dr. Karl Mueller (adviser), Don Bevilacqua, Bill Baste, Gloria Gurske, Jim Rush, (Downtown Merchants Association), Mike Hooper, and Bob Saunders.

Homecoming Title 'Spardi Was There'

Preparations for San Jose State's 1962 Homecoming have started, with the chosen theme "Spardi Was There." The week-long celebration will start Oct. 19 when the name of the Homecoming Queen is announced at the Coronation Ball and climaxes Oct. 27 with a parade and football game.

Activities preceding this week will include: Queen interviews and nomination, Queen candidates' tea, a fashion show, Queen voting and the traditional Friday bon fire.

The Homecoming football game is between the Spartans and the University of New Mexico.

Scholarships, Loans Rise During Decade

From $1,000 in 1952, the San Jose State scholarship funds rose to $25,000 and emergency loan funds rose from $3,000 to $22,000 in the past decade.

Increased interest in student aid by local and governmental groups has resulted in the growth of Financial Aids Program at SJS.

Financial help is administered through loans, scholarships and part-time employment.

Loan and scholarship funds have been endowed by local civic organizations, professional groups, business firms, private individuals and governmental agencies.

FOR GENERAL USE

Of more than 30 different loan funds available to students at SJS, over half of which are contributed by local San Jose civic groups, business firms and private individuals, most are for general college use. The remainder has special limitations, usually for students majoring in specific subjects or for graduates from certain high schools. Last year more than $73,000 aided approximately 500 students to continue their education.

NDEA LARGEST

The largest loan program, administered under the National Defense Education Act of 1958, allows students to borrow up to $1,000 per year for a maximum of five years. During the past school year, 370 SJS students borrowed $257,000 through the NDEA, and over a million dollars has been loaned to students on campus since the beginning of the program.

Scholarship awards, usually based on students' academic records and demonstrated financial need, went to 150 students last year for a total of $25,414. The amount of scholarship funds is expected to increase to $42,000 in the next year. Outside agencies also make awards to SJS students, amounting to approximately $25,000 last year.

Scholarships, varying in size from $50 to $500, are generally awarded in various areas, such as education, engineering, or fine arts, and through various departments of the college.

In the third area of financial aids, part-time work, more than 70 per cent of the students have received aid in finding employment. Students take a variety of jobs to pay for their education.

Entries Accepted In Sports Queen Yearbook Contest

Entries are now being accepted from women interested in competing for the annual All-American Sports Queen contest sponsored by La Torre, the college yearbook. This contest is open to any interested Spartan co-ed.

Participants, or their friends, should list the sports in which the contestant has participated and attach a photo that need not be returned. Other activities, organizations and any other pertinent information, such as a high scholastic average, should be mentioned.

Photos of the contestants will be exhibited in the outer-quadrant in late October. The student body will select 10 candidates from the 100 entries. From these 10 women the student body will select the final four candidates.

The candidate receiving the most votes will be named queen and the remaining three will be attendants.

No entries will be accepted after Oct. 17, and only 100 girls may vie for the title.

Library Staff Adds Nine New Members

Nine new members of the Library staff at San Jose State College received appointment for the current school year, announced Pres. John T. Wahlquist. All appointments were effective Sept. 1.

Those receiving appointment as Librarian II include:

Mrs. Gladys Caywood, who holds an A.B. degree from Fresno State College.

Joseph N. Failli, who holds a teaching degree from the University of Florence, Italy, and an M.L.S. degree from the University of California.

Mrs. Lois C. Makin, who is a graduate of the University of California and a former librarian in Honolulu.

Mrs. Stefa Simokaitis, a native of Lithuania with a degree from that country and an M.L.S. degree from University of Southern California.

John J. Waters, a graduate of Syracuse University, and formerly with the California State Library.

Miss Kathryn A. Young, who earned a B.A. at Morningside College and an M.A. at Denver University.

Librarian I appointments are: Miss E. Isabel Bradley, a graduate of SJS, who moves from her former position as typist on the staff of SJS.

Richard H. Dewey, a graduate of the University of San Francisco, and former librarian with the SJS Instructional TV Center.

Robert B. Harmon, who holds the B.A. and M.A. degrees from Brigham Young University.
