Budget Slash Forces Daily To Kill 'Tempo'

A 17 per cent cut in Spartan Daily's budget for next year has forced the Daily to cease publication of "Tempo," Friday cultural and entertainment guide.

The Daily's budget was cut by Student Council after a budget committee report recommended the action.

In addition to abandonment of "Tempo," the Daily also will be forced to cut back on its regular issues in order to start next year out of the red.

"SJS is growing bigger and bigger," said Kent Vlautin, Daily advertising manager, "and the Daily always has kept pace with the growth of the college."

He pointed out that the Daily has grown not only in quantity but also in quality.

The newspaper was awarded first place in the state for college dailies at the California State Fair competition last month.

Yesterday published probably the largest and most ambitious college newspaper ever attempted, including a 40-page color supplement honoring Founders' Day and the dedication of the new Education Building.

"Tempo," Vlautin pointed out, was another innovation by the Daily in order to serve SJS students better. Response to "Tempo" was enthusiastic.

"We will have to revert to the smaller, less interesting issues of earlier years."

"It seems illogical," he continued, "that with more student fees reaching the ASB government that the Daily, which serves all students, should be cut back to the possible benefit of special interest groups."

Daily editor Bob Pacini said that with smaller issues the only solution under the circumstances, the Daily "just won't be able to give all campus organizations sufficient publicity. Space will be at a premium. It's going to be difficult."

He added that despite the added work it meant for his staff that he hoped "Tempo" can be reinstated because of its educational value and enthusiastic student response.

Vlautin added that although student government had requested a 20 per cent increase in Daily's circulation, the group "illogically" cut the budget 17 per cent.

"I feel that all the facts about ASB budgets should be brought into the open, since every student has a right to know where his money is going," he said.

Summer Session Reg Applications Pile Up; 4,400

More than 4,400 students have applied for registration permits for summer study in the 1963 session, announced Joe H. West, dean of summer sessions.

Dean West urged all students planning to attend the sessions to apply for a registration permit as soon as possible. Registration permits, indicating the hour in which a student may register, will be issued early in June in the order that applications were received.

Applications may be picked up in the Summer Sessions Office, Adm144. Night students may apply for permits in the Evening Programs Office, Adm153, Monday through Thursday until 9:45 p.m.

San Jose State will offer two summer sessions. A six-week session will be offered June 24-Aug. 2 and a four-week session Aug. 5-30. A number of one-week intersession workshops and short courses are scheduled June 17-21.

A LARGE TURNOUT listened to William G. Sweeney, Dean of the Education Department (above) during the dedication ceremonies and luncheon yesterday at the Education Building. John T. Wahlquist, President of San Jose State gave the dedication address.

Greek Week Co-op Activities; Plan Dance Tomorrow Evening

A revival of Greek Week—Inter-Fraternity and Panhellenic councils cooperative movement to show that the Greek system is beneficial to the college and community—is currently taking place.

Tomorrow night, IFC, Panhellenic and Lambda Chi Alpha will stage the final Pushcart practice runs on 11th street. Starting time is 6:30 p.m., according to Howie Reed, IFC vice president.

LaFollette Talks On Poets, Poetry

Are "beat" and "non-beat" American poetry separate categories?

This is one point that will be discussed by Melvin Walker LaFollette, assistant professor of English when he compares "The New American Poetry" with "The New Poets of England and America" at this afternoon's 12:30 book talk in rooms A and B of the college cafeteria.

LaFollette plans to examine the socialistic framework of these two anthologies, which have one poet in common among the 79 presented.

Professor LaFollette feels a book should be compiled featuring both types of poetry, because the present separation of the works into two books brings out the sociological rather than the artistic factor.

Some works of "The New American Poetry" are "Pictures of the Gone World" by Lawrence Ferlinghetti, "Mexico City Blues" by Jack Kerouac, and "Howl" by Allen Ginsberg. This last book was the subject of a court battle when declared obscene by San Francisco custom agents.

In contrast, some from the other book include "Heart's Needle" by W. D. Snodgrass, "Colonel Johnson's Ride" by Robert Huff, and "Exiles and Marriages" by Donald Hall. "Heart's Needle" won the Pulitzer Prize for poetry in 1960.

Judiciary Interviews

Interviews for three student and two faculty positions on the ASB Judiciary will be held tomorrow night at 7 in the College Union, according to Jeff Davis, chief justice.

Applications, available at the College Union, must be returned prior to the interview session.

Following practice runs a street dance will be held in the same area. The dance will start at 8 p.m. and last until 11.

An all-Greek dance will be held Saturday night from 9 to 1 at the St. Claire Hotel. The "Galaxies" are scheduled to provide the music.

During a dance intermission awards will be presented to fraternity and sorority members who—in the opinion of IFC and Panhellenic—have contributed the most service to the Greek system.

The dance—sponsored by Pi Kappa Alpha—concludes Greek Week activities.

As a part of the week long series of events, SJS's fraternities and sororities will combine in groups of three to sit down to exchange dinners tonight.

An SJS professor will speak at each of the 20 dinners, held to better acquaint sororities with fraternities, according to Reed.

First event of Greek Week activities was last Friday night's "Sparta Sings."

Purpose of Greek Week, according to Reed, is "to bring the Greeks together one more time before finals and through a varied assortment of events show the community and the college that Greeks can plan and present events beneficial to the college and community."

Largest Budget Presented Today

Next year's largest ASB budget, $118,000 for athletics, is expected to be presented at today's 2:30 p.m. Student Council meeting in the College Union.

The budget, which contains $73,926 for track, basketball and football, will be presented by ASB Treasurer Jim Sparling. Many other 1963-64 budgets will also be considered.

In other business: ASB Pres. Bill Hauck is scheduled to report on the recent Pacific Student Presidents' Assn. conference held in Sun Valley, Idaho.

A bill to establish class governments "to increase the base of representation within the student body" is expected to be presented. The bill's authors are George Drake, freshman representative; Penny Patch, senior representative; Jack Perkins, sophomore representative.

Tonight's Co-Rec Salutes Summer

The Terry Saunders Quintet will provide the music for tonight's Co-Rec theme, "Here Comes Summer," according to Marcia Reifman, Co-Rec publicity chairman.

For those who have tired of volleyball, pushball will be offered in WG21.

During intermission, Rich Shlat-ter will sing his pop tune, "Love You Honey."

Co-Rec begins every Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Women's Gym. Admission is by ASB card.

New Ed Building Officially Dedicated In Noon Ceremony

The windy outdoor patio of the newly constructed $2 million Education Building was its dedication site yesterday.

Three hundred guests, including principals, superintendents, and teachers from schools throughout the entire service area of San Jose State College gathered for the event.

Officially presenting the building was SJS Pres. John T. Wahlquist and accepting for the students of the Education Division was Geraldine Munoz, president of Beta Alpha Chapter, Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary education fraternity. Miss Munoz, in turn, following her acceptance speech of the building, presented to Dean William G. Sweeney for "his outstanding service to the organization," the Honor Key, highest award of Kappa Delta Pi.

A luncheon catered by Mike Dolan, cafeteria manager and his staff, preceded the ceremony which officially placed the newly occupied Education Building in hands of the students and staff of the Education Division.

Prior to the actual dedication, Dean Sweeney, as master of ceremonies, introduced a number of guests including Laurence D. Haskew, University of Texas vice chancellor, and guest speaker for the Founder's Day morning ceremony. He briefly paid tribute to the entire college and special acknowledgement to Dean Sweeney who has a "happy faculty for getting things done."

Other guests also included university and college officials, emeriti professors, SJS Advisory Board members, and community leaders.

Bids 'Going Fast' For Spring Dance

The free bids for Friday's Spring Formal, Candlelight and Gold, are "going fast," according to Loretta American, Social Affairs Committee chairman.

The dance is scheduled for the Sheraton-Palace Hotel in San Francisco from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Bids are available at the Student Affairs Business Office, B1, and in front of the bookstore from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

'Education Essential,' Says Vice Chancellor

By KAI SIMMS

"Teacher education in 1963 for all prospective teachers is important and essential. The colleges of this country must deliver into elementary and secondary schools 100,000 new teachers," stated keynote Founders' Day speaker, Dr. Laurence D. Haskew, vice chancellor, University of Texas, at yesterday morning's opening address in Concert Hall.

Vice Chancellor Haskew, who spoke before members of the administration, Education Division, and SJS alumni and students, was introduced by Pres. John T. Wahlquist, making his first official campus appearance since a recent illness. Said President Wahlquist, "Teachers have two chances to immortalize themselves—through themselves and their pupils. There's no topic receiving more consideration from California citizens than education."

Introduced by President Wahlquist, the tall educator caught attention of the audience by his subtle humor and slow Texas drawl, both apparent as he began his speech, "The Goal Is Teachers."

"Today, SJS is seeking to serve this day and age with an education program of high quality to meet a wide spectrum of scholarly needs. San Jose State is an institution of stature on this Founders' Day of 1963. The college is destined as an institution of higher learning," the vice chancellor said. He continued by stressing the necessity of "wanting to teach." Surely needed are "teachers multiplied thousands of times," he added.

"Knowing and teaching" are two essentials in effective teaching. Good teacher education curriculum produced more students who were effective teachers."

The SJS a cappella choir, directed by William J. Eriendson, professor of music, presented "Salvation Is Created" by Tchesnknk-off, and "Laude Dominum" by Sweelinck.

Rabbi Joseph Gitin of Temple Emanu-El, San Jose, gave the invocation for the hour-long opening ceremony.

'Floating' Campus Explained Today

A representative of the University of the Seven Seas will speak this morning at 10:30 in TH55 on the basic concept of the "floating university."

The first cruise will begin Oct. 22, 1963, and will include such ports of call as Piraeus, Suez, Bangkok, Hong Kong, and Keelung.

Catalogues may be obtained from Dr. Frank Willey, local adviser for the university, at Extension Services, 319 S. Fifth St.

SJS Symphonic Band Gives 'Bravo' Concert

By JODY KINCAID

What the group was most anxious and excited about went off famously last night at the San Jose State College symphonic band concert.

Entitled "Piece Symphonique" the symphonic band showed a great deal of technical greatness, especially by Prof. John Delevoryas at the piano. Both director, Robert Hare, and piano soloist had the reward of hard work and perspiration on the forehead and repeated bows.

The audience's reaction to the work's United States premier was an Oriental impression, a great variety of moods and not at all programmatic.

IMPRESSIONISTIC

The composition was rediscovered last year by Dr. Hare through his research on Joseph Jongen, the composer. The work is impressionistic in style and was prepared from the manuscript form by the composer's brother, Leon at the request of Dr. Hare.

Prof. Delevoryas, associate professor of music, instructs piano at the college.

As one listener commented, "He sure can play the piano."

Another premier, this time for the West Coast, was Joseph Wagner's "Symphonic Transitions." The ominous arrangement gave a "there's still time brother" feeling. It had a fast and furious tempo, very short, and hard to comprehend its meaning before the end.

ORGANS, VIOLINS

Utilizing the organ and several violins besides the usual band instruments, "Fili mi, Abfalon," got off to an impressive build-up of emotion in anticipation of Prof. Edwin Dunning's bass voice.

The lament of David for Absalom was adopted from II Samuel 18:33.

"Marche Hongroise" by Berlioz was written as a symbol of freedom. The symphonic band chose the peppy marching song to end the evening on a good note. Everyone departed smiling from a very enjoyable evening.

This is the second concert of the season by the San Jose State symphonic band. Eighty members participated in last night's outstanding concert.

Tenor Graf Sings In Concert Hall

Delmer L. Graf, a dramatic lyric tenor who began his voice study with Dr. Gus Lease, assistant professor of music, will give a recital at 8:15 this evening in Concert Hall.

After many years on radio, television and as concert, recital and oratorio soloist, Graf has returned to campus to perform German and American operatic literature. Graf now holds a Master's degree from the University of Arizona.

'The Storytellers' Use Sound, Song To Amuse Audience

You can sing a story, you can dance a story, or you can tell a story. And every story teller uses the sound and meaning of words, the rhythm of words, and certain techniques like a pause, to create characters.

As part of the San Jose State Spring Festival of Arts, the Speech and Drama Department is presenting "The Storytellers" this Saturday evening at 8:15 in Studio Theater.

The evening of literature with music and dance originated with an ensemble of students as a class project and has branched out into programs during the year for various groups in the college and community.

Directed by Mrs. Courtney Brooks, associate professor of speech, the program includes folk ballads, poems and choreography, an essay by Mark Twain, two stories and a short play.

"The Storytellers," using only tall green stools and lighting for effects, are composed of Jeannie Archer, Raymond Baptista, Donald Baringer, Barbara Champ-lin, Charles Combs, Sandra Emery, Kieran Gallagher, Michael Grimes, Dina Hubbell, Zoe Kamitses, Bonda Gay Lewis, Ann Morris, Judy Pomeroy, William Purkiss, Lee Ruggles, Carole E. Warren and James Woodhead.

'Who's Been Eating Our Porridge?'

Editor:

Delta Phi Delta, honorary art club and the sponsor of the Beaux Arts Ball, is being robbed! Some poor demented soul has become obsessed with the idea of collecting our Beaux Arts Dance posters because they are so clever and coveted! Is this person wall-papering his room? We definitely are flattered, but wouldn't it be unfortunate if our "poster-patron" prevented his fellow students from being well-informed? Therefore, we ask if the posters could remain as desired works of art to be removed only after the B.A. Dance on May 11.

'Computer Paintings Only the Beginning'

Editor:

I read with fascination the Spartan Daily report of computer-produced paintings presently issuing forth from the laboratories of the Chemistry Department. I paid no attention to the nagging thought that no self-respecting machine would accept art information from chemists. Academic considerations of course duplication and proliferation were immediately put aside, for here was surely the germ of a wonderful idea. Each of the academic disciplines on campus could send forth its own special abilities and talents toward the new frontiers of brother disciplines.

Even as I write this, I find pleasure in anticipating the varied attack many of the art graduate students can bring to the field of pharmacology alone. To the retorts, men! With their background in high school chemistry and even beyond, lucrative results seem almost a certainty. Coupled with such scientific ability, their aesthetic capacity for selection of proper ingredients will surely result in compounds of irresistibly dazzling hues.

The idea is still so new that no specific projects have yet been designated. This must wait until a survey of department secretaries has been completed.

of a jazz program on the San Jose State radio station, KSJS. On April 5, at 7:30 p.m., the first sounds of jazz trickled from the transmitters of KSJS, reaching my FM set on 90.7 mc. I was startled by the fact that the jazz program — Portrait in Jazz — lasted but a brief 30 minutes. Aside from the fact that the program isn't long enough, I think that it is tops among the programs on the college station.

I have but one small request to make of the Spartan Daily editor, and that is: How about a preview of the music that is to be played, or at least an idea of the theme of the Friday night jazz show before it goes on the air?

In closing I wish to thank the members of the KSJS radio staff for (at long last) bringing college type music to the ears of college type people.

'Holy' Diploma Feared by Reader

Editor:

I got a little goodie in the mail over the weekend from the Commencement Committee. This mimeographed memo from the graduation group tells me all about when I'm supposed to stand up and sit down out in Spartan Stadium, June 7.

It's sort of an exciting preview of that final moment of truth when the B.A. and/or B.S. degree is passed out. I quote from one of its more inspired passages: "The President will confer all the baccalaureate degrees at once." (A nice change from the registration procedures.) "At this time, you should turn your tassel from the right side to the left side of your cap. Then, those receiving the degree may be seated."

Sounds like fun. The only thing that bothers me is one of the closing lines of the memo. It says something to the effect that I'll get my diploma in about three weeks if I leave a self-addressed envelope in somebody's office.

I don't mind the three weeks. I can even take the mailing bit. I just hope they don't mess up my name and student number when they run my diploma through the IBM machine.

UOP Is Final Hurdle For Spartan Glovemen

By DAN McLEAN
Winners of their first 10 league games, the San Jose State varsity glovemen have only one hurdle between them and their first unbeaten league season since Ed Sobczak began coaching at the school. That hurdle is the same one they took in stride twice Monday, the University of Pacific.

San Jose swept a twinbill from the Tigers Monday, 11-0 and 6-1 at Municipal Stadium. The Spartans crossed the plate nine times in the first inning of the first game, their season high.

Righthander Bill Dawson is scheduled to open on the mound today in Stockton, when the Spartans face the Tigers again, beginning at 1 p.m. Originally, the date was set for a double-header, but it was changed to a single game because of an availability problem with the field.

Other starters in the final game will include Rich Green, catcher; Tom Van Amburg, first base; Lon Romero, second base; Ken Takahashi, third base; Ron Lindenman, shortstop; Carl Fisher, left field; Miles Yamamoto, center field and Bill Bloodgood, right field.

Sobczak said he was a little disappointed in the Tigers after seeing them for the first time. "I thought they were a lot stronger," he said.

USF and St. Mary's lived up to Sobczak's expectations, he said. "The Gaels are an inexperienced team, but they are not afraid to swing," he added.

Sobczak said he was "rather disappointed with the year." With the single game left, the Spartans are 14-18 on the year. "I thought we'd have a better defense and better hitting, but it didn't materialize," he concluded.

Last year the Spartans had a better win-loss record, but were 10-2 in league, losing to UOP twice. An undefeated league season would make this year's record a little easier to take.

Sobczak said he was a little disappointed in the Tigers after seeing them for the first time. "I thought they were a lot stronger," he said.

USF and St. Mary's lived up to Sobczak's expectations, he said. "The Gaels are an inexperienced team, but they are not afraid to swing," he added.

Sobczak said he was "rather disappointed with the year." With the single game left, the Spartans are 14-18 on the year. "I thought we'd have a better defense and better hitting, but it didn't materialize," he concluded.

Last year the Spartans had a better win-loss record, but were 10-2 in league, losing to UOP twice. An undefeated league season would make this year's record a little easier to take.

Righthander Bill Dawson is scheduled to open on the mound today in Stockton, when the Spartans face the Tigers again, beginning at 1 p.m. Originally, the date was set for a double-header, but it was changed to a single game because of an availability problem with the field.

Frosh Basketball Tryouts Thursday

Tryouts for the freshman class basketball team that is to play at the SJS-San Jose City College exchange basketball game will be held tomorrow at 3:45 p.m. on the outdoor courts on San Salvador, between 8th and 9th Sts.

Any freshman who didn't play on the frosh basketball team is eligible to tryout, according to Art Simburg, freshman class president.

The exchange dance and game are set for Friday, May 17. The game is at 8 p.m. in the Men's Gym.

The dance in the Women's Gym at 9:30, is 25 cents per person, and any student may attend.

The freshman class is sponsoring the exchange.

stunned by the fantastic four-mile relay performance by University of Oregon, who set a world mark of 16:08.9. Archie San Romani ran a 4:03.5, Vic Reeve a 4:05.2, Keith Forman a 4:02.5 and anchor man Daryl Burleson a 3:57.7.

Saturday, Arizona State's track team will try for two more world standards. The crack mile relay tandem of Mike Barrick, Ron Freeman, Henry Carr and Uis Williams will try to lower its pending world mark of 3:04.5.

J. Flint Hanner, tournament director, is also looking for a possible new record in the 440-yard dash, where Williams and Carr have relay legs of 45.5 and 45.1 respectively.

C. K. Yang, who broke Rafer Johnson's world decathlon record at the Mt. San Antonio Relays, has entered the Fresno spectacle. Yang, the UCLA import from Nationalist China, is the first performer ever to score more than 9,000 points in the ten-event decathlon.

Golfers Take WCAC Meet; Face Hungry Stanford Next

By DAVE NEWHOUSE
Success apparently comes easy to the San Jose State varsity golfers, who wrapped up their second major tournament of the collegiate golf season Monday.

The Spartans took the West Coast Athletic Conference team championship for the second straight year, winning by three strokes at 283. Jim Wiechers, the tournament medalist at 65, led Santa Clara to a second place score of 286.

USF had 309 points, Loyola of Los Angeles 315, University of Pacific 319 and St. Mary's 325 to conclude tournament team scoring.

John Lotz of San Jose State was runner-up in individual action with a five-under par 67, at the Spring Valley course in Milpitas.

Wiechers, just a freshman, fired three eagles Monday, one each on the 15th and 17th holes to decide his battle with All-American Lotz for the individual crown. Wiechers had a 34 on the front nine, then closed with a 31.

Coaches Jerry Vroom and Walt McPherson played four seniors in the WCAC meet. Harlan Krantz continued his late season improvement with a 70, while Bill Aragona had a 72 and Dan James a 74.

The Spartan linksters earlier this year won the Western Intercollegiate by 11 strokes. Lotz was medalist in that tourney with a 281. Wiechers was third with a 287.

Lotz is now approaching the climax of a dazzling collegiate career. The 21-year-old native of Hayward won the Western medalist title for the third year in a row, becoming the first golfer in the history of the tournament to accomplish this feat.

Sunday, Lotz warmed up for the WCAC finale by winning the Northern California Match Play championship for the third time. This was only the third time since the match play began in 1906 that one man has won the title three times. Lotz is the first collegian to perform the hat-trick.

A third team All-American pick in 1961, Lotz earned first team honors last year as second low qualifier in the NCAA Championships. He's practically a shoo-in for similar laurels this season.

The men of SJS will conclude a prosperous dual match record Friday at Stanford in a return encounter with the revengeful Indians.

April 26, SJS ended a three-year Stanford dual win streak at 31, with a 17½-9½ victory over the Tribe at San Jose Country Club.

Bud Finger's golfmen will get the Spartans on the Stanford links

Friday, in the final scheduled match of the year for San Jose State.

The locals are 14-1-1 on the year, having lost to Southern California at Los Angeles and tied with Fresno State.

NEW AUTO INSURANCE SAVINGS ANNOUNCED

Savings up to $120 on automobile insurance are now common for married men under 25 years of age with the California Casualty Indemnity Exchange.

"Married men in this age bracket are generally paying excessive premiums for the degree of risk involved," says George M. Campbell, Spartan Representative for the Exchange.

"We believe that a married man with family responsibilities is a more careful driver, and causes fewer accidents," said Campbell. "Therefore, he is entitled to rates for mature drivers."

For example: A married man, age 22 with Bodily Injury Liability $10/20,000 Property Damage $5,000 and Medical $500 pays about $167 a year with most insurance companies. With California Casualty he would pay about $80 less $14 dividend, or a net of $66 (based on current 15 per cent dividend). Thus he saves about $101 with the Exchange. (Other coverages with comparable savings).

Campbell declared that even unmarried men and women with good driving records may save over 15 per cent.

Call or write for full information to George M. Campbell, 1885 The Alameda, San Jose, Phone 244-9600.
