

Pontiff Sets Precedent in U.N. Appearance

HISTORIC VISIT—Pope Paul's busy and precedent-setting day in the United States began when he arrived at Kennedy Airport yesterday morning with the message "the world needs peace, the world demands peace." The pontiff was welcomed by U Thant, secretary of the United Nations General Assembly, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller and Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York, and Francis Cardinal Spellman. Millions of New Yorkers lined the 24-mile parade route to catch a glimpse of the Pope.

Papal Peace Mission

Millions Greet Pope Paul

NEW YORK (UPI)—Pope Paul VI came to the United States Monday in a historic pilgrimage to warn the United Nations that peace is an indispensable condition of human survival. He was cheered by more than a million New Yorkers.

The U.N. appearance and the meeting with President Lyndon B. Johnson were highlights of an incredibly packed 14 hour visit that included a mass for peace at Yankee Stadium Monday night before 90,000 persons, his motor tour through the streets of the city, a meeting with Jewish and Protestant leaders and a fleeting visit to the Vatican pavilion at the World's Fair before his 11 p.m. departure.

He conferred privately with President Johnson before going to United Nations headquarters to tell the General Assembly that mankind has suffered too much from war and now "demands a true and lasting peace."

PATERNAL BLESSING

"If you wish to be brothers, let the arms fall from your hands. One cannot love while holding offensive arms," he told the U.N.

The first Pope ever to visit America bestowed an affectionate paternal blessing on this country's 45 million Roman Catholics and expressed his delight at being in "a country so free, so strong, so industrious, so full of wonders."

The 68-year-old pontiff arrived at Kennedy International Airport aboard a DC8 jetliner at 9:25 a.m. EDT after a 4,335 mile flight from Rome that broke all records for papal voyages. The Pope waved to the crowd of some 2,000 invited guests on the airport ramp, and then went down the official receiving line, smiling and shaking hands with United Nations Secretary General Thant, U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

MAYOR WAGNER

New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner knelt and kissed the Pope's ring.

Police estimated that 630,000 people saw the Pope during the initial stage of the motorcade, through the borough of Queens. There was no immediate official figure on the much larger crowds which lined the route in Manhattan, but they obviously totaled in the millions.

POLICE BARRICADES

After a brief stop at St. Patrick's Cathedral, on Fifth Avenue, the Pope went to the Waldorf Astoria Hotel for a private talk with President Johnson in the President's heavily guarded suite on the 35th floor.

GREETED BY PRESIDENT

President Johnson greeted him in a foyer of the suite, and led him into a parlor whose windows overlook Park Avenue. The Pope and President sat in two large chairs, upholstered in lemon yellow silk. Behind them were two smaller chairs for interpreters.

Mrs. Johnson and Luci did not remain in the room during the conference. The only person present besides the two principals and their interpreters was White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers.

Today is the last day to drop classes.

ADDRESSES U.N.—Pope Paul VI became the first Catholic Pontiff to ever visit the New World when he set foot on American soil yesterday. The 68-year-old leader of the world's Catholics visited New York to address the United Nations Assembly on its 20th anniversary.

Estabrook's 'Epigram' Set Today

An epigram is a short, pithy statement.

Dean Estabrook, SJS graduate student of music, has composed an "Epigram for Four Saxophones." It will be featured tonight at 8:15 at Phi Mu Alpha's Founder's Day Recital in Concert Hall.

"I have tried to represent a rise and a fall in emotion," said Estabrook. "I wrote it for the saxophone because works for the saxophone are not written often enough."

The 25-year-old University of Arizona graduate began writing the composition in late August. He worked it out on the piano though it is written for the soprano, alto, tenor and baritone saxophones.

"My major problem," said Estabrook, "was suiting the music to the instrument, or as my composition professor, Dr. Wilson Coker says, 'to make it into a logical piece of music.'"

"Music represents all of the basic movements and emotions of human beings. By listening to it, one can re-experience these things, the pain, the pleasure..."

Estabrook invites students and faculty to attend the Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia Founder's Day Recital tonight.

"I wish people would try to approach contemporary music with an open mind, realizing that the arts are seeking a style but that no one style is necessarily the answer."

'Queen' Deadline

Deadline for 1965 Homecoming Queen applications is this afternoon: Candidates must personally deliver their entry forms to the Journalism lab, J112.

Prospective queens must also sign for a portrait and for an interview and tea with the judges at the time of application.

Solon To Address Academic Senate

State Sen. Albert S. Rodda (D-Sacramento), will be featured speaker at the 1:30 p.m. session Thursday of the California State Colleges' Academic Senate, meeting on sixth floor of the library.

Dr. John Livingston, president of the Academic Senate and professor of political science at Sacramento

Chairmen Needed

Sub-committee chairmen for the ASB Rally Committee are urgently needed, chairman Jeff Conway announced yesterday.

Students may contact Conway at 286-1957 or John Kloster, card students chairman, at 293-3220.

Frosh Hopefuls Circulate Petitions For Nine Offices

Approximately 100 nominating petitions for nine freshman class offices are circulating among the Frosh, Ken Lane, ASB Election Board chairman said yesterday.

The petitions with at least 50 signatures, including ASB card numbers, must be turned in to the College Union no later than 4 p.m. Friday.

Elections for four student Council seats and five positions in the Freshman assembly will be held Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 18 and 19.

The positions in the Freshman Assembly include: executive director, assembly director, department director, executive secretary, and finance director.

Also on the ballot will be a number of ASB constitutional amendments. Chief among these will be one which changes the elective position of ASB Executive Secretary to an appointive office.

Refugees Welcomed

NEW YORK (UPI) — President Johnson, announcing this country's willingness to permit the entry of more Cuban refugees, said:

"Those who seek refuge here will find it."

State, said Sen. Rodda will present his views on the California State Master Plan for Higher Education.

According to Dr. Livingston, the two-day session will open at 9:30 a.m. Thursday with reports from committee chairmen on their plans for the coming year.

Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke, who had planned to appear for Thursday's session, is visiting Britain and will be unable to attend.

Also scheduled is a report from the Legislative Liaison Committee on House Bill 853, affecting names of State Colleges, and a report from the Faculty Affairs Committee on job categories.

Attending the Senate meetings as official delegates from SJS are

Dr. William R. Rogers, professor of elementary education; Dr. James P. Heath, professor of zoology; and Dr. Peter Koestenbaum, professor of philosophy.

Dr. Rogers and Dr. Heath are both members of the Senate's five-man Executive Committee. Dr. Heath is secretary of the Senate and Executive Committee.

Dr. Livingston will read a written report by the chancellor on the disposition of the Academic Senate's recommendations for last year.

The sessions, to be held on the sixth floor of the library in the main reading room, will open at 9:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. each day.

All interested faculty and students are invited to attend.

TG Party Ends in Arrest Of Two SJS Students

Fill a street with about 250 students, raise the temperature to about 90, and make sure it's a Friday afternoon—then stand back and call the police; it's a typical SJS TGIF (Thank God, It's Friday) party.

Just such ingredients came together on S. Ninth Street Friday and the frivolity led to the arrest of six participants, two of them students at SJS.

Four of the arrests came after police had sealed off S. Ninth Street between San Salvador and William Streets and had declared the party area an "unlawful assembly." Dale Chambers, 21, SJS student, of 745 S. Eighth St. was arrested at this time and booked with three non-students into the County Jail on charges including battery of a peace officer, failure to disperse, and resisting arrest. Chambers posted $550 bond and is slated to appear in court on Oct. 14.

The arrests apparently served to calm the rest of the crowd, and to lead police to assume that order had been restored. However, their figuring was a bit premature. Over on S. Eighth and William Streets, a new party began.

Officers also closed this area and declared it unlawful, but one woman, not a student at SJS, took particular offense at this action and allegedly urged her fellows to fight the police. Officer Earl McClure reported that, when he attempted to drag her to the paddy wagon after she had screamed, swung and kicked at him, he was knocked to the ground by Daniel W. Barclay, 24, of 230 San Salvador St.

Four SJS Victims

Car Batteries Stolen

It's hard enough getting started for school in the morning, but four SJS students found it extra difficult this week.

All four were victims of a series of car battery thefts which occurred in San Jose over the weekend. Ten complaints of battery thefts were filed with the San Jose Police Department.

Gordon D. Scott, 20-yr.-old junior commercial art major of 199 So. 14th St., told police his battery was lifted sometime between 11 a.m. Friday and 3:15 p.m. Saturday.

Patricia Lynne Brown, 20-yr.-old sophomore of 91 N. 8th St., Apt. 5, said her car's battery was taken sometime between midnight and 9:30 a.m. Sunday.

Donald S. Nelson, a 23-yr.-old senior music major, lives around the corner from Miss Brown. His battery was taken sometime Saturday.

Richard L. Hoadley, 19, of 695 So. 11th St., told police he parked his car on Margaret Street across from William Street Park Sunday and figured the battery was taken at approximately 7:30 p.m. Hoadley is a junior majoring in business administration.

In every case reported, police said, only the battery was taken from each car—everything else was left untouched. In one instance, according to police, the thief or thieves apparently was in such a hurry, because the car owner was approaching, that one of the battery posts was torn from the battery and left hanging from the battery cable.

The 10 reported battery thefts were located throughout the San Jose area.

Lisa Hobbs To Open Forum

Miss Lisa Hobbs, of the San Francisco Examiner, first staff reporter of a United States newspaper to enter communist China in almost 10 years, will open the fall semester ASB Forum Lecture Series Thursday at 10:30 a.m. in Concert Hall.

Miss Hobbs will speak on life inside Red China describing her 4,000 mile tour in the summer of 1965. Her talk is illustrated with color slides.

The ASB Forum Lecture Series is open to students, faculty, and public without charge.

For two fruitless years Miss Hobbs pestered the Chinese Communist officials for a visa making it clear to them that she would travel as a newspaper reporter. Only when she applied for a visa as a resident Australian she did receive the visa—in San Francisco—within three weeks.

Miss Hobbs has been a reporter in the United States for the past five years. She was educated in Australia, Denmark and the United States. A native of Australia, she attended the University of Melbourne where she achieved her academic degree in sociology.

Before joining the Examiner Staff, Miss Hobbs worked as a foreign correspondent for various newspapers in other parts of the world. She worked for two years in London including coverage of Buckingham Palace.

Dr. Freeman Sets 'Divinity' Lecture At Book Talk

Dr. Eugene Freeman, associate professor of philosophy, will initiate the fall semester's Faculty Book Talk program tomorrow at 12:30 in rooms A and B of the Spartan Cafeteria.

Dr. Freeman will review "Process and Divinity," which he co-authored with W. R. Reese, published by Open Court in 1964.

Other works written by Dr. Freeman include: "The Categories of Charles Peirce," Open Court 1934, and "The Wisdom and Ideas of Plato," a paperback edition published by Premier Books which has had three printings since 1952 and sold over 200,000 copies.

Freeman received his A.B. from UCLA and his Ph.D. from the University of Chicago. Before coming to SJS, he taught at Northern Illinois College in De Kalb and the Illinois Institute of Technology in Chicago.

Interviews Changed

Interviews for the ASB Election Board will be held today, not Thursday, as had previously been announced, Mike Neufeld, ASB Information Officer, announced.

The interviews will begin at 3 p.m. in the College Union.

Double Stadium Size

If Spartan Stadium were improved it would greatly increase the possibility of the University of California, Stanford University, and other major collegiate teams playing in San Jose instead of present scheduling which has the SJS football squad playing the two Bay Area teams on their home fields.

Cal and Stanford claim SJS facilities are not large enough to house the crowds. Other competitors balk because SJS cannot guarantee the visiting school enough money from gate returns.

If the stadium were enlarged, SJS almost certainly would be accepted into the Western Athletic Conference (WAC) which currently includes such rapidly growing institutions as the Universities of New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Wyoming, Brigham Young and Arizona State.

The San Jose Sports Commission is currently recommending to the City of San Jose and the State of California a project that deals with the enlargement of Spartan Stadium.

Now in exploratory stages, the plan calls for construction in 1967 of a double-deck Spartan Stadium that would improve seating capacity from 18,000 to 41,000. The approximate cost would be $2 million.

Spartan Athletic Director Robert Bronzan is one of the nine members of the sports commission. He says that the project would greatly benefit SJS and its sports program if the college, state, and city will mutually cooperate and work out the legal and financial aspects.

A stadium with a seating capacity of 41,000 would give San Jose a much better chance for professional sports attractions. The stadium could be utilized by the school, and the city. Both would benefit from attendance, concessions, and improved parking facilities.

SJS must let the city know that it is highly interested in the project and is willing to cooperate to help make it a profit-making venture.

Challenge To Explore

During the introductory lecture, a physical science class was told it was to receive an experimental method of instruction. The murmurs which followed that statement had one theme: "Will it be more work for us?"

No one's face lit up with excitement of being the vanguard in a new scholastic adventure. Nor was anyone curious enough to ask how the proposed method differed from the old ways.

Instructor demonstrations are so effortless on our part. We just watch—or pretend to. Certainly we become nervous and edgy at the thought of doing experiments with our own hands and our own minds. But with practice that feeling soon disappears.

How much more marvelous it is to peer at tiny, living organisms under a microscope than it is to view them indistinctly on a movie screen.

How much greater awareness we can experience by making a design of our own than by merely looking at someone else's creation.

Youth is the time to be adventurous, to find new avenues of learning and new means of assimilating some of life's mysteries into our own fund of knowledge. It is time to do it now before middle-age complacency becomes youthful indifference.

Casady To Get Briefing

SACRAMENTO UPI — Gov. Edmund G. Brown said yesterday he had arranged for Simon Casady, president of the California Democratic Council (CDC), to be briefed in Washington on the Viet Nam War situation.

The Democratic governor, who had called for Casady's resignation as head of the volunteer Democratic group, made the announcement at a news conference.

"The State Department will tell him exactly why we're in Viet Nam," the governor said.

The governor sought Casady's resignation from the CDC post for speeches in which he criticized the President's tough policy in Viet Nam.

Brown told newsmen that he failed to convince Casady to resign at a Los Angeles meeting last week. "We simply disagree," Brown said.

He also said that the McCone Commission hoped to meet a Jan. 1 target date on its report on the August riots in the Watts area of Los Angeles. He announced that the Ford Foundation had granted the commission $150,000 to meet part of the costs of its probe.

"General Washington, this is the wrong war, in the wrong place, at the wrong time!"

Apportionment Bill Stuck in Assembly, Senate Alterations

By DE VAN L. SHUMWAY
United Press International
SACRAMENTO UPI — Gov. Edmund G. Brown, although declining to intervene personally, today pressed for quick legislative action on Senate and Assembly reapportionment.

"I think they should move ahead more quickly," Brown told a news conference. "I hope a bill will be presented to the senate and assembly this week."

The governor said he had remapped bills ready for introduction to comply with the state Supreme Court's order that both houses be drawn along population lines.

The Legislature began the third week of its 1965 special session today and there were hopeful signs of a stepped-up pace.

Assembly: The major shift will be of one assembly district from San Francisco to Southern California's San Bernardino Orange County area.

Senate: There is growing sentiment for adoption of a modification of the plan suggested by the State Supreme Court Sept. 1, when it ordered redistricting.

Politico's Choice of Adjectives Adds to Bircher Backing Rift

EDITOR'S NOTE:
The following reply to recent charges by leading California Republican spokesmen concerning the alleged connections between the John Birch Society and support of gubernatorial candidates was written by Al Mason, senior journalism major. Mason is membership chairman of the SJS Young Republicans and a proponent of the JBS.

By AL MASON
It is almost laughable to see the confusion created among so many politicians these days at the mention of the John Birch Society. They either will tell you it is an odious menace or they tell you it is too insignificant to worry about.

It would seem that with all this criticism of what is essentially just an anti-Communist educational organization, one of these politicians could come up with a better alternative for those who want to do something constructive for the conservative movement.

The only trouble is that not one of them is creative enough to do it. All they want is the publicity.

I might suggest that the most recent outcry against the JBS by Republican Congressional leaders is a cry of fear. Not fear for their country or their principles, but fear that the tremendous growth shown by the JBS may force them to take consistent positions against such vital issues as disarmament, trade with Communist nations, Communist infiltration of the State Department (a la Alger Hiss), and big government.

These modern politicians don't like to think that public opinion might begin to demand fewer politicians and more statesmen. They criticize and smear every force, including the John Birch Society, that is working for statesmanship instead of brinksmanship and inconsistency.

Whether or not certain politicians like JBS founder Robert Welch, they fail to recognize that all too often for their comfort, Welch talks sense. They prefer to fool themselves into thinking that by hiding their heads in the sand and mumbling about the "menace" or variously "the insignificance" (depending on their mood at the moment) of the JBS and forget that the problems the JBS is talking about do exist.

HYPOCRITES RETIRE
I suppose that this process will go on until the last hypocrite is retired from office, that those who rock the boat and get people uneasy about things will be criticized and smeared by those who are responsible for the problems that exist.

It is well worth noting that such men as Birch critics Sen. Thomas Kuchel and Sen. Thurston Morton are directly responsible for so much of the tyrannical collectivism the JBS opposes. They have, as it were, a vested interest in their own errors.

EDITOR'S NOTE:

The Thrust and Parry section of the editorial page offers students and faculty a chance to express their views on campus, local, national, or international issues. Space is allowed to encourage written debates on such current affairs. Contributions to Thrust and Parry must not exceed 250 words, must be typewritten, double spaced within 55-space margins and properly signed with the writer's name and faculty or ASB number. The Daily will not print letters which are libelous, in poor taste, or include a personal attack. The editor reserves the right to edit or cut letters to conform to space limitations and to cease publication of letters dealing with subjects he believes have been exhausted.

Dr. Porter Claims Letter Lost Meaning

Editor:

I recognize the Daily's policy of reserving the right to edit Thrust and Parry letters, without using the customary elision dots.

However, in the abridgment of my letter of Oct. 1 regarding the propriety of faculty letters in Thrust and Parry, the omitted portions resulted in a substantial change in my rationale, at least so it seems to me.

I am dittoing up a few sets of the letter as I submitted it to the Daily, and as it was printed, and will be glad to make these available to any interested member of the academic community on request.

Student Questions Movie Ad's Image

Editor:

I would like to comment not on an editorial opinion but on an advertising blunder.

In one large ad you suggest we send a copy of the Daily home to the folks. But what would some of our folks think when they see an ad that says "Spartan Show Slate" and lists the movies: 1+1 (Kinsey Report), and Whit Voices, and includes that magic phrase ADULTS ONLY twice in the ad.

It's possible that poor old Mom wouldn't realize these were private ads and not a list of our "culture." Result: parental shock. Remedy: change ad to indicate that these are private theaters.

Signed by a freshman advertising major who hopes someday to be able to make the same blunders.

Steve Stevens

AD MANAGER'S NOTE: The point is well taken. The ad shall now read "Show Slate". Thank you for bringing the matter to my attention.

Today Is Birthday Of Chester—Who?

By SUSIE KANG
Campus Life Editor

Today is the 135th birthday of Chester Alan Arthur.

"Who?"

Chester Alan Arthur... last name pronounced "ar'ther." The name doesn't ring a bell? Well, don't feel too bad; 11 out of 15 students interviewed yesterday on campus did not know, either.

CABINET MEMBER?

A public relations major rushing toward the library said that he had heard the name, but identified Arthur as "secretary of something... a cabinet member, I think." He was wrong.

Two coeds sitting under a tree near the bookstore, with their textbooks opened, shook their heads "no" when asked if they could identify the man.

The most shocking reply came from a student who was on his way to the dormitory. "Chester Arthur? Don't know any one by that name living in the dorm. Check the student directory. I think he lives on 11th Street somewhere."

NOT QUITE, SIR

A professor of business was confronted with the question on his way to a departmental meeting.

"Do you know who Chester A. Arthur is, sir?"

The distinguished-looking educator in his silver-gray suit thought for a minute. "Let's see now," he said and then proceeded to mumble a list of names, "Washington, Adams, Jefferson—no, no—later than that. Um, Lincoln, Johnson, Jackson."

Nearly confident, he announced, "He was a vice president sometime in our history." He was correct, but only partly so.

GREEK TO YOU, HUH

If the interviewee saw the name in writing, he might recognize it quicker. A junior sociology major sitting on a bench near Centennial Hall looked at the name.

"No, no, no!" she exclaimed. "You've written the wrong name here. It is not 'Chester Alan Arthur,' but Chester A. Garfield. He was one of the 18th century U.S. presidents. Was assassinated."

The coed's information was jumbled, but she was on the right track.

GET THAT PARTY RIGHT

An upper division political science major might know. But no. The bespectacled male student confessed that he did not know who Arthur was but queried, "He was a Democrat, wasn't he?"

For the benefit of those who do not know the identity of Chester Alan Arthur (the writer being counted in this group of "shoulder-shruggers"), today is the 135th birthday of the 21st president of the U.S.

Miss Billie Jensen, assistant professor of history, offered the first correct identification. "Chester Arthur succeeded to the Presidency when James Garfield was killed by assassination. Arthur was known as a 'machine politician' and was quite vocal in politics of his time."

Happy Birthday, Chester Alan Arthur!

Harriers Capture Meet; Tougher Trials Ahead

Although physically tired from a strenuous workout the previous day, Spartan cross-country runners dominated a triangular meet with Sacramento State and Cal State at Hayward on the latter's course Saturday.

SJS totaled only 20 points in the meet (low score wins in cross-country), while Sacramento State racked up 50 and Cal State 71. Friday afternoon, the Spartans ran some 18 miles, looking past the meet at Hayward to this weekend's Sacramento State Invitational, where the Spartans face Stanford and California among other Northern California squads.

Despite its third-place finish teamwise Saturday, Cal State boasted the top individual in John Loden, a former SJS student.

Following Loden across the finish line of the hilly, 3.5 mile-course was Bill Langdon, recently promoted to the No. 1 spot on the Spartan roster.

Rich Klemmer, who was running unattached because he had not made the starting seven for Merv Smith's Spartans, finished third and was subsequently inserted into the No. 3 spot on the ladder of success.

Sophomore Jim Berta, the No. 12 man before the race, also impressed Smith, as did No. 2 harrier Jim Sullivan.

Big Weekend:

Poloists Smash Fresno, Lose to Southern Cal

After coasting to an easy win Friday night, the SJS water polo squad lost its most important contest of the young season Saturday, dropping a 6-3 decision to national-powerhouse USC.

Before a full house Friday night, Lee Walton's pool sharks devoured Fresno State 31-5 in the Spartan pool.

The defeat Saturday morning took place in the spacious Foothill Junior College pool—a factor which Walton felt played a major role in the tilt's outcome.

"I'm not making excuses, because we were beat by an excellent team, but the big pool worked to their advantage," Walton exclaimed.

BIG POOL

USC requested the game be contested at Foothill because the Spartan pool is so small. Besides the obvious home-court advantage of familiarity, the Spartans' home grounds are specially suited for Walton's motion offense.

Three minutes into the USC fray, Olympian swimmer Roy Saari of USC scored the game's first goal, with teammate Dean Williford later capitalizing on a bad pass to give the Trojans a 2-0 first-quarter advantage.

After Steve Hoberg controlled the sprint to start the second quarter, Spartan John Williams whipped in the hosts' first score.

A tip shot after a controversial foul moved USC in front 3-1 before reserve Mike Hansen took a pass from Sheldon Harmatz and scored to pull the Spartans within one at halftime.

INSURMOUNTABLE LEAD

Two quick goals in the third quarter gave USC an insurmountable 5-2 lead. Saari ended the contest with three markers, while Hansen scored SJS's final goal to lead his team, with two.

Walton lamented over mental errors, which led directly to three Troy goals.

The Spartans took as many shots as USC, but many of their attempts were weak and conceivably could have slipped by goalie Mike Sullivan if they had more steam on them.

Hoberg—who beat Saari and Williford twice each in the sprints to earn the crowd's approval—Hansen, Don Moore and goalie Bruce Hobbs all won the praise of Walton.

QUICK LEAD

It was no contest Friday night, as Greg Swan and Williams garnered three goals as SJS jumped to a 10-2 first quarter lead. In the third quarter, the Spartans outscored the Bulldogs 14-1, with reserve Jim Moblad racking up three tallies.

GIFTED GOALIE—Spartan goalie Bruce Hobbs (22) prepares to throw the ball to a teammate after blocking a Fresno State shot in Friday night's 31-5 water polo conquest. Hobbs was outstanding in Saturday's 6-3 loss to USC.

Fresh Poloists Split Two Games

The Spartan freshman water polo team defeated a junior college squad, but couldn't handle high-schoolers in last weekend's action.

After whipping West Valley JC 11-5 Friday night behind Don Laster's five goals, the Spartababes fell 7-4 to Santa Clara High Saturday morning.

Mark Fuller, Bruce Prefontaine and goalie Bob Likens were commended for their work by Coach Lee Walton.

BYU Friday Night

Injuries Hit Spartans As Berry, Heron Hurt

Things look bad for the Spartan football squad this week as it prepares for Friday night's game against Brigham Young at Provo, Utah.

Coach Harry Anderson must get his team straightened out after Saturday evening's battering at the hands of Utah State.

Injuries have hit the Spartans, and right where it hurts. Quarterback Ken Berry went under X-rays yesterday to determine if he has a cracked rib. Berry caught a helmet in his rib cage against the Aggies.

Fred Heron is also a doubtful performer against BYU. He suffered a mild concussion.

"We played a good team in Utah State. The only thing left for us to do is to pick ourselves up and go after BYU this week," commented Anderson.

In the Utah State contest, Spartan miscues killed any chance at all of them catching up to the Aggies after being down 28-8 at the half.

BAD QUARTER

In the third quarter the Spartans had the ball for 13 plays. Of those, there was one punt, two interceptions, two fumbles, one incomplete pass, and two running plays that went for lost yardage, and an offside penalty.

Looking at the more promising aspects of the game, the Spartans defense was very stingy around their goal line. Several times the Aggies were closing in for the score and SJS would tighten up to stop the visitors.

The Spartans held on their 23, five, and nine yard lines.

Defensive halfback Jim McGuire came up with a fine play when he lunged at the last moment to knock away a potential USU TD pass in the end zone.

WATTS INTERCEPTION

Linebacker Rich Watts intercepted an Aggie pass in the third period and rambled 56 yards to the winner's 12 yard line before he was tackled.

Probably the most disappointing play was in the second quarter when Berry hit Harry Kellogg with a perfect 48 yard pass at the goal line only to have it called back by an illegal procedure penalty.

Kellogg grabbed three passes for 64 yards. Steve Cox also had three receptions for 36 yards.

Fullback Charley Harraway led Spartan ball carriers with 77 yards on the ground.

Greek Grid Crews in Action Today

Fraternity league football play begins its second week today, with a slate of five games.

Three of the four squads which presently boast perfect 1-0 records will be shooting for their second wins.

ATO meets Theta Xi on field No. 1, Theta Chi battles Sigma Nu on No. 3 and Delta Sigma Phi faces Lambda Chi Alpha on No. 4. The first-mentioned in these contests were winners last Thursday.

Other games are DU vs. Sigma Pi on No. 2 and Sigma Chi vs. Sig Eps on No. 5. SAE draws a bye.

Intramural sports director Dan Unruh reports that pairings for the upcoming all-college tennis tournament will be posted on the intramural bulletin board tomorrow.

Aptitude Test Dates Given

The Law School Aptitude Test, an examination required for admission to most American law schools, should be taken this school year by seniors planning to enter law school next fall, according to pre-law adviser Dr. Theodore M. Norton.

Currently scheduled test dates are Nov. 13, 1965, Feb. 12, April 9 and Aug. 6, 1966.

Test centers for the November and February dates will be the University of California, Stanford University and University of Santa Clara, Dr. Norton said.

Application forms and test information are available in the political science office, CH223. Applications for the Nov. 13 test should reach the Educational Testing Service at Princeton, New Jersey, no later than Sunday, Oct. 31.

Senior Ad Major Wins Scholarship

The annual San Jose Advertising Club's $200 scholarship has been awarded to SJS senior Bill Christopher.

The award, presented by the local professional group to the outstanding senior SJS advertising major, went to Christopher in June for the current academic year.

The scholarship recipient from Olympia, Wash., interned this summer in the advertising division of the San Francisco world headquarters of Bank of America.

He is treasurer of SJS' chapter of Alpha Delta Sigma, national advertising fraternity.

Co-Rec Features 'Bill' Penn, Pals

William Penn and His Pals, a new band which has been breaking dance attendance records in the Bay Area, will play at tomorrow night's Co-Rec.

The Women's Gym will be open from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. for dancing and sports, Tom Horn, Co-Rec chairman, announced.

William Penn and His Pals reportedly broke dance attendance records at the Cinnamon Tree, College of San Mateo, and at Oakland radio station KEWB's Fun Town U.S.A., Horn said.

Have you got what it takes to tackle jobs like these...right after graduation?

(Then see our man on campus. He's got a career for you.)

John Stangland B.S. in Bus. Admin., San Fernando State.

After just three weeks on the job, John took charge of a crew of 19 non-management men. As manager he's responsible for quality and cost control, production and personnel matters in our Plant Department. Under his direction, all performance levels have improved greatly.

Raymond Owens B.S. in Mechanical Engineering, University of California.

Responsibility was Ray's from the start. He was asked to prepare a study of the power requirements for the first of a new type automatic telephone center. To do this he had to determine how the equipment would fit in the allocated space and then engineer the job. It was a major project—with a working budget of over $85,000.

Max Gresoro A.B. in Economics, San Diego State.

Max's first assignment was to undertake the position of Section Supervisor in the San Diego Accounting office. In this job he supervised six management and 65 non-management women. Job well done? Max was promoted to the next level management and now is in charge of Reports and Results for the same office.

Jim Burk A.B., Stanford University; M.B.A., University of California.

Supervising a sales group of five people and servicing over 1,300 complex customer accounts is a mighty big first job. As Sales Manager of the Marysville district, Jim and his group handle sales which result in over $300,000 worth of revenue a year.
