Health center tries to quell AIDS fears

By Paul Buffner
Spartan Daily Staff

Spartan blood related services may have placed for the campus community concerning its policies on AIDS.

AIDS tests were given last week at a blood drive sponsored by the medical center in the health center. "It is a common practice to have patients undergo these tests," said Dr. Eugene. "There are cases where the patient may have a history of disease that may affect their blood, such as syphilis or hepatitis."

The health center has taken precautions to ensure the safety of all blood donors. "All blood is screened for HIV and other sexually transmitted diseases," said Dr. Eugene. "Donors who have traveled to certain countries or have had unprotected sex with multiple partners are screened for HIV.

Donors are also advised to inform the health center if they have had any transfusions or blood products in the past three months because these can also be a source of infection."

The health center has policies in place to make sure blood donations are handled with care. "Blood is stored at -70 degrees Celsius in a special freezer," said Dr. Eugene. "This ensures that the blood is sterile and uncontaminated."

Donors are also given a questionnaire to fill out before donating blood. "This helps us to identify any potential risks associated with the donation," said Dr. Eugene. "For example, if a donor has had a recent blood transfusion, we may not be able to accept their blood.

The health center encourages all students to donate blood. "It is a great way to give back to the community and help those in need," said Dr. Eugene. "By donating blood, you are helping to save lives and improve the health of others.

Donors are also rewarded for their generosity. "We offer donors a gift card to a local store as a thank you," said Dr. Eugene. "This helps to make donating blood a more enjoyable experience.

The health center also has policies in place to protect the privacy of donors. "We do not share any information about donors with anyone other than other health care providers," said Dr. Eugene. "This helps to ensure that donors feel comfortable donating blood.

Overall, the health center is taking all necessary precautions to ensure the safety of blood donors and recipients. "We are committed to providing the best possible care to all our patients," said Dr. Eugene. "By donating blood, you are helping to save lives and make a difference in the lives of others.

Donors are encouraged to donate blood at the health center at the Medical Center. "We are always looking for new donors," said Dr. Eugene. "By donating blood, you are making a difference in the lives of others and helping to improve the health of our community.

Overtime decision handcuffs UPD

By David Leland

San Jose City Council is debating whether to adopt an ordinance that would give the police department overtime pay for working more than 40 hours in a week.

The debate is centered around the department's request for additional personnel to handle the city's growing population. "We need to hire more officers to handle the increased workload," said Officer Jeff Higginbotham.

The council will consider the request at its next meeting on Wednesday. "We need to make a decision on whether to give the police department overtime pay," said Councilor Cortines.

The council has also considered a proposal to give the police department additional funding to hire more officers. "We need to find a way to pay for the additional personnel," said Councilor Cortines.

The council is expected to make a decision on the issue at its next meeting.

Protesters' court date set

By Patricia Pate

Three SJSU students who occupied Tower Hall offices in protest ofuart last month are scheduled for trial in San Jose Municipal Court Oct. 28.

The students were arrested on Oct. 16 after refusing to leave the offices.

The students were charged with trespassing and resisting arrest. "We are going to fight this in court," said Student President Cavaretta.

The students are seeking a court date in the case.

Football players to stand trial Nov. 18

Three SJSU football players are scheduled to stand trial Nov. 18.

The players were arrested on Sept. 26 after a fight broke out on campus.

The players were charged with assault and battery. "We are going to fight this in court," said Team Captain Burns.

The players are seeking a court date in the case.

Donors put out 193 more pints: blood drive reverses slow start

By Steve Pipe

Spartan Daily Staff Writer

The blood drive that began with a slow start has now reversed course.

Donors have started coming in even though the drive began slowly.

"We have had a lot of donors today," said Blood Center Director Burns.

The center has set a goal of 200 donations by the end of the week.

"We are hoping to reach this goal," said Burns.

The center has also set a goal of 200 donations for the month.

"We are hoping to reach this goal as well," said Burns.

"We are hoping to reach this goal as well," said Burns.

Greeks dive for charity

Fourth annual Anchor Splash hooks about $2,220

By StevePipe

Spartan Daily Staff Writer

The annual Anchor Splash event took place Saturday. "It was a great day," said Organizing Committee Chair Burns.

The event raised $2,220 for the hospital.

"It was a great day," said Organizing Committee Chair Burns.

"It was a great day," said Organizing Committee Chair Burns.

Enough is enough

Soccer team wants to stop losing streak

By Brian Pan

Spartan Daily Staff Writer

The soccer team is looking to end its losing streak.

"We are ready to start winning," said Midfielder Burns.

The team has lost five of its last six games.

"We are ready to start winning," said Midfielder Burns.

"We are ready to start winning," said Midfielder Burns.

Any way you can

Volleyball wins sloppy match against San Diego State

By Brian Pan

Spartan Daily Staff Writer

The volleyball team won a hard-fought match against San Diego State.

"It was a great win," said Coach Burns.

The team has now won three of its last four games.

"It was a great win," said Coach Burns.

"It was a great win," said Coach Burns.

---

"If something is happening around you, get involved. You can't just put your head in the sand."

~ Oscar Battle, SJHSU health educator

---
The name of the game

Fast food is useful for students

The point is that fast food has become a major part of our lives. The food usually isn’t bad, the service is usually good, and the price isn’t too bad. There are, however, some caveats.

The most obvious one is that there is no nutritional benefit. Fast food is high in calories, fat, and sugar, and low in vitamins, minerals, and fiber. It is also high in saturated fat, which can lead to heart disease and other health problems.

Another problem with fast food is that it is often high in sodium. The average fast-food meal contains about 1,200 milligrams of sodium, which is equal to about 50% of the recommended daily intake. This can lead to high blood pressure and other health problems.

Fast food is also usually high in added sugars. The average fast-food meal contains about 18 teaspoons of added sugars, which is equal to about 9% of the recommended daily intake. This can lead to weight gain, type 2 diabetes, and other health problems.

Finally, fast food is often high in processed ingredients. The average fast-food meal contains about 12 grams of processed ingredients, which is equal to about 2% of the recommended daily intake. This can lead to health problems, such as heart disease and cancer.

Letter to the Editor

Anne Spandau

The fact is that a child with AIDS is attending the same class as us, and I won’t let it happen.

Next is Jack in the Box. There are some good things about Jack in the Box. The hamburgers are pretty good, and the fries are pretty good, too. But the atmosphere is pretty cheesy. The decor is pretty cheesy, and the music is pretty cheesy, too.

Another argument against allowing AIDS victims to attend school is that this puts too much stress on the students. This is a valid argument. I don’t think that this puts too much stress on the students. I think that this puts too much stress on the teachers.

Another argument against allowing AIDS victims to attend school is that this puts too much stress on the parents. This is a valid argument. I don’t think that this puts too much stress on the parents. I think that this puts too much stress on the students.

Another argument against allowing AIDS victims to attend school is that this puts too much stress on the community. This is a valid argument. I don’t think that this puts too much stress on the community. I think that this puts too much stress on the students.

Another argument against allowing AIDS victims to attend school is that this puts too much stress on the economy. This is a valid argument. I don’t think that this puts too much stress on the economy. I think that this puts too much stress on the students.

Another argument against allowing AIDS victims to attend school is that this puts too much stress on the environment. This is a valid argument. I don’t think that this puts too much stress on the environment. I think that this puts too much stress on the students.

Another argument against allowing AIDS victims to attend school is that this puts too much stress on the infrastructure. This is a valid argument. I don’t think that this puts too much stress on the infrastructure. I think that this puts too much stress on the students.

Another argument against allowing AIDS victims to attend school is that this puts too much stress on the public health system. This is a valid argument. I don’t think that this puts too much stress on the public health system. I think that this puts too much stress on the students.

Another argument against allowing AIDS victims to attend school is that this puts too much stress on the security system. This is a valid argument. I don’t think that this puts too much stress on the security system. I think that this puts too much stress on the students.

Another argument against allowing AIDS victims to attend school is that this puts too much stress on the transportation system. This is a valid argument. I don’t think that this puts too much stress on the transportation system. I think that this puts too much stress on the students.

Another argument against allowing AIDS victims to attend school is that this puts too much stress on the energy system. This is a valid argument. I don’t think that this puts too much stress on the energy system. I think that this puts too much stress on the students.

Another argument against allowing AIDS victims to attend school is that this puts too much stress on the water system. This is a valid argument. I don’t think that this puts too much stress on the water system. I think that this puts too much stress on the students.

Another argument against allowing AIDS victims to attend school is that this puts too much stress on the waste system. This is a valid argument. I don’t think that this puts too much stress on the waste system. I think that this puts too much stress on the students.

Another argument against allowing AIDS victims to attend school is that this puts too much stress on the education system. This is a valid argument. I don’t think that this puts too much stress on the education system. I think that this puts too much stress on the students.

Another argument against allowing AIDS victims to attend school is that this puts too much stress on the health care system. This is a valid argument. I don’t think that this puts too much stress on the health care system. I think that this puts too much stress on the students.

Another argument against allowing AIDS victims to attend school is that this puts too much stress on the social system. This is a valid argument. I don’t think that this puts too much stress on the social system. I think that this puts too much stress on the students.

Another argument against allowing AIDS victims to attend school is that this puts too much stress on the economic system. This is a valid argument. I don’t think that this puts too much stress on the economic system. I think that this puts too much stress on the students.

Another argument against allowing AIDS victims to attend school is that this puts too much stress on the political system. This is a valid argument. I don’t think that this puts too much stress on the political system. I think that this puts too much stress on the students.
Greeks all wet for charity

Money raised to benefit local charity for the blind

continued from page 1

Kristina Almy, an Athena and a member of Kappa Sigma, said that she enjoyed the event.

"It was a lot of fun," she said. "I'm really happy that we could do this to help the blind.

'******

Overtime budget strains UPD

continued from page 1

with the officers'8 salaries having been frozen for one and one-half years.

According to Evan, there is no- tably a bigger police presence during the overtime situations.

He said, "It helps to have people on the beat here to take a response time for the catalyst for the increase in the number of police officers on campus.

He added that he was concerned about the costs associated with the overtime, but he was confident that the additional officers would be beneficial to the community.

According to Evan, the increase in the number of police officers on campus is due to the demands of the community and the need for increased security.

He said, "We have been asked to increase the number of police officers on campus because of the increasing number of incidents, especially those involving theft and vandalism.

Evan added that the officers are dedicated to maintaining a safe and secure environment for all students and staff.

He said, "Our main goal is to ensure that our community members feel safe and protected."

---

Protesters Tell School Board to Move Forward with Budget

continued from page 1

said that there were many concerns about the school board's budget.

Kummer said that the board should have backed more in the budget for law enforcement.

She said, "We cannot continue to make cuts to the police department and expect the officers to do more with less."

Kummer added that the increased costs of officers' salaries are a major factor in the budget strain.

She said, "The cost of salaries for the officers is increasing at a faster rate than the revenue generated by the school.

Kummer further stated that the officers are effective in preventing crime and maintaining safety on campus.

She said, "The officers are a valuable resource and we cannot afford to lose them due to budget cuts."

Kummer concluded by urging the school board to take action to address the budget strain and to ensure that the officers receive the necessary resources to do their jobs effectively.

---

Drive sets record

continued from page 1

said, "We're very happy," Greg Clay- mond, junior accounting and finance major. "We really sold out in the last hour.

We worked hard all year, and it all worked really hard this year and it paid off.

"The team competed in a 200-yard breaststroke relay, a 200-yard butterfly, a 200-yard freestyle relay, and the 200-yard medley relay.

The team's best performance came in the medley relay, where they swam a time of 3:30.50 to win.

---

SACRAMENTO (AP) - California state education officials have announced that they will proceed with the budget sets for the upcoming school year.

Officials said that the budget sets will be based on the latest available data and will be developed in consultation with local school districts.

The budget sets will be used to allocate funds to schools and programs, and will be used to plan for the upcoming school year.

---

For All Your Plastic Needs

• Building Materials • Plexiglass by Rohm and Haas

For All Your Plastic Needs

---

SACRAMENTO (AP) - California state education officials have announced that they will proceed with the budget sets for the upcoming school year.

Officials said that the budget sets will be based on the latest available data and will be developed in consultation with local school districts.

The budget sets will be used to allocate funds to schools and programs, and will be used to plan for the upcoming school year.

---

Los Angeles, Calif. - The city council has approved the budget for the upcoming school year, which includes a 4.5% increase in per-pupil spending.

The budget sets are intended to address the needs of the city's public schools and to ensure that all students have access to a quality education.

The budget sets include increased funding for special education, classroom supplies, and technology.

The council approved the budget after several hours of debate and public comment.

---

For All Your Plastic Needs

• Building Materials • Poly-Shielding • Corrugated Panels

For All Your Plastic Needs

---

Health educators to issue report on AIDS policies

continued from page 1

Education.

Curtins said the state Depart- ment of Education is in the process of providing AIDS guidelines for education, and that schools district should have a clear understanding of the guidelines.

Curtins said that the guidelines are important because they provide a framework for schools to discuss AIDS policies and procedures.

Curtins added that the guidelines are also important because they provide a clear understanding of the rights and responsibilities of students and staff.

Curtins concluded by urging schools to develop policies and procedures that are consistent with the guidelines and are designed to protect the health and safety of all students and staff.
Soccer team tired of being kicked around

By Bob Lynn
Data staff writer

The SJSU soccer team has fallen on hard times.

The Spartans, 3-8-2, have lost five games in a row, including last weekend's 3-0 setback against Fullerton State.

Fullerton scored with two minutes remaining in overtime to give it a 3-0 victory and to extend winning streak to three games this year.

The Bruins, ranked first on the West Coast, beat SJSU 3-0 in Long Beach.

According to Spartans coach John Corbelli, "We've been playing pretty well, but we've just fallen apart at the end of the game."
Spartan Guide

Cattle rustling returns to 1980s
Modern cattle rustlers wear running shoes, not boots

WALNUT CREEK—Cattle rustling is making the news once again. Bandits and law enforcement officers say cattle theft, a 20th-century equivalent of the old-time horse rustling, is once again a serious problem in the Walnut Creek area. Officials say the thieves, cut to the bone, of late, are roaming the countryside, looking for easy pickings for the herd.

According to the police, cattle rustling is primarily a rural crime, but the illegal practice is not limited to the countryside. In many cases, it is reported, the crime is committed by city dwellers, who steal cattle to use for personal gain, either to sell or to use for food or other purposes.

Cattle rustling is not a new phenomenon. It has been a part of American history for centuries, dating back to the days of the early Spanish settlers. However, in recent years, the crime has become more prevalent, as a result of the increased value of cattle and the availability of new technology, such as GPS tracking systems.

The police say that the criminals are often well-organized and well-equipped, with the ability to quickly transport cattle out of the state, and that much of the theft is done by herdsmen who live on the edges of the state. The police say that they are working hard to catch the criminals, and that they are making progress.

The police say that the criminals are often well-organized and well-equipped, with the ability to quickly transport cattle out of the state, and that much of the theft is done by herdsmen who live on the edges of the state. The police say that they are working hard to catch the criminals, and that they are making progress.

The police say that the criminals are often well-organized and well-equipped, with the ability to quickly transport cattle out of the state, and that much of the theft is done by herdsmen who live on the edges of the state. The police say that they are working hard to catch the criminals, and that they are making progress.

The police say that the criminals are often well-organized and well-equipped, with the ability to quickly transport cattle out of the state, and that much of the theft is done by herdsmen who live on the edges of the state. The police say that they are working hard to catch the criminals, and that they are making progress.

The police say that the criminals are often well-organized and well-equipped, with the ability to quickly transport cattle out of the state, and that much of the theft is done by herdsmen who live on the edges of the state. The police say that they are working hard to catch the criminals, and that they are making progress.

The police say that the criminals are often well-organized and well-equipped, with the ability to quickly transport cattle out of the state, and that much of the theft is done by herdsmen who live on the edges of the state. The police say that they are working hard to catch the criminals, and that they are making progress.

The police say that the criminals are often well-organized and well-equipped, with the ability to quickly transport cattle out of the state, and that much of the theft is done by herdsmen who live on the edges of the state. The police say that they are working hard to catch the criminals, and that they are making progress.
SPARTAN FOOTBALL SPIRIT NIGHT
Show Your Spirit by Attending the
SAN JOSE STATE vs FULLERTON STATE
Thursday, October 3rd, 6:00 pm
Spartan Stadium

1) Contest for Largest Student Group in Attendance
   (Frats, Sororities, Dorms and other Student Groups)
2) Banner Contest — Most Creative
   Banner Theme: Beating the Titans on National TV
3) Special Ticket Outlet at the Mall in front of the Student Union
   Sept. 30-Oct. 3rd, 10:00 am-2:00 pm

BILL WALSH AND KRAZY GEORGE WILL BE THERE, HOW ABOUT YOU?

For Contest and Ticket Info: Call 277-3248