DR. DUNCAN RESCUES VALUED DUMMY

By DICK COX

It was homecoming day for the missing manikin of the Health office yesterday, according to Dr. Carl Duncan and Miss Margaret M. Twombly, Health director. "The poor thing! His brains are missing and his left clavicle is broken, but otherwise he seems in good shape," Miss Twombly exclaimed.

Dr. Duncan reports that the manikin was found hanging in front of the Freshman Girls' dormitory at Stanford University by Don Arnitstead, a Stanford anatomy student.

Arnitstead took the manikin to his room at the home of Mr. Van Gorder, greenskeeper of the Stanford golf course. The daughter of the family, known only to Dr. Duncan as "Bunny," learned from an unknown male student of San Jose State that the Health office was shy one manikin. The student learned of the missing manikin from a Spartan Daily story.

Arnitstead and Mrs. Gorder notified Dr. Duncan, their neighbor, and the entomology professor came to identify "the body."

"I recognized the little fellow immediately," Dr. Duncan said, "and I brought him back to school. The manikin is made of papier-mache. Maybe somebody wanted a paper doll to call his own."

The Health office reports that the manikin has been missing for two weeks. An extensive search has been carried on since that time. Appeals were made through the Spartan Daily and other local papers for the return of the "body."

The San Jose Police department was notified, and the Detective Bureau took over the case.

"It would cost between $1000 and $1500 to replace the manikin, but it would be impossible to secure another of the same quality," Miss Twombly remarked.

As soon as the manikin was returned he was placed in an inner office of the Health Office where members of the staff can keep an eye on him.

When it was discovered that the manikin had lost his brains at Stanford someone remarked, "Well it's no wonder. He didn't need any up there!"

DRIVE FOR $1800 IS EXTENDED

"San Jose State college students want to make their goal in the Community Chest drive, and I think they will," reported student Drive Chairman Patricia Polk yesterday noon at the Fifth Report luncheon for San Jose Community Chest campaign workers.

To date only $954.40 has been collected toward the $1800 student goal. In order to give the college a better showing than this Miss Polk has extended the drive two weeks, officially ending it on November 6.

San Jose State college students representing the campus and all leaders of the campaign were praised by Louis Rossi, city campaign leader for their efforts in aiding the drive.

Other campus leaders besides Miss Polk who were guests at the luncheon in the Catholic Women's Center were: Howard Brose, Spartan Knight representative; Olive Knowles, Spartan Spears president; Esma Rucker, president of Inter-Society council; Merton Root, president of Inter-Fraternity council; Dot Moody, president of AWS; Hugh Wilson, Spartan Daily editor; and Dr. Harry T. Jensen, representing Dean Paul Pitman.

SPARTANS LEAVE TONIGHT FOR AZTEC STRUGGLE

By TOM ROWEN

A great Spartan football team, 35 strong, leaves tonight for the southland to play a tough San Diego State college eleven tomorrow night in the Border city. The game is a Shrine benefit game and will be played at Balboa bowl before an estimated crowd of 25,000 fans. Kickoff time 8 p.m.

The experts have again established the Gold and White team as a pre-game favorite. However, Headman Bill Hubbard will have to have his club fired up for a rough ball game because the Aztecs always are a hard club to beat when they are playing in their own backyard.

The Spartans wind up practice today for the game with a light workout. They went through offensive and defensive drills yesterday afternoon at the practice field. Hubbard appears worried about the contest because of the nearness of the big game with COP.

200 SPARTANS FOLLOW TEAM

Led by drum majorette Pauline Deardorff, and drum major Bob Reid, from 150 to 200 Spartan rooters are planning to take part in a "Spartan Caravan" to the San Diego State college-San Jose State college football game Saturday night in the border city.

The national champion San Diego American Legion band will be the visitor's band, and will be on hand with the rooters from Sparta to greet the Spartan team when it arrives in the Aztec's home town at the Santa Fe depot Saturday afternoon.

The major portion of Spartan rooters will leave San Jose between noon today and four a.m. tomorrow to be at the game, although some will not be able to leave until Saturday noon. There will be a contingent of two earloads representing Tri-Gamma fraternity which will be among those present at the game, according to Tri-Gamma member Phil Piazza.

Spartan yell leaders Bill Thorner and Glen Stewart will be at the game to lead yells, as will Shirley Hamkins and Ann Corwin, two of the new song girls. Al Raeffelli has planned card stunts for the Spartan rooters, in which at least 100 SJSC students are expected to participate.

The Shrine benefit game is adding a one dollar charge to all student body card admissions, the proceeds from which will go to the charities sponsored by the San Diego Shriners. A pageant will precede the game, and the "Spartan Caravan" will participate in the affair which begins at 6:15 p.m.

CHIMES CHARM SPARTANS

POLL REVEALS STUDENTS FAVOR MUSICAL SIGNALS

By JACK SILVEY

"—Of the rapture that impells to the swinging and the ringing of the bells, bells, bells,—to the rhyming and the chiming of the bells!"

Edgar Allen Poe devoted a poem to them; a student protested their ringing in a Thrust and Parry letter; Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, San Jose State college president, suggested they be evaluated by student opinion; and this week Mr. Dwight Bentel's journalism 5 class found that the majority of campusites favor the quarter-hour chime schedule as it stands.

In a carefully conducted, cross-sectional poll of student opinion, members of the newspaper practice and trends class sampled the chime sentiments of 1000 students. To the question, "Do you favor having the chimes sound every quarter hour?" 577 students answered yes, 346 responded in the negative, and 77 expressed indifference.

In keeping with their support of the quarterly hour schedule, 483 answered no and 354 answered yes when asked if they favored having the chimes sound only on the hour.

Apparently harboring fond memories of last year's noon-day concerts which rang from the tower, 698 students favored having occasional concerts on the chimes in addition to the regular time signals. Only 221 turned thumbs down on this question.

Strange as it seems, the survey revealed that men were more effectively charmed by the chimes than women. Of those favoring the chimes, the men outnumbered the women five to one.

The many comments added to poll ballots included: "Chime concerts should be heard once each week at 9 p.m. Saturday.—Concerts should be held each noon.—Concerts were very effective this summer.—Concerts should be played at Christmas time.—The chimes are distasteful.—I don't care.—They don't bother me.—How about ringing the chimes as classes close and start?"

What change, if any, in the chimes schedule will be known very soon. Dr. MacQuarrie asked for student opinions. He received them.

How often will the bells toll?

CLOTHING DRIVE

"The clothing drive sponsored by the Student Y now in full swing will be continued until next Thursday," said Vic McLane yesterday.

Clothing contributed now will reach the needy abroad before Christmas, assures McLane; footwear and winter clothing are especially needed. Contributions may be left at 220 S. Seventh street or in containers on the campus.

INSTRUMENTS LOST IN THEFT

Theft of instruments and a radio from an AT6 belonging to the Engineering department was reported to San Jose Police recently by Dr. Ralph J. Smith, Engineering department head. Because of the lack of space on campus, the plane is kept on the line at San Jose Municipal airport.

According to Mr. Donald L. James, Aeronautical Engineering instructor, the parts were stolen several months ago. "We had padlocked the canopy, and assumed the plane would be safe out there," he said.

VOTE TODAY! SUPPORT YOUR CANDIDATE NOW

Polls opened this morning at 8 o'clock for the election of Student Court prosecuting attorney and class officers. Members of the Student Court are in charge of the election.

William N. Logan, candidate for prosecuting attorney on a white ballot, will appear on all ballots. Each class will vote only for its officers and prosecuting attorney, announces Junior Justice Bob Johnson. The Australian ballot will be used.

Class office candidates are:

Senior president: George Geneviro, Vice-president: Sal Millan. Secretary-treasurer: Joyce Woods and Barbara Jensen.

Junior president: Tom Wall and Bob Cronemiller. Vice-president: Bob Keller and Jean Marilyn Kinney. Secretary-treasurer: Eleanor Johnson, Leah Keller, and Jane Potter.

Sophomore president: Al Pinard and Charles Pettis. Vice-president Vern Baker, Ellen Erickson, and Geraldine Quadros. Secretary-treasurer: Jean Collins, Bruce Craig, and Adele Thompson.

Johnson reiterated the announcement yesterday that all posters must be removed by 8 o'clock Saturday morning. Only holders of ASB cards may vote in student elections.

In addition to Johnson, Keith Pope, chief justice; Jocelyn Capp and Abner Fritz, senior justices; Melita all, junior justice; and Shirley Anthony and Carol Baumgartner, court clerks, will supervise the election booths and count ballots.

FULL HOUSE FOR COP GAME

Approximately 4,500 tickets for the San Jose State-COP struggle had been distributed to students at 2 p.m. yesterday afternoon, according to Miss Edith Graves, cashier in the Graduate Manager's office.

"Since all the rooters' tickets were exhausted Wednesday we closed the booth in the quad in favor of giving out the remaining tickets from the office," Miss Graves stated.

With the addition of 800 temporary bleachers on the east side of the stadium, there was a total of 6,213 seats available for students. The only seats left yesterday afternoon were a few in the extreme south section and bleachers.

A late check of ticket agencies in the city shows all the 1800 ducats offered for sale to the general public sold. Only 75 seats for sale on a first come first served basis were left in room 32 at 2 p.m. yesterday.

SPARTAN MERMEN MEET WINGED 'O' TONIGHT IN STATE POOL

By JOHN GOTHBERG

San Jose State's strong water polo team meets the undefeated Olympic Club mermen tonight in the San Jose pool. The Olympic Club J-V's will battle the State freshmen at 8 p.m. while the varsity teams will clash at 9. "The Olympic Club will bring down one of the strongest teams that we will have to face this season," Coach Charley Walker stated when asked about the strength of the Winged "O."

Thus far the San Francisco boys have defeated California, 6-5, and Stanford university, 13-6. Walker declares that the walloping they handed the Indians was probably made much easier because the game was held in the O. C. pool. The San Francisco pool is a difficult one to play in for teams unacquainted with it.

Jim Richards, a forward, is one of the outstanding scorers for the Winged "O." The Olympic Club will have an edge in condition and experience over the Spartan splashers. Coach Walker asserts that his varsity reserves have shown considerable improvement. During the past week, Wilmer

DAY EDITOR—This Issue—ABNER FRITZ

FOR SHAME!

Since registration day, we have proudly and repeatedly noted that San Jose State college has an enrollment of almost 7000.

We should be ashamed of the ridiculous lack of school spirit Spartans exhibited in Tuesday's nominations of class officers and prosecuting attorney.

Of our student body of record size, 80 students—including the candidates—participated in the nominations.

The number attending each of the assemblies were: seniors, 20; juniors, 27; sophomores, 25; nomination assembly for prosecuting attorney, eight.

We know the spirit is here. Those roaring rooting sections are proof enough.

Now, bear us out in our prediction that today's election returns will overflow the ballot boxes.

Your vote will assure the candidates they are representing a class worthy of their efforts; your vote also should ease your conscience for the assembly you DIDN'T attend Tuesday.

TOO LONG OR NOT TOO LONG? THAT IS THE QUESTION

By MARIE DINOS

Just how Miss Gladys Baird of the Home Economics department can stay so calm while skirt lengths, get longer, longer, longer, is almost beyond understanding. Gazing through the peek-hole during one of her costume design classes, one certainly would expect to see complete chaos from within—if not good old hair-pulling among the petticoat set. Some, in loud defense of the descending hem—others, (perhaps even more loudly), in opposition.

But no, Miss Baird sees to it that her little couturiers remain cool, collected, and sensible through it all.

"Those still dubious about dropping their skirts more than a few inches below their knees, are to allow a good sized hem 'just in case' " says Miss Baird philosophically.

"We must learn to accept styles and adapt them to ourselves. In our designing class each student is classified individually so that her personality, coloring, expression, carriage, build, etc. will influence her decision on what to do about a new style or trend.

"Any change must compliment her—not overpower her. Where she'll put that hemline will follow this self analysis.

"Harmony is the principal requirement. Since the wearer is part of the overall picture, there must be harmony between the line design of the garment and the general effect of the wearer."

Miss Baird's rule for the women of today might be—self analyze yourself harmonically and act accordingly.

PROSE CORNER

By JACQUE WOLFF

"Hear the sledges with the bells
Silver bells!

What a world of merriment
their melody fortells!

How they tinkle, tinkle, tinkle,
IN THE ICY AIR OF NIGHT!

... From the bells, bells, bells,
bells,

From the jingling and the tinkling of the bells."

With apologies to Edgar Allen Poe
This is the song that Dawn sings every morn as she skims lightly over the dew-drench blades of grass, bringing the new sun-kissed day to Spartan lads and lassies.

Dipping lightly over the sleeping houses below with students cradled in the soft arms of Morpheus, Dawn sends the Gloomy Darkness of Night off to his lair in the west.

Her cheerful song during the early hours of morn set the leaves of trees dancing. Morning glories yawn and greet the sun. Birds trill their songs as they seek their breakfast. And the slumbering Spartans? They open their sleepy eyes upon the new and glorious day—then promptly return to sleep!

All is serene and peaceful—the new day is here! Nature in all her glory is here! And the students are there—still in bed!

A frown mars the countenance of Dawn's happy face. She looks down upon the prostrate forms blanketed in sleep and says, "Tis

DOT HARVEY NEW PREXY

Dorothy Harvey is the new president of the Bibliophiles club. Other officers are: Lois Higgs, vice-president, and Shirley Crow, secretary-treasurer.

A "get-acquainted" tea was held recently at which both students and faculty of the Library department were entertained, according to Miss Harvey.

Bibliophiles club is open to all library majors and minors.

time for all to be awake." So sings:

"Bells, bells, bells," ad infinitum.

Far back in the subconscious minds of the sleeping Spartans, Dawn's awakening song is echoing, "Bells, bells, bells. Silver bells, golden bells, alarm bells, iron bells, dinner bells, Lulu bells!"

With each peal of the bells, Spartans slip lower between the blankets trying to escape the penetrating notes of her song. But alas, 'tis of no avail, for slowly each Spartan and Sparfana crawls from out of the foot of his or her cocoon. Dawn smiles happily and once more bursts into song.

Soberly, sleepily, and somberly, Spartans singly file out of their homes, and soberly, sleepily, and somberly march to their early hour classes.

Dawn's song of Bells of the Morning," is to the Spartans, the "Mourning of the Bells."

FUTURE NURSES MAY TRAIN FULL TIME HERE

By DICK COX

Approximately 275 followers of Florence Nightingale are enrolled at San Jose State under the Nursing Education program and the Pre-Nursing program, Miss Pauline E. Davis, assistant professor of nursing education, reported today.

"We offer to nursing students either a three year course with practical work in one of the local hospitals or a two year course in preparation for transfer to Stanford university or the university of California," Miss Davis explained.

"An increasing number of our graduate nurses are coming back to take a fourth year of study in order to receive their bachelor's degree," the nursing director stated.

Students in the three year course spend from 40 to 48 hours per week in class room and hospital work.

"Our programs are loaded quite heavy on the biological science side with a small number of liberal arts courses," Miss Davis announced.

Prominent physicians and surgeons give lectures to the nursing classes, and Mrs. Rizpah Lundstrom has been added to the nursing teaching staff.

When the new barracks buildings are completed the Nursing department and the Occupational Therapy department will be quartered in one. Miss Davis will have a nursing laboratory then.

After nursing students finish three years of study they receive an associate of arts certificate from the college. Next, the graduate nurse must take the examination which is given by the State Board of Nurse Examiners before she can become a registered nurse.

Pi Nu Sigma is the student organization at San Jose State for pre-nursing students.

Hart-Maxwell Nuptials In December

A December wedding in the Calvary Methodist church of San Jose will unite Shirley Hart, June graduate, from Santa Clara, and Don Maxwell, Stanford student from San Jose.

Shirley, a member of Zeta Chi sorority who majored in speech here, announced her engagement to Don at a beach party for friends. The names "Shirley and Don" appeared in luminescent paint on the lids of the individual salad bowls.

Thrus And Parry WE'RE BROKE, TOO

Thrust and Parry:

The many articles concerning veterans' financial problems are interesting and worthwhile. But why ignore the equally broke non-veterans?

There are many men and women attending college who are not entitled to government subsistence under the G. I. Bill of Rights; e.g. ex-Merchant Mariners and others not in the armed forces.

How about a little recognition for those of us who are managing to get our education and face the rising costs of living without aid from the government or our families?

COLLEGE FROSH SPORT BEARDS AS VETS INVADE CAMPUS

By BOYD SCHULTZ

Six years ago a good many college lower classmen still were peering anxiously into mirrors in anticipation of a forthcoming five o'clock shadow.

Freshmen then were 17 and 18 years of age. They graduated from high school, chose a college and entered. Many had never been out of the state. They were young, green freshies; little versed in ways of the world.

Then a little fracas developed and several million of these lads saw something more important than college, at least temporarily—so they stopped worrying about beards and entrance exams for about five years. Instead they worried about their respective necks, and those of their loved ones.

STUBBLE FIELDS PLUS

Well, the fracas ended and these boys came back, this time sporting stubble fields par excellence. They brought back with them, however, something more than just maturity. Years spent in army barracks, fox holes, and concentration camps gave them time to think. They brought back with them a desire to get most from life. They wanted to make up for those years of waste.

So today more than two million veterans sprinkle campuses of colleges throughout the United States. More than three thousand have settled on Washington Square. Those years of regimentation have not dimmed their spirits or killed their love of horse play, but one is immediately aware of an intenseness of purpose on their faces. Obligations other than just meeting classes, preparing for exams, and erasing deficiencies confront a good many. A wife and sometimes children are on the agenda for these fellows.

Loren G. Mowery, who heads the Veterans' Administration at San Jose State, bears out their seriousness of purpose neatly:

"Our records show that the veterans on the whole have made better marks than other students," said Mowery.

Mowery and other veterans' heads throughout the country were skeptical when ex-GI's started back to school. They weren't sure how a man subjected to military life for three or four years would adjust to class room living. "Our doubts have been vanquished now," he smiled. "These fellows seem to be setting the pace."

ENROLLMENT UP

San Jose State has responded admirably. A few short years ago 2,500 students was company, and 3,000 a crowd. Now over 7,000 degree hunters mill across Washington Square daily. One need not be scientifically minded to note that the campus and its facilities have not enlarged correspondingly, but nevertheless all are registered and meeting classes. All 7,000!

Expansion has been realized in facilities however. That's what those wood and tin structures decorate the campus for. Not a pretty sight, but most will agree they are serving a good purpose.

PEAK NEXT YEAR

The consensus of opinion among veteran's heads is that the enrollment peak will be reached some time next year.

"The enrollment at San Jose State has jumped considerably again this year, and Stanford, Santa Clara, and other Bay area schools have recorded large increases," said Mowery. Men like Mowery are still shaking their heads over the response to the GI Bill of Rights.

The prospective college freshman of 1941 became just another GI Joe in 1942, '43, '44, and '45. Then he returned to get an education.

You see him today in the Coop, or lounging on the grass of the inner quad, or playing for the Spartans on the athletic fields. He might be making things tough for post war peach-fuzzers, but no one will deny he has done a fine job of coming back.

PHI KAPPA TO GIVE ANNUAL DANCE

Phi Kappa Pi sorority will present its tenth annual semi-formal dance at the Crystal Springs country club October 25 from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Co-chairmen for the dance are Jeff Brewster and Marietta Zaro with Lu Meyer in charge of decorations. Assisting Miss Meyer are Roberta "Tiny" Bryant, Louise Very, and Fran Hernandez. Barbara Quadros is handling bids for the affair.

Orrin Blattner and his orchestra will provide music for the evening. Bids are $2 per couple.

The dance is open to all students and their friends, the chairmen reported.

ENGINEERS TO VIEW CAL CYCLOTRON

The Engineering society, under the leadership of its newly-elected president, Wes Shellhamer, will take a field trip this Saturday to the University of California's radiation laboratory to view the institution's well-known cyclotron.

This society, which last year had a membership of approximately 50 men, has this quarter increased to over 130 members.

Shellhamer was named president of the organization at their meeting last Friday. Frank Delfino, Dwight Teal, and Bob McLellar were elected vice-president, secretary and treasurer respectively.

Gothic Photos In Library

Photographs of ancient Gothic architecture in Poland are now on display in the main library. The pictures, donated by Robert King, freshman radio student, were first presented by the Polish government to King's former army division.

This gesture on the part of the Polish government was in appreciation of American assistance in returning Polish objects of art. These had been looted by the Germans in 1940.

Outstanding among them is the famed Altar of the Holy Virgin, executed by Sculptor Wit Stwos in 1477. Several photographs of this altar are among the display.

Artful

A tug-of-war for Room B14 was waged between the Art department and the English department during the first few days of school. Whichever instructor reached the room first claimed it as his for the hour.

Finally, however, the Art department won out.

"How did you do that?" Dr. Marques Reitzel was asked.

His answer—"Oh, we were more artful!"

Who Done It?

Low skulduggery has been going on in the Spartan Daily offices of late, and no man escapes suspicion.

A publicity release, concerning the forthcoming Carnival of Music, turned up around the office, stating that enclosed were a few tickets for the event.

Photos For La Torre Being Scheduled Senior And Faculty Dates Come First

Pictures for the 1948 La Torre staff are scheduled to be taken starting Monday, October 27, at the Norman O. Wing Studio, Suite 471, 57 E. Santa Clara street, according to Betty Patnoe, La Torre editor. Miss Patnoe requests that all faculty members make their appointments immediately, either with their department's staff member or in room 17 where a staff member will be on duty from 12 to 4:30 every day. Faculty and graduating seniors' pictures are scheduled from October 27 to December 15. Seniors who are not having their pictures taken are asked to fill out a senior mimeographed sheet.

The following groups are to be pictured formally, with women wearing white round-necked blouses, and men wearing suits and ties, Miss Patnoe indicated. Student Government Section: AWS, Student Council, Student Court; Honor Section: Alpha Eta Sigma, Alpha Eta Rho.

Alpha Phi Omega, Black Masque, Beta Beta Beta, Chi Pi Sigma, Delta Phi Delta, Delta Phi Upsilon, Delta Nu Theta, Epsilon Nu Gamma, Epsilon Pi Tau, Eta Mu Pi, Gamma Pi Epsilon, Iota Delta Phi, Kappa Delta Phi, Mu Phi Epsilon, Pi Epsilon Tau, Pi Omega Pi.

Phi Mu Alpha, Phi Epsilon

Kappa, Phi Upsilon Pi, Spartan Spears, Spartan Knights, San Jose Players, Tri Sigma, Tau Gamma, Tau Delta Phi; Activities: La Torre, Spartan Daily, Lycurgus.

The La Torre editor said that sorority members are to be pictured with black drape to be furnished by the photographer, and fraternity members are to wear tuxes supplied by members of the organization.

Chain Letters Reported Circulating

Chain letters are reported to be circulating around the San Jose State college campus and students who buy and sell these letters are breaking the postal law, warned Post Office Inspector Thomas W. Evans, yesterday.

The letters, which are priced at $2, state that they are not to be sent through the mail. Rather the recipient is to send $2 through the mail, to the name on the top of the list, add his name to the bottom, and sell two letters by direct contact. This does not elude the postal regulations, according to Evans.

"If the mails are used in any way, shape, or form in the consummation of chain letters it is a violation of the lottery laws and the offender is subject to a fine of not more than $1,000 or two years imprisonment or both," said Evans.

James C. DeVoss, dean of student personnel and guidance, stated that such letters are prohibited by postal regulations and students should not continue the chain letters. Any student who wishes to assist in stopping such letters should hand the letter to a Dean immediately after it is received.

FLU SHOTS OFFERED TO ASB HOLDERS

Miss Margaret Twombly, head of the Health department said that immunization shots against influenza will be offered to ASB holders between 11:30 and 1 o'clock Thursday, October 30, and at that time only.

There will be a 50-cent charge for each of the 150 shots that are available. "The charge is made to cover the cost of material only," Miss Twombly stated, "and being an ASB holder is required because part of the purchases are made through the McFadden Health cottage, which is operated by the ASB."

Barracks To Be Painted Soon

Contrary to previous reports, the temporary wooden buildings now under construction on the campus will have their outsides painted, asserted Lowell C. Pratt, San Jose State college publicity director, yesterday.

The Federal Works Agency, at no expense to the college, will under take the job of painting the buildings in either a light cream or green pastel shade, stated Pratt.

The buildings, donated to the college by Camp Shoemaker, should be ready for occupancy during the first part of November, said Pratt.

FACULTY PICTURES TO BE IN YEARBOOK

Betty Patnoe, editor of the 1948 La Torre, announces that a request has been made and approved by President MacQuarrie and the Student Council, asking that individual pictures of faculty members be put in this year's La Torre.

The cost will be $1.40 for each faculty member. This includes four proofs from which to select, according to Miss Patnoe.

A La Torre staff member will contact all faculty members within the next week, Miss Patnoe added.

ELEANORE JOHNSON IS LGA PRESIDENT

Eleanore Johnson was elected president at the last meeting of Lambda Gamma Alpha, club for women P.E. minors.

Other newly elected officers are Lois Wolfe, vice-president; Sally Colorado, secretary-treasurer; and Ethel Dodge, WAA representative and publicity chairman.

Plans were made for a pot luck dinner to be held November 6 at 6 p.m. in the Women's gym, according to Ethel Dodge, publicity chairman. Miss Dodge urges all P.E. minors to sign up on the bulletin board in the women's gym for participation in this event.

Volleyball, bowling, and roller skating will be among the activities planned for the coming year, Miss Dodge added.

FIRST BARRACKS SET FOR USE WITHIN TEN DAYS

The two southern-most barracks on the San Carlos turf are expected to be ready for occupancy by Nov. 8, H. A. Kreinkamp, college engineer disclosed yesterday.

These will be the first two buildings completed, but about half of the temporary structures should be in use the following week, according to the engineer.

Foundations for four war surplus tropical buildings were laid down yesterday. They are part of a recent shipment of eight obtained from the air base at Stockton. The structures will be used for storage.

Rapid progress on the second quonset type edifice to be erected on San Carlos indicates that it will be in use by the Aeronautics department within a month, Kreinkamp pointed out.

WAA Convention

Miss Margaretta Fristoe, instructor in the Women's P. E. department, and Rhoda Andersen, president of the Women's Athletic Association, will attend the Alta California Conference tomorrow at San Francisco Junior college.

Frosh Game Captain

Freshman Coach Bud Winter today named Al Cementina, right half from San Francisco as game captain for tonight's tilt with the Cal Poly frosh at San Luis Obispo.

Pan-American Club Elects Officers

Eade Jordan, Nancy Werner, Josephine Mayayo, and Gloria Villaseñor were recently elected officers of the Student Pan-American League.

The organization plans to celebrate Pan American Day at San Jose State college this year, and to send a representative to the Pan American meeting at Miami, Fla. next month.

At their last meeting, plans were made for presenting a gift to the Library, and to further the group's knowledge of Latin America.

Music Faculty Attends Meeting

Several faculty members of the Music department will attend the Bay Section music meeting at Fremont High school in Oakland tomorrow, Dr. Lyle Downey, department head announced today.

Attending the conference are Gibson Walters, Richard R. Jesson, Harold M. Johnson, and E. Thormodsgaard. Other staff members may possibly attend also, Dr. Downey stated.

One Woman Duet Goes On The Air

Nadine Jansen, the one woman piano-trumpet duet, will provide entertainment when "Spartans on Review" goes on the air for the third time Monday evening, announces Sal Millan, publicity director.

Miss Jansen appeared in Revelries last year and has made numerous appearances for campus activities.

Dietitian Shortage Grows Critical

A critical shortage of dietitians exists, according to the Home Economics department. The chief reason for this shortage is the expansion of the dietetic profession, and demands are increasing for dietitians in college food service and in industrial food positions of various types.

The American Dietetic Association has prepared a brochure, "Dietitians in Demands," which may be secured by writing to the American Dietetics Association, 620 N. Michigan Avenue, Chicago, 11, Illinois.

Salaries now range from $2,644 to $4,906.

HARD TIMES FETE HELD TONIGHT IN WOMEN'S GYM

A Hard Times dance will be given in the Women's gym tonight from 9 until midnight by members of the class of 1949 and will cost 30 cents for student body card holders and 50 cents for guests.

Chairman Francie Verdier stated, "This affair is for the entire student body and not for the junior class alone. We expect a large number of Spartans to attend tonight and know they will enjoy dancing to the music of name bands. Music will be off the record."

Coca cola and doughnuts will be sold all evening and anything but slacks, pedal pushers, Levis, and plaid shirts will be out of place, said Miss Verdier.

Those hard at work to make this class dance another success are: Winnie Helm, Francine Harpole, Zelma Clift, Jim Valentine, Bill Swasey, and George Gunter.

DANCE HELD AFTER GAME

After the COP game the place to go is the Civic auditorium for the Social Affairs big after-game dance, according to Dot Pedersen, head of Social Affairs committee.

Black and orange crepe paper, witches, cats, and footballs will be used as decorations to make the dance a combination football and Halloween affair.

Free to all student body card holders, each student may bring one guest to the October 31 affair. The orchestra will be announced when the final arrangements have been made.

Assisting Miss Pedersen are Dave Down and Marian Gilbert, decorations; Dolores Ceraso, publicity; and patrons, Bobbie Rodenborn.

DAUGHERTY MEETS CHESS EXPERT IN GAME TODAY

Weaver Adams, chess expert supreme, will tangle with Lyman H. Daugherty, San Jose State's own chess playing professor, this afternoon at 2:30 in the YMCA, according to Harry G. Shaw, secretary of the San Jose Chess club. Adams, who has long been the undisputed champion of Massachusetts, will play four games against the best local players from this area.

Interested chess enthusiasts at San Jose State college are invited to take notes at the exhibition. Weaver will explain each move as the game progresses, and he will answer questions following the contests, stated Shaw.

MUSIC GROUP TO HAVE MIXER TONIGHT

Surprise entertainment is in store tonight at the mixer party for music majors and minors, promises Jane Pope, president of Mu Phi Epsilon music sorority. It will be held in the Student Union from 8-11:30 p.m. she said.

Phi Mu Alpha, music fraternity, and the music sorority are sponsoring tonight's party and dance to help music students get acquainted, Miss Pope explained. She emphasized that all music students are invited, not just sorority and fraternity members. "There is still time to sign up on the bulletin board outside of room 1 of the Music building," said the president. Music faculty members are also invited, Miss Pope added.

Committee members for the party are Betty Dilg, food; Morris Dill, entertainment; Charles Rhinehart, publicity; and Dorothy Fouch, decorations.

Jack Lercaci, reserve guard, was a second string quarterback on the Spartan football team that was stranded in the Hawaiian Islands by Pearl Harbor. Jack comes from Santa Paula.

MOFFETT FIELD TO OPEN GATES FOR NAVY DAY

Moffett Field Naval Air Station will open its gates to the public Monday, October 27, in observance of Navy Day, according to a release from the Twelfth Naval District headquarters in San Francisco.

Included in the Moffett Field exhibit will be exhibits of aircraft, GCA equipment and a re-broadcast of a Ground Controlled Approach, aerology exhibit, communications system, and photographs. A musical program will be presented by local Bay area high school bands.

The gates will be open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. to allow the public to see their postwar Navy in operation.

Dick Voris, 200-pound center from Salinas J. C., is one of the top golfers on the Spartan golf team. Dick shoots consistently in the low 70's.

ROGER DEAS OPENS RELIGIOUS STUDY INSTITUTE WITH ADDRESS

J. Roger Deas gave the introductory address to the Religious Study group at the Student Center, Third and San Antonio streets, last night.

Deas, who is west coast director of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, also teaches business speech at the University of California, and religion at Golden Gate college in San Francisco.

The Religious Study group is under the direction of the Student Y, and is starting an "Institute of Living Religions," according to Alice Samson of the Y.

Meetings will be held at the Student Center each Thursday of the month at 8 p.m., excluding the second Thursday.

Next week there will be a round-table discussion. During the second quarter of the year the group plans to invite Dean Robert Owen of Santa Clara, and Rabbi M. Stern of Oakland to discuss Catholicism and Judaism respectively. Mac Carpenter, executive secretary of the Student Y here, will talk about Protestantism before the group.

"Later in the year we plan to go deeper into each religion, and bring out factors of the different denominations and sects," says Miss Samson.

J. ROGER DEAS

"All students are invited to attend the meetings and everyone is welcome."

LECTURE SERIES CONTINUES TODAY

The second in a series of lectures, on "Buying For Retail Stores" will be presented today in room 139 at 2:30 p.m. by Lee P. Kaufman, it was announced today by Dr. Milburn D. Wright, commerce instructor.

Kaufman, one of several outstanding San Jose business men lined up for the series by Dr. Wright, is president of Marcus The Furrier, well-known local retail establishment. Kaufman was formerly associated with N. Snellburg & Co., a major Philadelphia department store. He served there for 17 years in various executive capacities, including nine years as merchandise manager for women's apparel.

Last week Herb Summers, general manager of the Sears, Roebuck, San Jose store, initiated the retail buying talks. Summers, who was formerly in business for himself, recently came to Sears from service in the army.

The lecture series is designed to augment regular class work with the ideas of men actually engaged in merchandising. Although the sessions are primarily for commerce students, anyone interested is invited to attend, Dr. Wright indicated.

SWAMPED OFFICE CAUSES PAY DELAY

By BOB BODEN

The Veterans' Administration is swamped this year with a quarter million more students in training than the high mark of 1,209,000 reached last September, according to the Army Times Vet-Letter.

The jam and reduction of VA personnel has caused delay in getting out the first batch of subsistence checks, but a bright note has been sounded for increased subsistence in 1948.

The Vet-Letter gives subsistence-boosting legislation a good chance when Congress meets in January. Their opinion is based on a reversal of the stand taken last year by the American Council of Education, which blocked proposed increases for single as well as married vets.

The Council, which throws much weight in Congress, now advocates increases for single and married vets alike. Formerly they were in favor of increases for vets with children only. The changed position was caused by "later information."

A bill to boost pay for married vets has passed the Senate and is awaiting action by the House at its next session. If the Council exerts enough pressure an amendment may be tacked on to benefit single vets as well, the Vet-Letter stated.

FROSH PLAY
CAL POLY FROSH

By BARNEY BARNETT

Gunning for their initial victory of the season the San Jose State Freshman leave today for San Luis Obispo for tonight's encounter with the little Mustangs of Cal Poly.

Coach Bud Winter expects a rugged battle. The Mustang colts, with four games behind them, are reported to have a big rugged line capable of putting up a rock 'em, sock 'em type of argument. According to Winter, the Colts employ a versatile offense using the T, box to the right, box to the left and a tricky spread formation.

The Colts are also equipped with a strong backfield crew. They have a dexterous quarterback, Bob Seminario; two fast and shifty halves, Al John and Frenchy Dupuis; and a line plunging fullback, Jim Goularte.

The Spartan frosh should be able to match the Colt's backfield quartet. Backfield coach Bud Nygren has at least six backs, all of first string calibre. Gil Mendosa, although used mostly on defense against the Seahawks, can be tabbed as a slashing type of ball carrier.

Bill Kogelshotz is rated almost even with starter Dick Finnegan at the quarterback spot. Shifty Al Cementina and hard running Ron Richardson round out the backfield.

The guard spots are no worry to line coach Al Vedovelli. Don Desch and Louie Fregosa can be classed as equal, at least on defense, to starters Ron Padilla and Russ Phillips. Mitch Kanalakakis showed himself to be a terrific tackle at Santa Cruz. Depth should be no problem as Vedovelli has an almost equally powerful second string.

SPARTANS LOST

Grass, George Hodgins, Dick Kidder, and Dave Moore have been looking good in practice, the San Jose mentor states.

Bill Monohan is proving himself to be one of the best forwards on the team. Monohan will undoubtedly see plenty of action tonight. Douglas Pautz has also looked very good during practice sessions.

Last year the varsity lost a close one to the O. C. boys in the local pool when they were edged out, 5-3. In the second game with the Clubbers, the Spartans went down to a 21-9 defeat in the San Francisco pool.

Walker declares that George Schroth, coach of the Olympic Club team, is one of the smartest coaches in the game. Schroth played with the 1924 U. S. Olympic team.

During the past week the varsity has been brushing up on shooting and team play. Walker states that tonight's game will be a real test to San Jose's defensive strength. He also points out that the freshmen have been steadily improving and should give the Winged "O" J-V's a real battle.

The following men will start for the Spartans: Dick Bartels, goalie; Ed Rudloff, Otis Keeler, and Gene Foley at forwards; Tudor Dave Thomson and Howard Ruweler at the other backs.

Starting for the frosh in the preliminary contest will be: Pete Wolff, goalie; Tom Daly, Wally

WATERPOLO IS FOUND TOUGH

By JOHN GOTHBERG

"Line smashes, end" sweeps, quarterback sneaks, and—football and more football!" is all you hear this time of the year.

You would never think that any other sport was carried on during the fall months. That is you wouldn't unless you accidentally happened to wander into the pool some afternoon and saw the Spartan water poloists practicing.

The odd part is that water polo is much more thrilling than football and yet there are only a few people who know this. One of the most thrilling sports events that we have ever seen was when the Spartans trimmed Stanford last week. SJS wound up on the long end of 7 to 5 score.

Although the game was ever so much fun to watch, there were only a couple hundred spectators watching the battle. Yet some twenty or thirty thousand will drag themselves out on a Saturday afternoon to see the Indians swamped on the gridiron. It doesn't make sense.

Coach Charley Walker, in charge of the outstanding Spartan team, says that the public just doesn't know what water polo is all about.

"Most people think of the game as one where a ball is thrown into the water and a bunch of swimmers wrestle and fight for possession of it," the mentor stated with a smile. "It isn't that at all. It's a fast, clean and exciting sport. Water polo is equally strenuous as basketball."

Our bow tied coach tells us that the bay area is one of four areas in the nation where this game is played. The game here is international hard ball water polo. It is played only in the San Francisco, Los Angeles, Chicago, and New York City areas.

Walker tells us that when he attended Springfield College during his undergraduate days, they played an entirely different type of water polo. In those days they played the game with a ball that was only partially inflated. There are a few places today where this old type game is still played.

Really and truly the sport has a very interesting history attached to it. Rather than relate all that, though, we think it would be far better if more students came out to see the games. In this way we would be better qualified to judge whether or not it is a worthwhile sport.

If more people will do this, we are certain that they will agree that for real excitement water polo has football and many other sports backed off the map.

Pat Felice, reserve quarterback, is a former San Jose high school athlete. Pat wrestles for Coach Ted Mumby's grunt and groan squad.

John Buthenuth, tackle candidate, is a local boy. John did his high school playing for San Jose, high school on the other side of Washington Square.

Ken Johnson, 220-pound tackle, is a sophomore who hails from Jamestown, N. Y. He is a former soldier.

Hofman, and Bob Santos at forwards; "Mal" Maloney, Herb Blatt, and Fred Hanssen at the back positions.

MATMEN HAVE PRACTICE MEETS

Four practice meets have been set for the San Jose State college Spartan wrestling team this quarter, according to Coach Ted Mumby.

The 1947-1948 season opens November 21 when the Central YMCA entertains the Spartans in San Francisco. San Jose will also travel to San Quentin later in the quarter.

Two home pre-season meets have been scheduled. The first is with the strong California squad and the second is with the El Toro Marines. No dates have been set for either of these meets.

Of interest to the wrestling fans, the point system will be used again this year. At first it was thought that only a fall would win the wrestling matches because of the Olympics which will be held next year in London. This ruling has been modified, and the colleges will be able to revert to the more satisfactory point system.

There are several possible ways to score points after a wrestling match. A fall counts the most, and the victor is given five points. Three points are awarded for a decision, while one and a half points are given for draws.

During the match, points are awarded as follows:

- Take Down—2.
- Reverse—2.
- Near fall—2.
- Stand up—1.
- Top line—1.

USF FROSH

USF's Freshman eleven is finding the going rough this year. They were mangled by Loyola's frosh 36-0 and the Bronco Babes massacred them by a 41-0 count.

BEAR SKIERS

California's Golden Bears already are preparing for the coming ski season. They have four members who are returning from last year's championship squad. The men include: Bob Spaulding, Iver Lyche, Bob Skeels, and Jim Keresey.

SPARTANS FACE SOUTHLAND FOE

on the following week.

San Diego has victories over Cal Poly, Utah State, and Occidental chalked up their record. Their one defeat for the season was by COP at Baxter stadium in Stockton.

Ken Glue, senior guard, will captain San Jose tomorrow night when they take the field in the southern city. Blue returned to action against Santa Barbara and played a bangup game in the line.

The Aztec offensive is built around John Simcox, sophomore quarterback. Simcox was a fullback on last year's club that held the Spartans to a 6-0 win down south. Art Filson, second string signal caller, is behind the San Diego ace and throws a wicked forward pass when the occasion calls.

The Spartan forward wall will open with Herm Knupper and Mel Stein, ends; Bob Mendenmaker and Val Marchi, tackles; Blue and Chuck Blackwell, guards; and Bob Pifferini, center. Jack Faulk who was injured in the Gaucho game, will probably be ready for the San Diego game. He will spell Mendenmaker at tackle.

George Brown, San Diego senior guard, leads the Aztec defense. He was an All-American lineman in 1943 while playing for Navy. Tom Dahms, sophomore tackle, gives the forward wall added strength with his 225 pounds.

San Jose's backfield will open with Billy Parton and Billy Elam, halfbacks; Jack Donaldson or Pete Denevi, fullback; Jim Jackson, Chuck Hughes, or Bill Perry at quarterback. Hubbard is still undecided about the signal calling berth. He stated he wouldn't make up his mind until late this afternoon who would open at quarterback. Fred Mangini returns to action for this game.

SPARTAN CARAVAN

vate homes and dormitories in addition to the other necessary arrangements were made by Sal Milan, with the aid of the San Diego Junior Chamber of Commerce and Phil Poindexter, rally chairman of the Aztec school.

"There will be from 50 to 100 tickets available at San Diego's Balboa Stadium at the South-East box office, for State students who must show their ASB cards to get the reduced price tickets," said Sal Milan, co-organizer. "Headquarters for the Caravan, in case any students wish to contact us, will be in the dormitories for men at the U. S. Grant hotel in downtown San Diego," Milan continued.

POLICE STUDENT GETS TOP MARK

James S. Oliver, sophomore, recently attained the highest score in the history of the Menlo Park police department civil service examination without using the free points usually given to World War II veterans, announced the police school.

Oliver is a full time student at San Jose State college and is serving on the Menlo Park police force on a temporary basis. He is now at the top of the eligible list for appointments to vacancies in the department, with a score of 97.5.

Eugene Clark, another sophomore student, scored second in the test and is now waiting to be placed on the department in Menlo Park as a patrolman. Clark hails from Oakdale, California.

SWEENEY, DeVoss REPRESENT SJSC

Dr. William G. Sweeney and Dr. James C. DeVoss will represent San Jose State college at the Fall conference of the California Council on Teacher Education in Yosemite National Park.

The conference will continue through November 2, 3, and 4. Its purpose primarily will be to discuss the secondary credential with a view to bringing state and institutional requirements in closer harmony.

George W. Ebey, member of the Committee on Secondary Teacher Education, will serve as conference chairman.

Dr. Mosher Inspects College In Utah

Dr. Raymond Mosher, member of the executive committee for the Northwestern Association of Secondary and Higher Schools, has left the college for a tour of inspection in Utah.

Dr. Mosher will inspect three colleges for possible inclusion into the Association. He is expected to visit Dixie Junior College in St. George, Carbon College in Price and Westminster College in Salt Lake City.

STROB LIGHT USED TO MAKE 'DAILY' PHOTOS

Utilization of a "Strob" light in lieu of flash-bulbs puts the San Jose State college press photographers way ahead of many newspapers all over the country, according to Dwight Bentel, head of the Journalism department.

"Stroboscopic light is the newest and most dramatic event in photography," states Mr. Bentel. "It will largely replace flash bulbs and in doing so will reduce the cost of every picture almost 20 cents. The original outlay for camera and light is $600, but it pays for itself in a short time."

Photographers for the Spartan Daily and La Torre will be using the "Strob" light in many of their pictures this year. They may be identified by the small boxlike contraption which they carry with the aid of a leather strap slung over their shoulders.

"They weigh about 12 pounds apiece, and after a while it is quite noticeable," says Max Miller, head photographer for student publications, rubbing a sore shoulder.

However, in spite of the weight of the outfit, Miller, like his associates Erle Madison and Jack Hadson, is enthusiastic about the equipment.

Everett Olson, known to his buddies as "Oley," is one of the mainstays on San Jose's great water polo team. He is a Junior and hails from Sequoia High where he was a star on both the water polo and swimming teams.

CHURCH TO OPEN NURSERY SCHOOL

Sponsored by the First Congregational church, a nursery school is scheduled to open soon in the Student Center at Third and E. San Antonio, according to word received by Miss Bernice Van Gundy.

Open to children of any age, provided they are diaper broken, the school will operate on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. Rates are 50 cents a day or $5 a month.

Anyone interested should contact Mrs. Shirus at the church in order to secure further details.
