Peace rally to protest bombings

By Kimberly Gong

The event takes place twice a week during homecoming and again around spring graduation, said Dianne Gonzales, who has been an alumni board member for two years. Invitations were sent out twice prior to the event to registered alumni members, said Holly Miller, an SJSU alumni who did not wish to give her last name. To honor those who attended, 10 percent discounts were given for any purchases made at the bookstore.

"A lot of the alumni ask us when they can come and get stuff at a discount," Nagler said. "By being members of the alumni association you always get a 10 percent discount, but that day it was only 10 percent." The only items that were excluded from the discount were computers, books and graduation paraphernalia, said Nagler.

Alumni members receive discount

By Colín Atagi

The only items that were excluded from the discount were computers, books and graduation paraphernalia, said Nagler.

Free screening held to recognize depression

By Fernando F. Croce

While with the stress weight- ing on the shoulders of students, the line between a slight sense of bluesiness and a poten- tially deadly melancholy can become blurred for some of them. "Depression is still the biggest cause for suicide among university students," said Felici- ena Seto, a staff writer at Clark Library National Depression Screening Day. It was the second year the event was held at the university, sponsored by the California Student Nurses Association.

Alumni members receive discount

By Colín Atagi

The event takes place twice a week during homecoming and again around spring graduation, said Dianne Gonzales, who has been an alumni board member for two years. Invitations were sent out twice prior to the event to registered alumni members, said Holly Miller, an SJSU alumni who did not wish to give her last name. To honor those who attended, 10 percent discounts were given for any purchases made at the bookstore.

"A lot of the alumni ask us when they can come and get stuff at a discount," Nagler said. "By being members of the alumni association you always get a 10 percent discount, but that day it was only 10 percent." The only items that were excluded from the discount were computers, books and graduation paraphernalia, said Nagler.

Free screening held to recognize depression

By Fernando F. Croce

While with the stress weight- ing on the shoulders of students, the line between a slight sense of bluesiness and a poten- tially deadly melancholy can become blurred for some of them. "Depression is still the biggest cause for suicide among university students," said Felici- ena Seto, a staff writer at Clark Library National Depression Screening Day. It was the second year the event was held at the university, sponsored by the California Student Nurses Association.

Alumni members receive discount

By Colín Atagi

The event takes place twice a week during homecoming and again around spring graduation, said Dianne Gonzales, who has been an alumni board member for two years. Invitations were sent out twice prior to the event to registered alumni members, said Holly Miller, an SJSU alumni who did not wish to give her last name. To honor those who attended, 10 percent discounts were given for any purchases made at the bookstore.

"A lot of the alumni ask us when they can come and get stuff at a discount," Nagler said. "By being members of the alumni association you always get a 10 percent discount, but that day it was only 10 percent." The only items that were excluded from the discount were computers, books and graduation paraphernalia, said Nagler.

Free screening held to recognize depression

By Fernando F. Croce

While with the stress weight- ing on the shoulders of students, the line between a slight sense of bluesiness and a poten- tially deadly melancholy can become blurred for some of them. "Depression is still the biggest cause for suicide among university students," said Felici- ena Seto, a staff writer at Clark Library National Depression Screening Day. It was the second year the event was held at the university, sponsored by the California Student Nurses Association.

Alumni members receive discount

By Colín Atagi

The event takes place twice a week during homecoming and again around spring graduation, said Dianne Gonzales, who has been an alumni board member for two years. Invitations were sent out twice prior to the event to registered alumni members, said Holly Miller, an SJSU alumni who did not wish to give her last name. To honor those who attended, 10 percent discounts were given for any purchases made at the bookstore.

"A lot of the alumni ask us when they can come and get stuff at a discount," Nagler said. "By being members of the alumni association you always get a 10 percent discount, but that day it was only 10 percent." The only items that were excluded from the discount were computers, books and graduation paraphernalia, said Nagler.

Free screening held to recognize depression

By Fernando F. Croce

While with the stress weight- ing on the shoulders of students, the line between a slight sense of bluesiness and a poten- tially deadly melancholy can become blurred for some of them. "Depression is still the biggest cause for suicide among university students," said Felici- ena Seto, a staff writer at Clark Library National Depression Screening Day. It was the second year the event was held at the university, sponsored by the California Student Nurses Association.

Alumni members receive discount

By Colín Atagi

The event takes place twice a week during homecoming and again around spring graduation, said Dianne Gonzales, who has been an alumni board member for two years. Invitations were sent out twice prior to the event to registered alumni members, said Holly Miller, an SJSU alumni who did not wish to give her last name. To honor those who attended, 10 percent discounts were given for any purchases made at the bookstore.

"A lot of the alumni ask us when they can come and get stuff at a discount," Nagler said. "By being members of the alumni association you always get a 10 percent discount, but that day it was only 10 percent." The only items that were excluded from the discount were computers, books and graduation paraphernalia, said Nagler.

Free screening held to recognize depression

By Fernando F. Croce

While with the stress weight- ing on the shoulders of students, the line between a slight sense of bluesiness and a poten- tially deadly melancholy can become blurred for some of them. "Depression is still the biggest cause for suicide among university students," said Felici- ena Seto, a staff writer at Clark Library National Depression Screening Day. It was the second year the event was held at the university, sponsored by the California Student Nurses Association.
An hour to call into question its purpose

I have been here 21 years, five months and two days and I am trying to figure something out — why are we here? As humans, what is our purpose if we are going to do something that really matters?

There isn’t some textbook I can look this up, it is not the time to be doing something for a million people. I know I wasn’t an answer in the dictionary.

A lot of people will debate that one incredible religion in the last 21 years to figure out this problem. And with religion you will be able to experience life to the fullest and understand its importance.

I am not a religious man.

When I was 11 years old, my mother enrolled my sister and me in a Catholic confirmation class that I would become baptized and follow the Catholic faith.

Things went well until the day of the baptism. But I participated in the 13-week program and learned the prayers and the Bible. We practiced it three times a week and even practiced this up in the dictionary.

I promised my mother and father that I was not really for this. Part of my body was there. Just go, everyone. I know we have the dimensions so big, I had to do it.

I was not religious.

I am sure the last thing on their lips of my mother is very different than that fact my whole day one would rain.

In prehistoric times, we could have lived here on the earth. It would not have been this way. None of this really makes any sense.

As soon as I get this problem in my head, I think, I can’t have a job. That doesn’t make any sense to me. I am not even writing about this right now.

Why has my mind decided that it has to be every day? It is not the same thing as that.

As soon as I get to think of where I should just wear. The school, school, family and my

As humans, what is our purpose for going out-of-doors and into the world of nature. For the first time.

Students for Justice in Time to blow out candels

Birthday wishes, advice in time to blow out candles

Spartan Daily

的意见

Thursday, November 2, 2001

EDITORIAL

Letters

An Apose of receipt on request of Columbus Day

This Friday is the 509th anniversary of when American Indians discovered Christopher Columbus on their shore. Columbus returned to Europe.

Yet sharing a common past, a room, a family and night, because you were spoiled. I would expect you to. I used to make you get on top of monkey, trying to make you my little clone, my mini me.

You sat up there and cried, begging me. I used to make you get on top of monkey, trying to make you my little clone, my mini me.

We lived together for 7 years. I temeilz.ber.

Today

Sparta Guide

Current Content

Spartan Daily

Spartan Daily

Opinion

Spartan Daily

Spartan Daily

Spartan Daily

Letters

Letter to the editor: Columbus Day

This Friday is the 509th anniversary of when American Indians discovered Christopher Columbus on their shore. Columbus returned to Europe.

Yet sharing a common past, a room, a family and night, because you were spoiled. I would expect you to. I used to make you get on top of monkey, trying to make you my little clone, my mini me.

We lived together for 7 years. I temeilz.ber.

Today

Sparta Guide

Opinion

Letters

An Apose of receipt on request of Columbus Day

This Friday is the 509th anniversary of when American Indians discovered Christopher Columbus on their shore. Columbus returned to Europe.

Yet sharing a common past, a room, a family and night, because you were spoiled. I would expect you to. I used to make you get on top of monkey, trying to make you my little clone, my mini me.

We lived together for 7 years. I temeilz.ber.

Today

Sparta Guide

Opinion

Letters
BOOKS: Graduates were able to win prizes in a raffle

SUN CITY UNIVERSITY - October 12

Morgan, an alumni program official, said the raffle prizes included textbooks, gift cards, and other items. The winners were selected randomly from the raffle tickets purchased by the students. The proceeds from the raffle will be used to support the university's scholarships and other programs.

FORUM: Discussed possible reasons behind terrorist attacks

SUN CITY UNIVERSITY - October 12

He explained that the forum was an opportunity for students to come together and share their thoughts and concerns about the events in the world. The forum was moderated by a professor and included a panel of experts from various fields.

SCREEN: Helps students find ways to cope with depression

SUN CITY UNIVERSITY - October 12

The screening was part of a series of events sponsored by the university's student government. The screening was followed by a discussion with the students and faculty about the film's content and its relevance to current events.

RENT: Encourages students to support football team

SUN CITY UNIVERSITY - October 12

The rental agreement includes a clause that allows the landlord to evict the tenant if the premises are not kept in good condition. The tenant is responsible for repairing any damage or defects that may occur during the rental period.

Member of crime ring pleads guilty in San Diego

SUN CITY UNIVERSITY - October 12

The defendant was charged with a federal crime and pleaded guilty to one count of conspiracy to commit wire fraud, one count of aiding and abetting the theft of government property, and one count of tampering with records.

CRIME: Memorable moment in politics

SUN CITY UNIVERSITY - October 12

The politician spoke about the importance of unity and the need for compromise in order to address the country's problems. The politician also called for a renewed focus on issues such as education, healthcare, and the environment.

Visiting Spartan Bookstore Mondays after an SJSU home Football Game and receive 1% OFF your purchase for every point scored by the Spartans. Limit 35 points. Show your SJSU Spirit and Pride by supporting your Spartan Football team, and getting your gear at Spartan Bookstore!

Visit Spartan Bookstore Mondays after an SJSU home Football Game and receive 1% OFF your purchase for every point scored by the Spartans. Limit 35 points. Show your SJSU Spirit and Pride by supporting your Spartan Football team, and getting your gear at Spartan Bookstore!

Includes textbooks, computers, software, and hardware. Must show ticket stub as proof of attendance.

It's your campus. WE'RE YOUR BOOKSTORE.
SPECIAL DAILY
San Jose State University
SPORTS
Swing is in the air

By Mike Osegueda
Daly City Sports Writer

When the Spurs women's golf team finally got in the air, it may have been like they were going to Disneyland, not a tour-ament.

"We were like little kids," Nicole Deacon, the team's captain, said.

"We've been here for a month and a half, we've been in our hotel rooms, we've been on the golf course - it's been a little bit of a break," added teammate Elle Green.

But in three hours of traffic when you leave early? Do you enjoy sitting in the car on the highway?

When the Spur's women's golf team won the Big West title, it meant a trip to the NCAA Regionals and a chance to prove that they weren't fair-weather fans. We're all inhabitants of some evil place.

"It's something that has been motivating me since I got here," Deacon said. "I would be fantastic and unselfish to wave a white flag and say that you're the national champions."

"That's how it is in L.A. Postseason basketball is nothing — New York and Chicago's eyes, our rivalry is national," Deacon said. "It goes back to championship."

"We're all inhabitants of some evil place.

We paid for it when the Dodgers came back to beat the Cubs. The home run ball that landed 60 feet from our car was a home run, and we paid for that."

But our city's fans are different. We're cynical and apathetic.

"Well, I know I'm going to get stuck in traffic when we leave because that's the way it is in L.A.

Although we don't expect any love, our fans expect us to do something."

"As long as they don't think we are going to lose, we can actually do pretty well," Deacon said.

"It's something that has been motivating me since I got here," Deacon said. "I would be fantastic and unselfish to wave a white flag and say that you're the national champions."

"That's the past," Deacon said.

"I think that's one of the areas we need to work on," Deacon said. "It's not just the fans who think that was a great season."

"It's someone who has been nagging her since the beginning of the season.

"It's someone who has been nagging her since the beginning of the season.

It doesn't matter if Los Angeles fans are apathetic.

Then moved up here.

Formerly roommates, Deacon and Mariana Reinick, who was recruited from Oregon State, have been roommates ever since.

"When the Spartan women's golf team won the Big West title, it meant a trip to the NCAA Regionals and a chance to prove that they weren't fair-weather fans. We're all inhabitants of some evil place.

"It's something that has been motivating me since I got here," Deacon said. "I would be fantastic and unselfish to wave a white flag and say that you're the national champions."

"That's the past," Deacon said.

"I think that's one of the areas we need to work on," Deacon said. "It's not just the fans who think that was a great season."

"It's someone who has been nagging her since the beginning of the season.

"It's someone who has been nagging her since the beginning of the season.

"We paid for it when the Dodgers came back to beat the Cubs. The home run ball that landed 60 feet from our car was a home run, and we paid for that.

But our city's fans are different. We're cynical and apathetic.

"Well, I know I'm going to get stuck in traffic when we leave because that's the way it is in L.A.

Although we don't expect any love, our fans expect us to do something.

"As long as they don't think we are going to lose, we can actually do pretty well," Deacon said.

"It's something that has been motivating me since I got here," Deacon said. "I would be fantastic and unselfish to wave a white flag and say that you're the national champions."

"That's the past," Deacon said.

"I think that's one of the areas we need to work on," Deacon said. "It's not just the fans who think that was a great season."

"It's someone who has been nagging her since the beginning of the season.

"It's someone who has been nagging her since the beginning of the season.

It doesn't matter if Los Angeles fans are apathetic.

Then moved up here.

Formerly roommates, Deacon and Mariana Reinick, who was recruited from Oregon State, have been roommates ever since.

"When the Spartan women's golf team won the Big West title, it meant a trip to the NCAA Regionals and a chance to prove that they weren't fair-weather fans. We're all inhabitants of some evil place.

"It's something that has been motivating me since I got here," Deacon said. "I would be fantastic and unselfish to wave a white flag and say that you're the national champions."

"That's the past," Deacon said.

"I think that's one of the areas we need to work on," Deacon said. "It's not just the fans who think that was a great season."

"It's someone who has been nagging her since the beginning of the season.

"It's someone who has been nagging her since the beginning of the season.

It doesn't matter if Los Angeles fans are apathetic.

Then moved up here.

Formerly roommates, Deacon and Mariana Reinick, who was recruited from Oregon State, have been roommates ever since.

"When the Spartan women's golf team won the Big West title, it meant a trip to the NCAA Regionals and a chance to prove that they weren't fair-weather fans. We're all inhabitants of some evil place.

"It's something that has been motivating me since I got here," Deacon said. "I would be fantastic and unselfish to wave a white flag and say that you're the national champions."

"That's the past," Deacon said.

"I think that's one of the areas we need to work on," Deacon said. "It's not just the fans who think that was a great season."

"It's someone who has been nagging her since the beginning of the season.

"It's someone who has been nagging her since the beginning of the season.

It doesn't matter if Los Angeles fans are apathetic.

Then moved up here.

Formerly roommates, Deacon and Mariana Reinick, who was recruited from Oregon State, have been roommates ever since.

"When the Spartan women's golf team won the Big West title, it meant a trip to the NCAA Regionals and a chance to prove that they weren't fair-weather fans. We're all inhabitants of some evil place.

"It's something that has been motivating me since I got here," Deacon said. "I would be fantastic and unselfish to wave a white flag and say that you're the national champions."

"That's the past," Deacon said.

"I think that's one of the areas we need to work on," Deacon said. "It's not just the fans who think that was a great season."

"It's someone who has been nagging her since the beginning of the season.

"It's someone who has been nagging her since the beginning of the season.

It doesn't matter if Los Angeles fans are apathetic.

Then moved up here.

Formerly roommates, Deacon and Mariana Reinick, who was recruited from Oregon State, have been roommates ever since.

"When the Spartan women's golf team won the Big West title, it meant a trip to the NCAA Regionals and a chance to prove that they weren't fair-weather fans. We're all inhabitants of some evil place.

"It's something that has been motivating me since I got here," Deacon said. "I would be fantastic and unselfish to wave a white flag and say that you're the national champions."

"That's the past," Deacon said.

"I think that's one of the areas we need to work on," Deacon said. "It's not just the fans who think that was a great season."

"It's someone who has been nagging her since the beginning of the season.

"It's someone who has been nagging her since the beginning of the season.

It doesn't matter if Los Angeles fans are apathetic.

Then moved up here.

Formerly roommates, Deacon and Mariana Reinick, who was recruited from Oregon State, have been roommates ever since.

"When the Spartan women's golf team won the Big West title, it meant a trip to the NCAA Regionals and a chance to prove that they weren't fair-weather fans. We're all inhabitants of some evil place.

"It's something that has been motivating me since I got here," Deacon said. "I would be fantastic and unselfish to wave a white flag and say that you're the national champions."

"That's the past," Deacon said.

"I think that's one of the areas we need to work on," Deacon said. "It's not just the fans who think that was a great season."

"It's someone who has been nagging her since the beginning of the season.

"It's someone who has been nagging her since the beginning of the season.

It doesn't matter if Los Angeles fans are apathetic.

Then moved up here.

Formerly roommates, Deacon and Mariana Reinick, who was recruited from Oregon State, have been roommates ever since.

"When the Spartan women's golf team won the Big West title, it meant a trip to the NCAA Regionals and a chance to prove that they weren't fair-weather fans. We're all inhabitants of some evil place.

"It's something that has been motivating me since I got here," Deacon said. "I would be fantastic and unselfish to wave a white flag and say that you're the national champions."

"That's the past," Deacon said.

"I think that's one of the areas we need to work on," Deacon said. "It's not just the fans who think that was a great season."

"It's someone who has been nagging her since the beginning of the season.

"It's someone who has been nagging her since the beginning of the season.

It doesn't matter if Los Angeles fans are apathetic.

Then moved up here.

Formerly roommates, Deacon and Mariana Reinick, who was recruited from Oregon State, have been roommates ever since.

"When the Spartan women's golf team won the Big West title, it meant a trip to the NCAA Regionals and a chance to prove that they weren't fair-weather fans. We're all inhabitants of some evil place.

"It's something that has been motivating me since I got here," Deacon said. "I would be fantastic and unselfish to wave a white flag and say that you're the national champions."

"That's the past," Deacon said.

"I think that's one of the areas we need to work on," Deacon said. "It's not just the fans who think that was a great season."

"It's someone who has been nagging her since the beginning of the season.

"It's someone who has been nagging her since the beginning of the season.

It doesn't matter if Los Angeles fans are apathetic.
Anthrax is dangerous but difficult to use as a weapon.

"There is a lot of self-censorship. There's an increase amount of just plain paranoia and we're always exaggerating the effectiveness of the low-level experiments and he's not even in the public eye, but he's in the public eye, he's in the in the media. We have to have ways to have things to have a place and a type of experience with someone who are just a little bit worse than our own."

"And it was not the only time the administration or the government or the military leaders...."
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush said Tuesday it might take "a year or two" to track down Osama bin Laden, who the United States believes ran the al-Qaida terrorist network and plotted the Sept. 11 attacks.

"I don't think we're going to get him tomorrow or next week or next year," Bush said in an interview with "Good Morning America on Monday. "But we will get him. It's a matter of time.

Bush did not say when he expected to find bin Laden. But he repeated a warning that he said was made "by the administration" that "other plots" may be attempted against the United States.

On Monday, the White House had said bin Laden was a "priority target." Bush's statement Monday was the first time he had used that word to refer to bin Laden.

"We've scored some important victories," Bush said. "We are coming closer to getting the people who did this to America, but we have a long way to go.

Bush did not specify how many of bin Laden's "lieutenants" he had arrested or killed. He said "we've found a lot of information," but declined to specify how many of bin Laden's associates had been found.

"We've had some successes, but we've got a lot of work to do," Bush said. "It's a long-term effort, but we're making progress."