Caret to leave for Towson University

By Norikazu Potes-Fellow, said the chancellor wanted to see if there is room before the appointment of the new president. "I'm still in shock," he said, adding that Caret was "not only a great president but a great friend." Caret had informally announced he would be leaving his position at the end of January, officials said.

Meantime, trustees might appoint a selection committee and that was the best decision for him. "I know Caret had turned down several offers," she said. "He tried to keep President Caret provided outstanding service and Carolina, State University and the USC. I feel I must now say that the event also explored the opportunities of local entrepreneurs and investors. The top-rated companies are then picked. The rapid advances brought thousands of troops close to home. The network events or forums it hosts are attended by venture capitalists and more than 500 entrepreneurs. The event showcased technological innovations and examined the response of the industry and examined the response of local entrepreneurs and investors.

By Matthew Adamski

Staff and faculty members at San Jose State University have reacted to the sudden departure of their president. SJSU president Martin Grand, the SJSU provost and chancellor, wanted to see if there is room before the appointment of the new president. The chancellor has not said anything about the possibility of an interim appointment, Potes-Fellow said. A sad goodbye to SJSU president.

By Paulo Hernandez

Staff and faculty members at San Jose State University have reacted to the sudden departure of their president. SJSU president Caret provision for the creation of a new president. The top-rated companies are then picked. The rapid advances brought thousands of troops close to home. The network events or forums it hosts are attended by venture capitalists and more than 500 entrepreneurs. The event showcased technological innovations and examined the response of the industry and examined the response of local entrepreneurs and investors.

By Matthew Adamski

Staff and faculty members at San Jose State University have reacted to the sudden departure of their president. SJSU president Caret provision for the creation of a new president. The top-rated companies are then picked. The rapid advances brought thousands of troops close to home. The network events or forums it hosts are attended by venture capitalists and more than 500 entrepreneurs. The event showcased technological innovations and examined the response of the industry and examined the response of local entrepreneurs and investors.

By Matthew Adamski

Staff and faculty members at San Jose State University have reacted to the sudden departure of their president. SJSU president Caret provision for the creation of a new president. The top-rated companies are then picked. The rapid advances brought thousands of troops close to home. The network events or forums it hosts are attended by venture capitalists and more than 500 entrepreneurs. The event showcased technological innovations and examined the response of the industry and examined the response of local entrepreneurs and investors.

By Matthew Adamski

Staff and faculty members at San Jose State University have reacted to the sudden departure of their president. SJSU president Caret provision for the creation of a new president. The top-rated companies are then picked. The rapid advances brought thousands of troops close to home. The network events or forums it hosts are attended by venture capitalists and more than 500 entrepreneurs. The event showcased technological innovations and examined the response of the industry and examined the response of local entrepreneurs and investors.

By Matthew Adamski

Staff and faculty members at San Jose State University have reacted to the sudden departure of their president. SJSU president Caret provision for the creation of a new president. The top-rated companies are then picked. The rapid advances brought thousands of troops close to home. The network events or forums it hosts are attended by venture capitalists and more than 500 entrepreneurs. The event showcased technological innovations and examined the response of the industry and examined the response of local entrepreneurs and investors.

By Matthew Adamski

Staff and faculty members at San Jose State University have reacted to the sudden departure of their president. SJSU president Caret provision for the creation of a new president. The top-rated companies are then picked. The rapid advances brought thousands of troops close to home. The network events or forums it hosts are attended by venture capitalists and more than 500 entrepreneurs. The event showcased technological innovations and examined the response of the industry and examined the response of local entrepreneurs and investors.

By Matthew Adamski

Staff and faculty members at San Jose State University have reacted to the sudden departure of their president. SJSU president Caret provision for the creation of a new president. The top-rated companies are then picked. The rapid advances brought thousands of troops close to home. The network events or forums it hosts are attended by venture capitalists and more than 500 entrepreneurs. The event showcased technological innovations and examined the response of the industry and examined the response of local entrepreneurs and investors.

By Matthew Adamski

Staff and faculty members at San Jose State University have reacted to the sudden departure of their president. SJSU president Caret provision for the creation of a new president. The top-rated companies are then picked. The rapid advances brought thousands of troops close to home. The network events or forums it hosts are attended by venture capitalists and more than 500 entrepreneurs. The event showcased technological innovations and examined the response of the industry and examined the response of local entrepreneurs and investors.
SPARTAN GUIDE

Music building Concert Hall. For more information contact Sherry at 924-3213.

Student Union. For more information contact Bill McNeil at 924-4330.

Associated Students Campus Recreation. Read more about SJSU's sports programs and volunteer opportunities at spartanlife.sjsu.edu.

Another of his projects is now well under way in the School of Art and Design. The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.

The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.

The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.

Taking a stand against the war in Iraq is not disloyal. To think that the war is a bad idea is not a disagreement with the commander in chief. To think that the war is a bad idea is not a disagreement with the commander in chief. To think that the war is a bad idea is not a disagreement with the commander in chief.

Another of his projects is now well under way in the School of Art and Design. The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.

The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.

The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.

The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.

The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.

Taking a stand against the war in Iraq is not disloyal. To think that the war is a bad idea is not a disagreement with the commander in chief. To think that the war is a bad idea is not a disagreement with the commander in chief. To think that the war is a bad idea is not a disagreement with the commander in chief. To think that the war is a bad idea is not a disagreement with the commander in chief.

Another of his projects is now well under way in the School of Art and Design. The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.

The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.

The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.

The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.

The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.

Taking a stand against the war in Iraq is not disloyal. To think that the war is a bad idea is not a disagreement with the commander in chief. To think that the war is a bad idea is not a disagreement with the commander in chief. To think that the war is a bad idea is not a disagreement with the commander in chief. To think that the war is a bad idea is not a disagreement with the commander in chief.

Another of his projects is now well under way in the School of Art and Design. The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.

The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.

The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.

The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.

The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.

Taking a stand against the war in Iraq is not disloyal. To think that the war is a bad idea is not a disagreement with the commander in chief. To think that the war is a bad idea is not a disagreement with the commander in chief. To think that the war is a bad idea is not a disagreement with the commander in chief. To think that the war is a bad idea is not a disagreement with the commander in chief.

Another of his projects is now well under way in the School of Art and Design. The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.

The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.

The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.

The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.

The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.

Taking a stand against the war in Iraq is not disloyal. To think that the war is a bad idea is not a disagreement with the commander in chief. To think that the war is a bad idea is not a disagreement with the commander in chief. To think that the war is a bad idea is not a disagreement with the commander in chief. To think that the war is a bad idea is not a disagreement with the commander in chief.

Another of his projects is now well under way in the School of Art and Design. The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.

The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.

The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.

The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.

The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.

Taking a stand against the war in Iraq is not disloyal. To think that the war is a bad idea is not a disagreement with the commander in chief. To think that the war is a bad idea is not a disagreement with the commander in chief. To think that the war is a bad idea is not a disagreement with the commander in chief. To think that the war is a bad idea is not a disagreement with the commander in chief.

Another of his projects is now well under way in the School of Art and Design. The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.

The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.

The first war I remember getting news about was the Korean War, 1950, less than 10 percent of American students had one television set. Today, it is hard to imagine a young child's mind.
ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT PAGE 3

Intimate performances by women impress audience

By Rebecca Villegas

Daily Staff Writer

Having the faith that Carla Holden would be a hit, friends banded together to produce a hit play. The play, “Humpty Dumpty,” is a first for her, as a producer-director and the former actress from Los Angeles.

What happens when a character, played by a woman, becomes the central focus of the play? How do audiences respond to this?”

At SRJC’s Playhouse, “Humpty Dumpty” by Eric Bogosian has received rave reviews, and the response has been overwhelming.

Holden portrayed the role of Humpty Dumpty, a character who is struggling to survive in the post-9/11 world. She also directed the play, which ran from April 17 to 20.

The audience was captivated by Holden’s performance and her direction. Holden, who is a rising star in the theater world, has received critical acclaim for her work in previous productions.

“Humpty Dumpty” is a play that focuses on the human condition and the struggles of people who are left without power or resources. The play is set in a world where power is at a premium, and people are forced to rely on their own resources to survive.

Holden, who is also a director, has been able to create a world that feels real and convincing. She has brought her own vision to the play, and it is clear that she is a force to be reckoned with in the theater world.

The play was produced by SRJC’s Playhouse, which is known for producing high-quality productions. Holden, who is a rising star in the theater world, has received critical acclaim for her work in previous productions.

The play is a powerful reminder of the importance of human connection and the need for compassion in a world that can sometimes feel cold and isolating.

In conclusion, “Humpty Dumpty” is a play that will leave audiences thinking long after the final curtain has come down. Holden’s performance is a standout, and her direction is masterful. The play is a must-see for anyone who is interested in the human condition and the struggles of people who are left without power or resources.

By Kimberly Lapham

Daily Staff Writer

When the lights came on, the audience was transported to a world where power is at a premium, and people are forced to rely on their own resources to survive. Holden, who is a rising star in the theater world, has received critical acclaim for her work in previous productions.

The play is set in a world where power is at a premium, and people are forced to rely on their own resources to survive. Holden, who is also a director, has been able to create a world that feels real and convincing. She has brought her own vision to the play, and it is clear that she is a force to be reckoned with in the theater world.

The play was produced by SRJC’s Playhouse, which is known for producing high-quality productions. Holden, who is a rising star in the theater world, has received critical acclaim for her work in previous productions.

The play is a powerful reminder of the importance of human connection and the need for compassion in a world that can sometimes feel cold and isolating.

In conclusion, “Humpty Dumpty” is a play that will leave audiences thinking long after the final curtain has come down. Holden’s performance is a standout, and her direction is masterful. The play is a must-see for anyone who is interested in the human condition and the struggles of people who are left without power or resources.

A sunny side up for ‘Humpty Dumpty’ at SJ Repertory Theatre

Elizabeth Horly Rice and Saxon Palmer (front) & Louis Lotorto and Amy Bingert (back) in the West Coast Premiere of Eric Bogosian’s Humpty Dumpty at SJ Repertory Theatre.

The play is a powerful reminder of the importance of human connection and the need for compassion in a world that can sometimes feel cold and isolating.

In conclusion, “Humpty Dumpty” is a play that will leave audiences thinking long after the final curtain has come down. Holden’s performance is a standout, and her direction is masterful. The play is a must-see for anyone who is interested in the human condition and the struggles of people who are left without power or resources.
Security | Solutions to hackers, security problems on agenda for speakers

China gives WHO permission to visit province hard-hit by SARS

BEIJING (AP) — Under escalating international pressure, China said Wednesday it will allow World Health Organization officials to visit the province hardest hit by the SARS virus. The move comes amid growing pressure from the health community to visit areas where the virus may be spreading. It also comes as China faces increasing criticism over its handling of the outbreak.

China has been under intense international pressure to allow the WHO to visit areas where the SARS virus is believed to have originated. The WHO has said it is crucial to understand how the virus is spreading and to prevent its spread to other countries. China has so far only allowed visits to areas with confirmed cases of SARS.

China confirmed two more cases of SARS on Wednesday, bringing the total number of cases in China to 3,452. The country has reported 346 deaths and 2,517 recoveries.

China's health minister, Ma Xiaowei, said the World Health Organization had suggested that the WHO's investigations be conducted in two stages. The first stage would focus on a suspected SARS case in Guangdong province, and the second stage would cover other suspected cases across the country.

WHO Director General Margaret Chan said the visits would be important in understanding the transmission of the virus. She noted that this was the first time China had allowed a visit to an area where the virus is suspected to have spread.

China has been under pressure to conduct a full investigation into the origins of SARS, which has sickened thousands of people in China and other countries. The virus was first reported in Guangdong province in February 2003.
that Iraqis would not need such a time."

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghdad and barred from reporting. The Bingham family has roots in the Middle East and its reporters from Baghdad and bars journalists from reporting.

"I think it is an appropriate arrangement for our colonial status," said Philip Bingham, managing editor, Charlotte Hall. An American peace activist, Philip Bingham was expelled with the journalists from Baghd Destiny...
SOFTWARE

Continued from page 1

The World Famous

"Almost Famous"

Groovy with

"Almost Famous"

POTES-FELLOW

"Almost Famous"

Pinnacle Fitness

Everything YOU want in a Fitness Club

The Pavilion - San Jose
150 South First St. #119
408.924.0500

SPECIAL RATES for Students and Faculty!

Maryland board OKs settlement in profiling case

ANNAPOLIS, Md. — A state board approved a settlement of a civil rights lawsuit Wednesday that will significantly change the way state troopers search vehicles during traffic stops.

Under the settlement, troopers will be required to keep their search inventory forms that detail the rights of the vehicle occupants until the search is completed. In the past, search forms had simply been rendered invalid when troopers were interrupted, putting troopers at risk for civil rights lawsuits.

The agreement was reached a decade after a black lawyer refused to submit to a traffic stop and pressed troopers to file search forms that detail the rights of the vehicle's occupants.

California State Employees

- O-RFa

FUND Budget," Lee said.

"We have done it at a very reasonable cost, in many instances at half the price of campuses our size," said SJSU associate professor of history at SJSU and president of the California Faculty Association, Patricia Hill, said SJSU never conducted a cost-benefit analysis of the project and the decision to implement this system came from the Chancellor's office. Hill said SJSU was planning to acquire new administrative components.

"We have done it at a very reasonable cost, in many instances at half the price of campuses our size," said SJSU associate professor of history at SJSU and president of the California Faculty Association, Patricia Hill, said SJSU never conducted a cost-benefit analysis of the project and the decision to implement this system came from the Chancellor's office. Hill said SJSU was planning to acquire new administrative components.

"We have done it at a very reasonable cost, in many instances at half the price of campuses our size," said SJSU associate professor of history at SJSU and president of the California Faculty Association, Patricia Hill, said SJSU never conducted a cost-benefit analysis of the project and the decision to implement this system came from the Chancellor's office. Hill said SJSU was planning to acquire new administrative components.

"We have done it at a very reasonable cost, in many instances at half the price of campuses our size," said SJSU associate professor of history at SJSU and president of the California Faculty Association, Patricia Hill, said SJSU never conducted a cost-benefit analysis of the project and the decision to implement this system came from the Chancellor's office. Hill said SJSU was planning to acquire new administrative components.

"We have done it at a very reasonable cost, in many instances at half the price of campuses our size," said SJSU associate professor of history at SJSU and president of the California Faculty Association, Patricia Hill, said SJSU never conducted a cost-benefit analysis of the project and the decision to implement this system came from the Chancellor's office. Hill said SJSU was planning to acquire new administrative components.

"We have done it at a very reasonable cost, in many instances at half the price of campuses our size," said SJSU associate professor of history at SJSU and president of the California Faculty Association, Patricia Hill, said SJSU never conducted a cost-benefit analysis of the project and the decision to implement this system came from the Chancellor's office. Hill said SJSU was planning to acquire new administrative components.

"We have done it at a very reasonable cost, in many instances at half the price of campuses our size," said SJSU associate professor of history at SJSU and president of the California Faculty Association, Patricia Hill, said SJSU never conducted a cost-benefit analysis of the project and the decision to implement this system came from the Chancellor's office. Hill said SJSU was planning to acquire new administrative components.

"We have done it at a very reasonable cost, in many instances at half the price of campuses our size," said SJSU associate professor of history at SJSU and president of the California Faculty Association, Patricia Hill, said SJSU never conducted a cost-benefit analysis of the project and the decision to implement this system came from the Chancellor's office. Hill said SJSU was planning to acquire new administrative components.

"We have done it at a very reasonable cost, in many instances at half the price of campuses our size," said SJSU associate professor of history at SJSU and president of the California Faculty Association, Patricia Hill, said SJSU never conducted a cost-benefit analysis of the project and the decision to implement this system came from the Chancellor's office. Hill said SJSU was planning to acquire new administrative components.

"We have done it at a very reasonable cost, in many instances at half the price of campuses our size," said SJSU associate professor of history at SJSU and president of the California Faculty Association, Patricia Hill, said SJSU never conducted a cost-benefit analysis of the project and the decision to implement this system came from the Chancellor's office. Hill said SJSU was planning to acquire new administrative components.

"We have done it at a very reasonable cost, in many instances at half the price of campuses our size," said SJSU associate professor of history at SJSU and president of the California Faculty Association, Patricia Hill, said SJSU never conducted a cost-benefit analysis of the project and the decision to implement this system came from the Chancellor's office. Hill said SJSU was planning to acquire new administrative components.

"We have done it at a very reasonable cost, in many instances at half the price of campuses our size," said SJSU associate professor of history at SJSU and president of the California Faculty Association, Patricia Hill, said SJSU never conducted a cost-benefit analysis of the project and the decision to implement this system came from the Chancellor's office. Hill said SJSU was planning to acquire new administrative components.

"We have done it at a very reasonable cost, in many instances at half the price of campuses our size," said SJSU associate professor of history at SJSU and president of the California Faculty Association, Patricia Hill, said SJSU never conducted a cost-benefit analysis of the project and the decision to implement this system came from the Chancellor's office. Hill said SJSU was planning to acquire new administrative components.

"We have done it at a very reasonable cost, in many instances at half the price of campuses our size," said SJSU associate professor of history at SJSU and president of the California Faculty Association, Patricia Hill, said SJSU never conducted a cost-benefit analysis of the project and the decision to implement this system came from the Chancellor's office. Hill said SJSU was planning to acquire new administrative components.

"We have done it at a very reasonable cost, in many instances at half the price of campuses our size," said SJSU associate professor of history at SJSU and president of the California Faculty Association, Patricia Hill, said SJSU never conducted a cost-benefit analysis of the project and the decision to implement this system came from the Chancellor's office. Hill said SJSU was planning to acquire new administrative components.

"We have done it at a very reasonable cost, in many instances at half the price of campuses our size," said SJSU associate professor of history at SJSU and president of the California Faculty Association, Patricia Hill, said SJSU never conducted a cost-benefit analysis of the project and the decision to implement this system came from the Chancellor's office. Hill said SJSU was planning to acquire new administrative components.

"We have done it at a very reasonable cost, in many instances at half the price of campuses our size," said SJSU associate professor of history at SJSU and president of the California Faculty Association, Patricia Hill, said SJSU never conducted a cost-benefit analysis of the project and the decision to implement this system came from the Chancellor's office. Hill said SJSU was planning to acquire new administrative components.

"We have done it at a very reasonable cost, in many instances at half the price of campuses our size," said SJSU associate professor of history at SJSU and president of the California Faculty Association, Patricia Hill, said SJSU never conducted a cost-benefit analysis of the project and the decision to implement this system came from the Chancellor's office. Hill said SJSU was planning to acquire new administrative components.

"We have done it at a very reasonable cost, in many instances at half the price of campuses our size," said SJSU associate professor of history at SJSU and president of the California Faculty Association, Patricia Hill, said SJSU never conducted a cost-benefit analysis of the project and the decision to implement this system came from the Chancellor's office. Hill said SJSU was planning to acquire new administrative components.

"We have done it at a very reasonable cost, in many instances at half the price of campuses our size," said SJSU associate professor of history at SJSU and president of the California Faculty Association, Patricia Hill, said SJSU never conducted a cost-benefit analysis of the project and the decision to implement this system came from the Chancellor's office. Hill said SJSU was planning to acquire new administrative components.

"We have done it at a very reasonable cost, in many instances at half the price of campuses our size," said SJSU associate professor of history at SJSU and president of the California Faculty Association, Patricia Hill, said SJSU never conducted a cost-benefit analysis of the project and the decision to implement this system came from the Chancellor's office. Hill said SJSU was planning to acquire new administrative components.

"We have done it at a very reasonable cost, in many instances at half the price of campuses our size," said SJSU associate professor of history at SJSU and president of the California Faculty Association, Patricia Hill, said SJSU never conducted a cost-benefit analysis of the project and the decision to implement this system came from the Chancellor's office. Hill said SJSU was planning to acquire new administrative components.

"We have done it at a very reasonable cost, in many instances at half the price of campuses our size," said SJSU associate professor of history at SJSU and president of the California Faculty Association, Patricia Hill, said SJSU never conducted a cost-benefit analysis of the project and the decision to implement this system came from the Chancellor's office. Hill said SJSU was planning to acquire new administrative components.

"We have done it at a very reasonable cost, in many instances at half the price of campuses our size," said SJSU associate professor of history at SJSU and president of the California Faculty Association, Patricia Hill, said SJSU never conducted a cost-benefit analysis of the project and the decision to implement this system came from the Chancellor's office. Hill said SJSU was planning to acquire new administrative components.

"We have done it at a very reasonable cost, in many instances at half the price of campuses our size," said SJSU associate professor of history at SJSU and president of the California Faculty Association, Patricia Hill, said SJSU never conducted a cost-benefit analysis of the project and the decision to implement this system came from the Chancellor's office. Hill said SJSU was planning to acquire new administrative components.

"We have done it at a very reasonable cost, in many instances at half the price of campuses our size," said SJSU associate professor of history at SJSU and president of the California Faculty Association, Patricia Hill, said SJSU never conducted a cost-benefit analysis of the project and the decision to implement this system came from the Chancellor's office. Hill said SJSU was planning to acquire new administrative components.

"We have done it at a very reasonable cost, in many instances at half the price of campuses our size," said SJSU associate professor of history at SJSU and president of the California Faculty Association, Patricia Hill, said SJSU never conducted a cost-benefit analysis of the project and the decision to implement this system came from the Chancellor's office. Hill said SJSU was planning to acquire new administrative components.

"We have done it at a very reasonable cost, in many instances at half the price of campuses our size," said SJSU associate professor of history at SJSU and president of the California Faculty Association, Patricia Hill, said SJSU never conducted a cost-benefit analysis of the project and the decision to implement this system came from the Chancellor's office. Hill said SJSU was planning to acquire new administrative components.

"We have done it at a very reasonable cost, in many instances at half the price of campuses our size," said SJSU associate professor of history at SJSU and president of the California Faculty Association, Patricia Hill, said SJSU never conducted a cost-benefit analysis of the project and the decision to implement this system came from the Chancellor's office. Hill said SJSU was planning to acquire new administrative components.
SJSU baseball team looks to stop conference dive

By Tammy Krikorian
Daily Staff Writer

Any chance the Spartans had in their chances in the conference tournament were dashed last week after losing six of its last eight games, that trend continued this week as the team made a comeback against rival Fresno State.

SPARTAN BASEBALL

ON DECK

NOTATION

The series will begin Friday at 7 p.m. and continue Saturday and Sunday at 1 p.m. at the Municipal Stadium.

"They are a good team, we have to win," said right-handed pitcher Mickey Mann. "This is definitely a turnaround after last week."

Spartan fans. University basketball fans and a few diehards who made the drive to Fresno, may have been disappointed in the loss.

But the Spartans gained two more games against Fresno State. Conference opponents Los Angeles Tech and University of Texas-Rio Grande Valley are two of the worst teams in the Western Athletic Conference.

The Spartans lost both Grizzlies and Condors.

Off to its doom start since joining WAC in 1999-2000, 15-15 overall and 3-9 in the WAC, Los Angeles Tech lost 8-0 to UCR Wednesday and 12-3 to University of Rio Grande Valley Thursday evening.

Though Spartan head coach Sam Krauss has had to overcome personnel problems the last couple of seasons, he has been able to count on three quality pitchers to carry the team through.

Even with the win, the Spartans remain in the gutter of the Western Athletic Conference.

San Diego (AP) - Matt Vasquez drove in three runs with a two-run single in the ninth inning, and the San Diego Padres beat the San Francisco Giants 5-3 Wednesday night for a three-game sweep.

Randy Winn hit a three-run homer and Jerry Hairston scored four times as the Padres won 10-1 against the Padres over the start of the 2003 sea-son, and have 22 points. San Diego (11-1) is in first place in the National League West. Barry Bonds won't be at the plate for the Giants for the start of the series. The Giants went 4-0 in Barry Bonds' absence.

The Padres won 10-1 against the Padres over the start of the 2003 sea-son, and have 22 points. San Diego (11-1) is in first place in the National League West. Barry Bonds won't be at the plate for the Giants for the start of the series. The Giants went 4-0 in Barry Bonds' absence.

defendant. The defendant was charged, but was acquitted by the jury. He was then found guilty by a three-judge panel. The defendant was found guilty by a three-judge panel.

Earn $85 - $500 per week

• Scholarships awarded annually

www.cbcc.net or E-mail: paulknoch@cbcc.net.

Ron Halog, Easter Seals Bay Area.

sion for groups of participants

EMPLOYMENT

SERVERS NEEDED

Call 203-683-0258, and like working with children. In sports, arts, and group games class in San Jose. Mon.-Fri. Available Monday -Friday

FEMALE ROOMMATE, Non -

Large 2b/1 Son 9th. Quiet $1100 408-559-1356 days.

SPORTS PAGE 7

Giants 5 Padres 3; sweep series

SAN DIEGO (AP) - Marion Gorman threw a three-hit shutout for the first time in her career and the San Diego Padres beat the San Francisco Giants 5-3 Wednesday night for a three-game sweep.

Randy Winn hit a three-run homer and Jerry Hairston scored four times as the Padres won 10-1 against the Padres over the start of the 2003 season, and have 22 points. San Diego (11-1) is in first place in the National League West. Barry Bonds won't be at the plate for the Giants for the start of the series. The Giants went 4-0 in Barry Bonds' absence.

The Padres won 10-1 against the Padres over the start of the 2003 season, and have 22 points. San Diego (11-1) is in first place in the National League West. Barry Bonds won't be at the plate for the Giants for the start of the series. The Giants went 4-0 in Barry Bonds' absence.

Todaj wants new contract to stay with A's

OAKLAND (AP) - Miguel Tejada said Wednesday he wants a new contract from the Oakland Athletics that would pay him $15 million a year. Save 30% - 60% For into both + 1/4 utit No pets, Call 408-559-1356 days.

"I can't say right now how much I want it. I want it," Tejada said. "But I don't want to make an offer. I just want to do a good job, I don't want to make an offer."

"Right now I don't think about money, I just want to make an offer," Tejada said.

"I can't say right now how much I want it. I want it," Tejada said. "But I don't want to make an offer. I just want to do a good job, I don't want to make an offer."

"I will make an offer," Tejada said.

Most important to him is a stable living situation, especially if he doesn't have to change schools constantly. His three-year-old daughter, Nadym, lives with his ex-wife in Maryland.

"I feel they want to have a future for my kids," Tejada said. "I feel they want to have a future for my kids."
CARET

During his eight-year stay, SFSU president pushes for campus growth

By Carrie Mattingly and Veronica Mendosa Daily Staff Writers

The news of President Robert Caret's decision to take the helm at Towson University next September has sparked a number of questions and concerns.

The 55-year-old Pennsylvania native will leave his post as provost at Towson University at the end of the academic year and take over as president of Towson University in Maryland on July 1.

Caret, who was named SJSU's 12th president in 2001, has been at the helm of the San Jose State University for eight years. He was named provost at Towson University in 1999.

SJSU received a huge boost in the amount of money approved to combat AIDS during the annual Safety Walks on Feb. 4. Caret has announced that he will be leaving SJSU and will take the position of president at Towson University in Maryland on July 1.

Outgoing President's Award in "AIDS-related" work

Caret's accomplishments during his tenure as provost have been recognized with the prestigious "Outgoing President's Award" in AIDS-related work.

Caret has been a strong advocate for AIDS research and treatment, and his leadership has been instrumental in bringing new funding to SJSU.

"Caret's decision to leave SJSU will be a great loss to our campus," said Maria Luisa Alaniz, director for the social science department. "Caret was a visionary and a leader in the field of education and research, and his legacy will be remembered for years to come."