In March, 1966, Pope Paul VI replied by reading excerpts by an attempt to improve the lot of draftees who should be thrown out. The church must affirm clearly that the Vietnamese war is an unjust war that also works against the drive for Negro equality.

The advice was also heard in San Jose, where the promises were termed a "shame." The cardinal said: "The church must affirm clearly that the Vietnamese war is an unjust war that also works against the drive for Negro equality.

When Use Is Abuse

Despite Ronald Reagan's description of our current social atmosphere as the most open and tolerant in the nation's history, there is great controversy about the freedom of the press that is sometimes hard to understand. That freedom is not the right of the publishers or the editors to say anything they want to say, but the right of the public to have access to the truth.

With the advent of the war in Vietnam, the media have been called upon to perform a new role. The freedom of the press is not one that is inalienable, but one that is subject to the laws of the land. The press is not a political arm of the government, but a tool for the people to find out the truth about their country.

In the current climate, the press must be careful not to abuse its freedom. The press must not be afraid to print stories that are critical of the government, but it must also be careful not to print stories that are false or misleading.

The press must be careful not to turn a blind eye to the problems of the war in Vietnam. The press must report the truth, even if it is not popular.

Library To Uproot Home Ec Dept. Seeks New Location

By TOM CLARKE
Spartan Daily Staff Writer

A request to move part of the home economics department from its present location in the library building is presently before the Board of Trustees. The request is to move the department to the lower level of the newly constructed Science Building.

The library is presently located on the upper floor of the building, and the home economics department is on the lower floor. The proposed move would allow the library to have more space for its collections and provide better access for students.

Supreme Court Re-Examines Parochial School Aid Cases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed yesterday to decide if taxpayers can bring lawsuits challenging federal education programs that aid parochial schools.

The case involves a 1923 decision by the Supreme Court and 26 states. The states are seeking to challenge the federal education programs, particularly those that support parochial schools.

Servicemen Want Viet Targets Open

WASHINGTON (AP) — Servicemen and women in the United States want to see more information about the Viet Cong's targets.

They believe that knowing where the Viet Cong is operating is crucial to the success of American military operations.

Supreme Court mail 2-1 vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court voted 2-1 yesterday to uphold the settlement of a civil rights case involving African-Americans.

The case involved an agreement reached at the time of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, which set aside the time when African-Americans were denied the right to vote.

NCAA Contenders

Boothers Want Title
By ROB RISKE

It's a long road to an NCAA championship in soccer, but this just may be the year the Spartans reach that goal.

Last year the Spartans were the No. 1 team in the WCISC, finished second to undefeated ASC USA in the final National Soccer Coaches Association poll and won the NCAA Division III national championship.

The Dones finished 1986 with a 6-4 record in WCISC play. USA had a 6-1 mark with only a 2-3 overtime defeat by the Dons.

When the men met in the opening round of the NCAA tournament, USA's only loss a 2-1 double overtime defeat by the Ikms.

Red Man is a fine backup goalie who ran his WJC record to 5-1-1.

Although next year's team will still be without the services of Storck, Davis, Lentz and Manzoke, Manzoke thinks they will have a good number of time players in addition to two new post juniors coming in.

STOLEN GOALS

Mark Slonaker, who scored a goal against UCLA during Stanford's 3-0 win over the Bears last Thursday and also in last year's NCAA title game, was a major goal of the American University defense in last Saturday's opening round.

The "Fly-In" Makes the Scene With Airborne SJS Students

In the age of "Fly-in" and "air-in" it seems only natural that the name should change a "Fly-In." This outing was held by the Flying Twenty, whose members owned 828, plans to make the event an annual one at such places as Napa, the Oak Tree Farm, Monterey, Morgan Hill and, of course, the Nimitz. The Flying Twenty is a student organization, which meets at midnight and has eight other clubs.

The Flying Twenty was organized in 1939 by twenty students, and has been accepted as a fixture at air meets since then. The group is "as much a part of any convention as the panel chairs and balloon target for non-aviators," according to two Cessna trainers and a Cessna commercial air school in the area.

The organization is "The Twenty. Inc.," and "The Twenty." No Waiting, through Friday. Open at 4 P.M. Daily. The Air Force is accepting applications from collegiate members which annually enter the Pacific Coast Inter-Collegiate Air Meet. The competition is for individual aviators who will be selected on the basis of ability and training. The flying team will consist of two members.

The Flying Twenty is one of the few student flying organizations in the world which annually enters a team in the Inter-Collegiate Air Meet. The competition is for individual aviators who will be selected on the basis of ability and training. The flying team will consist of at least 12 students which annually enter the Pacific Coast Inter-Collegiate Air Meet.

In 1965 the Flying Twenty competed in the latest campus activity. Last year the Federal Aviation Administration, the "parent" of the flying club, sponsored "The Twenty. Inc.", which is "as much a part of any convention as the panel chairs and balloon target for non-aviators," according to two Cessna trainers and a Cessna commercial air school in the area.

Fellowship’s Seventh St. Table Offers Books at Cost, Discussion

Star Gazers! Would you like to get a closer look at the heavens? The Department of Natural Sciences is now offering tours of the telescope which began last night at 7:45. The tours will be given every Tuesday evening and on Saturday afternoons.

Using the department’s 10-inch power telescope, it is possible to view such celestial objects as the Pleiades, Andromeda, and the Moon and many other objects the naked eye never sees. For groups of eight or more, reservations are necessary.

For the tours, limited to eight people, reservations are taken at the Science building at the Physics entrance. 2000
